Where the products or materials are not sold, the officer may deliver them to a Federal or State hospital or institution (if they are fit for human consumption) or cause their destruction in the manner provided in §§ 270.155 and 270.160. Where the packages are in such condition as to require repacking before new stamps can be affixed, such repacking may be authorized by the assistant regional commissioner. The assistant regional commissioner shall refuse to approve any strengthening bond where any notation is made thereon which is intended or which may be construed as a release of any former bond, or as limiting the amount of either bond to less than its full amount. The surety shall remain bound in respect of any liability for unpaid taxes, penalties, and interest, not in excess of the amount of the bond, incurred by the manufacturer while the bond is in force.

(68A Stat. 711; 26 U. S. C. 5711)

Claim for redemption of such stamps shall be filed on Form 843, in duplicate, with the assistant regional commissioner, within three years after the stamps were purchased from the Government. Where the stamps are to be destroyed under internal revenue supervision, a schedule on Form 178 shall be prepared by the manufacturer with respect to the stamps covered by the claim. When the schedule has been prepared, the manufacturer shall notify the assistant regional commissioner in order that he may detail a revenue officer to verify the schedule and supervise the destruction of the stamps. A copy of the verified schedule, returned to the manufacturer, shall be attached to his claim when filed. If required, the manufacturer shall satsifactorily trace the history of the stamps from their issuance to the filing of his claim.

(2) Stamps affixed to packages of cigars or cigarettes damaged or withdrawn from the market. Where the packages of cigars or cigarettes to which stamps were affixed have been merely damaged by fire, casualty, or act of God, so that the identity of the products and the manufacturer thereof, and the rate of tax paid, can be established, or where the cigars or cigarettes are merely withdrawn from the market by the manufacturer, which would permit a similar identification and a determination of the tax paid, such cigars or cigarettes shall be assembled by the manufacturer in a suitable place in his factory or where such products are held or withdrawn from the market. The manufacturer shall group the cigars or cigarettes according to the kind of product, the rate of tax paid, and the sizes of packages, and shall prepare a schedule on Form 177, listing the cigars or cigarettes in each such group. Such cigars or cigarettes which are not taken back into the factory of the manufacturer shall be destroyed under internal revenue supervision, in which event the manufacturer shall so notify the assistant regional commissioner, for the region in which such products are assembled, and request the detail of a revenue officer to inspect the products, verify the schedule thereof, and supervise destruction of the stamps and products, and disposition of the packages as desired by the manufacturer. Only the importer who paid the tax may file claim for refund thereof under this section. The claim for refund, Form 843, shall be filed in duplicate within three years from the date of payment of the tax, with the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which the tax was paid, and the claim shall be supported by evidence necessary to establish to the satisfaction of the assistant regional commissioner that the claim is valid.

§ 270.198 Claim for redemption, or refund of the value, of stamps. Stamps to denote the tax on cigars and cigarettes may be redeemed, or the value thereof may be refunded, subject to the following provisions:

(a) Redemption of stamps. Stamps which have been spoiled, destroyed, or rendered useless or unfit for the purpose intended, or for which the importer of such products may have no use, or which through mistake may have been improperly or unnecessarily used, or where the taxes represented thereby have been excessive in amount, paid in error, or in any manner wrongfully collected, may be redeemed by such importer. Claim for redemption of such stamps shall be filed on Form 843, in duplicate, with the assistant regional commissioner, within three years after the stamps were purchased from the Government. Stamps may be destroyed under internal revenue supervision, or they may be presented with the claim, or satisfactory evidence submitted showing the reason why they cannot be so destroyed or presented. Where the stamps are to be destroyed under internal revenue supervision, a schedule on Form 178 shall be prepared by the importer with respect to the stamps covered by the claim. When the schedule has been prepared, the importer shall notify the assistant regional commissioner in order that he may detail a revenue officer to verify the schedule and supervise the destruction of the stamps. A copy of the verified schedule, returned to the importer, shall be attached to his claim when filed. If required, the importer shall satisfactorily trace the history of the stamps from their issuance to the filing of his claim.

(b) Refund of the value of stamps. The value of stamps affixed to packages of cigars or cigarettes may be refunded to the importer thereof, where such products are withdrawn from the market by such importer, or the products are lost (otherwise than by theft) or destroyed by fire, casualty, or act of God, while in the possession or ownership of the importer. Claim for refund of the value of such stamps shall be filed on Form 843, in duplicate, within three years from the date of payment of the tax.

(1) Stamps affixed to packages of cigars or cigarettes completely lost or destroyed. Where the packages of cigars or cigarettes to which stamps were affixed have been completely lost or destroyed beyond recognition by fire, casualty, or act of God, the claim for refund shall be filed with the assistant regional commissioner, for the region in which the stamps were affixed, and the claim shall be supported by such evidence necessary to establish to the satisfaction of the assistant regional commissioner that the claim is valid.

(2) Stamps affixed to packages of cigars or cigarettes damaged or withdrawn from the market. Where the packages of cigars or cigarettes to which stamps were affixed have been merely damaged by fire, casualty, or act of God, so that the identity of the products and the importer thereof, and the rate of tax paid, can be established, or where the cigars or cigarettes are merely withdrawn from the market by the importer, which would permit a similar identification and determination of the tax paid, such cigars or cigarettes shall be assembled by the importer in a suitable place in the city where such products are held or withdrawn from the market. The importer shall group the cigars or cigarettes according to the kind of product, the rate of tax paid, and the sizes of packages, and shall prepare a schedule on Form 177, listing the cigars or cigarettes in each such group. Such cigars or cigarettes, if not taken into a domestic factory, or repacked and restamped by the importer, or exported with drawback of tax, shall be destroyed under internal revenue supervision. The importer shall notify the assistant regional commissioner, for the region in which such products are assembled, and request the detail of a revenue officer to inspect the products, verify the schedule thereof, and supervise destruction of the stamps and the proper disposition of the products and packages as desired by the importer. Upon completion of his detail, the revenue officer shall properly execute his certificate on both copies of the schedule of such cigars or cigarettes. The revenue officer shall return one copy of the completed schedule to the importer, which shall be attached to, and made a part of, the importer's claim, which claim shall be filed with the appropriate assistant regional commissioner.

The Commission advised that oral argument would be heard before the Commission en banc on June 27 and 28, 1955, in Room 6121, New Post Office Building, Washington, D. C. All parties eligible to participate in the oral argument were requested to notify the Commission in writing by June 15, 1955, of their intention to participate.

The order of argument is set forth below. Parties will be afforded a maximum of 20 minutes for argument. However, in light of the many participants, the Commission hopes that parties with similar views will make suitable arrangements for sharing the allotted time and will avoid duplication of arguments. 3. Any party eligible to participate in the oral argument who is not listed below setting forth the order of argument, should notify the Chief, Rules and Standards Division of the Commission's Broadcast Bureau by June 24, 1955.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 401 and 1001, that a hearing in the above-indicated proceeding will be held on June 30, 1955, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. t., in Room E-210, Temporary Building T-5, Seventeenth Street and Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. 2. Has Southwest during the period January 1, 1953, to June 6, 1955, continuously operated as such (except as to interruptions of service over which Southwest had no control) and has the service provided by Southwest during the period since its last certification been inadequate and inefficient?

3. Between what terminal and intermediate points has Southwest continuously operated between May 19, 1955, and June 6, 1955?

4. Which of the intermediate points to which Southwest has continuously operated between May 19, 1955, and June 6, 1955, should be named as temporary intermediate points in any certificate to be issued to Southwest as a result of this proceeding?

For further details of the issues involved in this proceeding, interested persons are referred to the application, pertinent orders of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the Prehearing Conference Report which are on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

ST. LOUIS-SAN FRANCISCO RAILWAY CO.

REROUTING OR DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Charles W. Taylor, Agent, the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company, due to high water between Quanah, Texas, and Snyder, Oklahoma, is unable to transport traffic routed over its line between these points:

It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting traffic: The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company is hereby authorized to reroute or divert traffic moving over its line between Quanah, Texas, and Snyder, Oklahoma, due to high water, over any available route to expedite the movement.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained: The railroad desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers: Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to such traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date: This order shall become effective at 8:00 a. m., June 19, 1955.

(g) Expiration date: This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., June 30, 1955, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

VANDERSEE CORP.

ORDER TEMPORARILY DENYING EXEMPTION, STATEMENT OF REASONS THEREFOR, AND NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

JUNE 21, 1955.

I. Vandersee Corporation, 1416 Chestnut Avenue, Hillside, New Jersey, having filed with the Commission on March 10, 1955, a Notification on Form 1-A and an offering circular, and subsequently filed amendments thereto on March 28, April 9, and May 20, 1955, relating to a proposed public offering of 200,000 shares of its $1 par Class A stock at $1.25 per share, for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (b) thereof and Regulation A promulgated thereunder; and

II. The Commission having reasonable cause to believe:

A. That the terms and conditions of Regulation A have not been complied with in respect of such Notification, in that:

1. The sale of approximately 116,755 unregistered shares of the issuer's stock, which were sold within one year prior to the date of filing said Notification, has not been disclosed in either Item 3 thereof or in the offering circular; and

2. The aggregate offering price of the securities proposed to be offered thereunder and the securities of the issuer sold in violation of section 5 (a) of the act within one year prior to the commencement of the proposed offering exceeds the $300,000 limitation prescribed by Rule 217 of Regulation A.

B. The offering circular omits to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading, in that the contingent liability resulting from the sale of approximately 183,665 shares of the issuer's stock in violation of section 5 of the act has not been disclosed.

C. A device, scheme or artifice to defraud is being employed in connection with the sale of the securities and the offering would be made in such manner as to operate as a fraud or deceit upon the purchaser in that newspaper and radio advertisements concerning an offering of the issuer's securities to residents of New Jersey and containing false and misleading statements with respect to the issuer's present stage of production and the acceptance of its products by industry, are being employed concurrently with the proposed Regulation A offering.

III. It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 223 (a) of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the exemption under Regulation A be, and it hereby is, temporarily denied.

Notice is hereby given that any person having any interest in the matter may file with the Secretary of the Commission a written request for hearing; that, within 20 days after receipt of such request, the Commission will, or at any time upon its own motion may, set the matter down for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission for the purpose of determining whether this order of suspension should be vacated or made permanent, without prejudice, however, to the consideration and presentation of additional matters at the hearing; and that notice of the time and place for said hearing will be promptly given by the Commission.

It is further ordered, That this order and notice shall be served upon Vandersee Corporation; Louis R. Dreyling, 181 Gatzmer Avenue, Jamesburg, New Jersey; United States Corporation Company, 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, New Jersey; and Registrar and Transfer Company, 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, New Jersey, personally or by registered mail or by confirmed telegraphic notice, and shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

EXPENSES AND RATES OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1955-56 SEASON

On May 26, 1955, notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 3686) regarding the expenses and the fixing of the rates of assessment for the 1955-56 season pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California. This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals which were submitted by the Control Committee (established pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order) and set forth in the aforesaid notice, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 936.209 Expenses and rates of assessment for the 1955-56 season—(a) Expenses. The expenses likely to be incurred by the Control Committee during the 1955-56 season beginning March 1, 1955, and ending February 29, 1956, both dates inclusive, for the maintenance and functioning of such committee and the respective commodity committees, established pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, are as follows:

(1) Bartlett pears, $25,861.04;

(2) Early varieties of plums, $17,132.71;

(3) Late varieties of plums, $18,359.75, and

(4) Elberta peaches, $20,631.50.

(b) Rates of assessment. The following rates of assessment, which each handler shall pay in accordance with the applicable provisions of said amended marketing agreement and order, are hereby fixed as the respective handler's pro rata share of the aforesaid expenses:

(1) 8½ mills ($0.0085) per standard western pear box of Bartlett pears, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk;

(2) 9 mills ($0.009) per standard four-basket crate of early varieties of plums, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk;

(3) 9 mills ($0.009) per standard four-basket crate of late varieties of plums, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk, and

(4) 4 mills ($0.004) per California peach box of Elberta peaches, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk.

It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to postpone the effective date hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (1) the respective rates of assessment are applicable to all fresh Bartlett pears, early varieties of plums, late varieties of plums, and Elberta peaches shipped during the 1955-56 season; (2) shipments of plums have already commenced and shipments of Elberta peaches are expected to begin on or about June 25, 1955, with shipments of Bartlett pears following on or about July 10, 1955; (3) the provisions hereof do not impose any obligation on a handler until such handler ships plums, Elberta peaches or Bartlett pears; and (4) it is essential that the specification of the assessment rates be issued immediately so that the aforesaid assessment may be collected and thereby enable the said Control Committee and commodity committees to perform their duties and functions in accordance with said amended marketing agreement and order.

Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: June 23, 1955.

Deputy Administrator.

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 19 F. R. 7175; 20 F. R. 2913), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 953.701 (Lemon Regulation 594; 20 F. R. 4280) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2: 700 carloads.

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

Subchapter B—Trade Practice Conference Rules

[File No. 21–431]

PART 142—RADIO AND TELEVISION INDUSTRY

Due proceedings having been held under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the Act of Congress approved September 26, 1914, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission;

It is now ordered, That the Group I trade practice rules as hereinafter set forth, which have been approved by the Commission in this proceeding, be promulgated as of June 28, 1955.

Statement by the Commission. Revised and extended trade practice rules for the Radio and Television Industry, formerly known as the Radio Receiving Set Manufacturing Industry, are promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission as hereinafter set forth.

The industry is composed of persons, firms, corporations, and organizations engaged in the manufacture, sale, or distribution in commerce of radio receiving sets, television receiving sets, or combinations thereof, or parts or accessories therefor. According to available information, retail sales of industry products aggregate nearly two and one-half billion dollars per annum.

The rules constitute a revision and extension of those promulgated for the Radio Receiving Set Manufacturing Industry on July 22, 1939. Numerous changes embodying clarification of the applicable requirements of laws administered by the Commission have been made.

Primary objectives of the rules are the maintenance of free and fair competition in the industry and the elimination and prevention of unfair methods of competition, unfair acts or practices, and other trade abuses. They are to be applied to such end and to the exclusion of any acts or practices which suppress competition or otherwise restrain trade.

Proceedings to revise the trade practice rules as previously promulgated for the industry were instituted pursuant to industry applications. Drafts of suggested rules prepared by several industry trade associations were discussed in a trade practice conference in Washington, D. C., on June 21, 1951. A second session of the conference was held in Washington on September 26, 27, and 28 in 1951, and a draft of suggested rules prepared by the Commission's staff was used as a basis for discussion. Additional problems raised by new technical developments in the industry were presented, and in accordance with the expressed wishes of industry members a third session of the conference was held in Washington on June 18, 1952, where an all-industry committee's draft of twenty-nine suggested rules was discussed. Thereafter, proposed rules were published by the Commission and made available to all industry members and to all other interested or affected parties upon public notice whereby they were afforded opportunity to present their views, including such pertinent information, suggestions, amendments, or objections as they desired to offer, and to be heard in the premises. Pursuant to such notice, public hearings were held in Washington on October 8 and December 7, 1953, and all matters there presented, or otherwise received in the proceeding, were duly considered.

Thereafter, and upon full consideration of the entire matter, final action was taken by the Commission whereby it approved the Group I rules as hereinafter set forth.

Rules 6, 9, and 12 become operative six (6) months from the date of promulgation. All of the other rules become operative thirty (30) days from date of promulgation.

The rules. These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote the maintenance of fair competitive conditions in the interest of protecting industry, trade, and the public. It is to this end, and to the exclusion of any act or practice which fixes or controls prices through combination or agreement, or which unreasonably restrains trade or suppresses competition, or otherwise unlawfully injures, destroys, or prevents competition, that the rules are to be applied.

GROUP I

General statement. The unfair trade practices embraced in the Group I rules in this part are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use, by any person, partnership, corporation, or other organization subject to its jurisdiction, of such unlawful practices in commerce.

§ 142.1 Misbranding, misrepresentation, and deceptive selling methods. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry, in the course of the marketing or distribution of products of the industry, (a) to use, or promote the use of, any marks, brands, labels, depictions, layouts, advertisements, prices, trade promotional descriptions, or representations of any kind, which, directly or by implication, are false, misleading, or deceptive to the purchasing or consuming public; or (b) to offer for sale, sell, or distribute, or promote the sale or distribution of, products of the industry under any other conditions or selling practices which have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public in any material respect. [Rule 1]

§ 142.2 "All-wave," "World-wave," "World-wide wave," "standard broadcast," etc. In the application of the rules in this part, and for the purpose of avoiding confusion, misunderstanding, and deception:

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the terms "all-wave," "world-wave," "world-wide wave," or words, phrases, or representations denoting world-wide reception, shall not be used as descriptive of a radio receiving set advertised, offered for sale, sold, or distributed in the American market when such set is not constructed to receive and capable of receiving, with reasonable or adequate consistency, the entire respective spectrum of radio frequencies in recognized use in the art, namely, all long-wave broadcasts and transmissions, all medium-wave and short-wave broadcasts and transmissions, and all other waves transmitted or broadcast, including both foreign and domestic; excepting, however, that such set so described or represented need not include within its capacity of reception such point-to-point transmissions as are confidential and illegal for general reception and divulgence to members of the public, or such unchanging signals as emanate from radio beacons or radio lighthouses, when such set is not otherwise falsely or deceptively described or represented, directly or indirectly, as being constructed to receive, or as being capable of receiving, such point-to-point or beacon or lighthouse transmissions.

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit the use of the term "limited all-wave," "limited world-wave," "limited world-wide wave," or terms or words of similar import, as descriptive of a radio receiving set advertised, offered for sale, sold, or distributed in the American market, when such set is constructed for and capable of consistently receiving at least a continuous spectrum of frequencies from 540 kilocycles to 18,000 kilocycles, provided such terms or words are immediately accompanied by words, phrases, or terms set forth conspicuously and clearly, unequivocally and truthfully stating the exact wave bands or frequencies which such set is capable of consistently receiving; for example:

Limited All-Wave—From 540 to 18,000 kilocycles.
Limited All-Wave—From 530 to 21,000 kilocycles.
Limited World-Wave—From 540 to 18,000 kilocycles.
Limited World-Wide Wave—From 540 to 18,000 kilocycles.
Limited All-Wave—From 140 to 410 kilocycles, and from 540 to 18,000 kilocycles.
Limited World-Wave—From 540 to 18,000 kilocycles, and from 19,000 to 23,500 kilocycles.
Limited World-Wide Wave—From 150 to 400 kilocycles, and from 540 to 35,000 kilocycles.

(c) Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit the use, as descriptive of a radio receiving set, of the term "all-wave" as an integral part of a clause, sentence, or statement which truthfully and unequivocally sets forth the bands or radio frequencies such set does not cover, and wherein the words "all-wave" are not given greater prominence or conspicuousness than the other parts of such clause, sentence, or statement, provided such set is constructed for, and capable of receiving with reasonable or adequate consistency, all the waves or bands of frequencies from 540 to 18,000 kilocycles and such other bands or frequencies as are represented to be within its receptive capacity. The following are illustrative of such permissible phrases here provided for:

All waves except for frequencies above 21,000 kilocycles and below 540 kilocycles.
All waves except foreign and domestic frequencies above 18,000 kilocycles and below 540 kilocycles.

(d) The terms "standard-broadcast receiver," "frequency-modulation receiver" and "television receiver," as descriptive of an amplitude-modulation or a frequency-modulation radio or a television receiving set, shall not be used in such manner as to lead the public to believe that such set is constructed for, and capable of receiving with reasonable or adequate consistency, a greater number of radio or television frequency signals or channels than is in fact true of such set. [Rule 2]

§ 142.3 Specific types of advertisements or representations among those prohibited. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to use, or cause to be used, any of the following-described types of advertisements or representations:

(a) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that any radio receiving set so advertised or represented will receive distant stations or any or all foreign broadcasts or transmissions easily or satisfactorily or as easily or satisfactorily as local or domestic reception, when such is not the fact.

(b) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that any radio or television receiving set so advertised or represented, or the reception thereof, is not subject to interference or to being interfered with or interrupted by fading, noise, electrical interference, atmospheric conditions, static, or any other phenomena or conditions, when such is not the fact.

(c) Advertisements or representations with respect to the receiving capacity or performance of any radio or television receiving set which make deceptively exaggerated or misleading claims, or claims which are not justified and supported by the fact or performance of such radio or television receiving set.

(d) Advertisements or representations which directly or by implication lead purchasers to believe that the radio or television receiving set so advertised or represented is capable of greater or more consistent or satisfactory performance or reception than is in fact true.

(e) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that a radio receiving set so advertised or represented will give world-wide continuous reception or other continuous reception, when such is not the fact; or that the radio receiving set will give such reception or other reception with loud-speaker volume, when such is not the fact; or that the radio receiving set will give world-wide reception or other reception regularly or dependably, when such is not the fact.

(f) Advertisements or representations of any radio receiving set stating, purporting, or implying that each station or any station, whether nearby or foreign or domestic, can be brought in, or brought in with sharp, clear, or distinct reception, or with ease, simplicity, or regularity, by any amplitude-modulation radio receiving set so advertised or represented, when such is not the fact.

(g) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that any radio receiving set so advertised or represented will bring in or receive broadcasts from Europe, Africa, South America, Australia, or Asia, or from any other designated locality, or that it will bring in such broadcasts, or any of them, consistently or satisfactorily, when such is not the fact.

(h) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that any radio or television receiving set so advertised or represented sifts out noise or is free from noise, or brings in far distant stations sharp or clear, or brings in signals to weak signal areas sharp or clear, or brings in signals to fringe areas sharp or clear, when such is not the fact.

(i) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that any radio receiving set so advertised or represented will bring in or receive satisfactorily or consistently foreign stations, police calls, aviation calls, radio transmissions from or to ships at sea, amateur stations, or other types of radio transmissions, when such is not the fact, or when only a small part of any such class of radio frequencies transmitted or broadcast is so receivable and such fact, or the fact that others of the same class are not so receivable, is deceptively concealed.

(j) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that a radio or television receiving set so advertised or represented contains a certain number of tubes or their equivalents or is of a certain tube capacity or equivalent tube capacity when one or more of such tubes or their equivalents in the set are dummies or fakes or contribute no useful function toward enhancing the normal and intended operation of the amplitude-modulation or frequency-modulation radio or television receiving set.

NOTE: In order to avoid and prevent misleading tendencies or results, so-called "ballast tubes," dial or other lamps used for illumination, so-called "plug-in resistors," and other like accessories or devices not providing the recognized and customary functions of tubes used to enhance the operation of a radio or a television receiving set, are not to be included as tubes or their equivalents in advertisements or representations of a radio or a television receiving set which describe or refer to the set as having a certain number of tubes or their equivalents or as being of a specified tube capacity or equivalent tube capacity. Rectifier tubes, used to supply power to the set, shall not be included in the computation of tube count of such set.

(k) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that radio or television receiving sets so advertised or represented are of a current model, as specified by the manufacturer, when such is not the fact; or advertisements or representations which, directly or indirectly, have the capacity and tendency or effect of leading the purchasing public to believe that the set is of the current year's model or has not been supplanted, superseded, or succeeded by a newer or later model, when such is not true in fact; or advertisements or representations which are otherwise deceptive or misleading respecting the model of the set.

NOTE: The term "current," in reference to a model means that the said model appears in the prevailing literature published by the advertiser.

(l) Advertisements or representations concerning a radio or a television receiving set which, by reference to the name of the manufacturer, or one or more component parts of the set, or to a patent license pursuant to which the set was manufactured, or otherwise, have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading purchasers or the consuming public into the belief that such set is manufactured or sponsored by said component part manufacturer or patent licensor, when such is not the fact.

(m) Advertisements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that a television receiving set is a color television receiving set unless such receiving set is capable, as so constituted, of reproducing color television signals in color as transmitted from a television station transmitting in color; or advertisements or representations which, directly or indirectly, have the capacity and tendency or effect of leading the purchasing public to believe that the television receiving set is capable of reproducing color television transmission signals in color as transmitted from a color television transmitting station, when such is not the fact.

(n) Advertisiements or representations stating, purporting, or implying that a device for color television is capable of producing television pictures in color as broadcast, when such is not the fact. [Rule 3]

§ 142.4 Sponsorship. It is an unfair trade practice to use, or cause to be used, advertisements or representations relating to any radio or television sets, parts or accessories therefor, or to other products of the industry, which have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading purchasers or the consuming public into the belief that such radio or television receiving sets, parts, accessories, or products are sponsored by, or are otherwise associated with, any person, concern, or organization, when such is not the fact. [Rule 4]

§ 142.5 Alteration of identifying names or marks. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member to remove or deface the name, trade name, or trademark of any manufacturer appearing on any industry product when such removal or defacement has the capacity and tendency or effect of deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers of the product in any material respect. [Rule 5]

§ 142.6 Misrepresentation of cabinet composition.[1] (a) In the sale, offering for sale, or distribution of industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to misrepresent in any material respect the composition of the cabinet, or any part of the cabinet, of any such product.

(b) Among practices inhibited by this section are the following:

(1) Representing that a cabinet, or part thereof, is "mahogany," "solid mahogany," or "in mahogany," unless such cabinet or part is of solid mahogany wood.

(2) Representing that any cabinet, or part thereof, is "mahogany veneer" or "mahogany veneered" unless such cabinet or part consists of a base of wood or plies of wood on the exterior surface of which there has been glued or bonded a ply or veneer of mahogany wood; Provided, however, That the terms may also be used as descriptive of cabinets, or parts thereof, which consist of other than a base wood or plies of wood on the exterior surface of which there has been glued or bonded a ply or veneer of mahogany wood when in close conjunction with the term used there is adequate disclosure as to the nature of the composition to which the ply or veneer of mahogany wood has been applied.

(3) Representing that any cabinet, or part thereof, is composed of wood, or of any named wood, when such is not the fact.

[1] Section 142.5 applies to affirmative representations relating to the composition of cabinets and parts thereof. However, in the absence of any affirmative representation, the failure to disclose the true composition of a cabinet, or part thereof, which has the appearance of being of a different composition, may result in deception of purchasers and prospective purchasers and be violative of laws administered by the Commission. It is to be understood that the authority of the Commission is not limited to the affirmative representation practices inhibited by this section.

NOTE: Hardboard shall not be unqualifiedly represented as "wood." It may properly be represented as being "hardboard," "synthetic wood," "fiber board," "made from wood fiber (when such is the case)," and may be designated by such other descriptive terms as adequately and nondeceptively make known the general nature of its composition.

(4) Representing that any cabinet, or part thereof, is composed of wood (or any named wood), or is veneered with wood (or any named wood), when, though of such composition, an exposed surface or surfaces thereof have had applied thereto (by means of decalcomania, printing, or otherwise) a simulation of a wood grain, pattern, or figure different than the natural wood grain, pattern, or figure possessed by such wood or veneer, unless adequate disclosure is made of such fact in close conjunction with the said representation.

NOTE (a): Requirements for the designations specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, shall be considered as applicable to other named wood designations (such as "walnut," "solid walnut," and "walnut veneer").

NOTE (b): In the absence of an express statement to that effect, representations relating to the composition of cabinets shall not be considered as applying to the interior shelves or bracings thereof.

NOTE (c): When a representation regarding the composition of a cabinet is properly applicable to but a part or parts thereof, such fact shall be clearly indicated in close conjunction with the representation (as, for example,—"top, front, and doors are solid mahogany—sides are mahogany veneer".

[Rule 6]

§ 142.7 Deceptive use or change of cabinets. The placing of a radio or television receiving set or chassis in a cabinet designed or made for a set or chassis of a different manufacturer or for a set or chassis of a different size, type, model, or any other combination, without clear disclosure of the fact, having the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby misleading or deceiving the purchasing or consuming public as to the origin, size, capacity, make, manufacture, brand, or type of such set or cabinet, or when done to mislead or deceive purchasers in any other respect, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 7]

§ 142.8 Alteration or removal of serial numbers. (a) To remove, obliterate, deface, alter, or obscure the serial number of any industry product and thereby create a condition having the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers as to the identity or age or warranty of such product, or of otherwise aiding, abetting, or causing confusion or deception in the marketing of any such product, is an unfair trade practice.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing the replacement of that part of the product on which the serial number appears when necessary to the rebuilding or repair of such product and when the original serial number is re-marked on the substitute part; nor shall anything in this section be construed as preventing the marking of an additional serial number on a "remanufactured" or "rebuilt" product when in immediate conjunction therewith there appears the word "rebuilt," "remanufactured," or an abbreviation of a distinguishing symbol indicative thereof. [Rule 8]

§ 142.9 Deception as to size of picture. (a) In the sale or offering for sale of television receiving sets, it is an unfair trade practice to misrepresent the size of the picture of any such set or the size of the picture tube with which the set is equipped or to make any representation, direct or indirect, as to the size of such picture or picture tube when such representation has the capacity and tendency or effect of deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers as to the actual viewable picture displayed by the set or as to the actual size of such tube.

(b) Any direct or indirect representation as to the size of a picture shown by a television set or as to the size of the picture tube with which the set is equipped shall be with respect to the actual viewable area of the picture displayed by the set or of such tube on a single plane basis. When any such area is of rectangular shape, the size may be indicated by disclosure of but the horizontal distance between the vertical extremities (sides) of the area on a single plane basis, and when the area is of a circular shape, by disclosure of but the diameter of the area on a single plane basis: Provided, however, That nothing in this section shall be construed as inhibiting:

(1) A representation or disclosure as to the size of the area of a rectangular-shaped picture shown by a set or picture tube by specification of but a diagonal measurement of the distance between the vertical extremities of the width of the area on a single plane basis when a conspicuous disclosure is made, in immediate conjunction with the stated dimension, of the fact that same is a diagonal measurement; or

(2) A specification of the area in square inches with accompanying disclosure as to the shape of the area;

And provided, further, That in the case of sets equipped for the magnification or projection of picture images, any direct or indirect representation as to the size of the magnified or projected picture shall be accompanied by a conspicuous and nondeceptive disclosure of the fact that the represented size is that after magnification or projection, as the case may be.

NOTE: A tolerance not in exsess of $\pm\frac{1}{8}$ inch in representations with respect to the size given in a single dimension of a picture screen or picture tube is permitted.

[Rule 9]

§ 142.10 Deception as to the convertibility of a television receiving set to services other than those for which it was originally manufactured. (a) In the offering for sale or distribution of television receiving sets, it is an unfair trade practice to make or publish, directly or indirectly, any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation concerning the convertibility of such sets to receive color pictures, higher frequency transmissions, or services other than those for which the set was originally manufactured, or concerning the uniqueness of convertibility of any receiving set or as to the cost of effecting such conversion; or to make any other representation concerning the convertibility of such sets which has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers.

(b) Among practices inhibited by this section are: (1) Representing that any set can be converted so as to permit the reception of a color signal in color, or of Ultra-High Frequencies, when such is not the fact; or (2) representing that any set can be converted to color, or can be converted to receive higher frequencies, without also stating conspicuously that such conversion will require the attachment or installation of a new part or parts, or antenna, or some other substantial modification of the set, if such is the case.

NOTE: For the purpose of this section, the term "converter," when used with reference to color, is a device or apparatus which, when added to or used with an existing television receiver, enables the receiver to receive color television broadcasts and reproduce them in color as broadcasted. The term "converter," when used with reference to frequencies, means a device or apparatus which, when added to or used with an existing television receiver, enables the receiver to receive transmissions on different frequencies or channels than those which the receiver was capable of receiving when initially sold.

[Rule 10]

§ 142.11 Misuse of terms "discontinued model," "floor sample," "demonstrator," etc. (a) (1) In connection with the sale or offering for sale of radio or television receiving sets or other industry products by use of the terms "discontinued model," "floor sample," "demonstrator," or other word or term of similar import, it is an unfair trade practice to misrepresent any such receiving set or product or to use any such words or terms under conditions having the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving customers or prospective customers.

(2) Inhibited by this section is representing or implying that a radio or television receiving set or other industry product is a "demonstrator" or "floor sample" when in fact such receiving set or product is a "trade-in" or has been repossessed or has been sold or rented or subjected to any use except by prospective customers for the purpose of determining their preference and its suitability for their use.

(b) Representing or implying that any radio or television receiving set is a "discontinued" model unless the manufacturer has in fact discontinued its manufacture entirely or has replaced it on the market with a new set or new model embodying specific material changes in appearance, mechanical design, function, or the addition of new features to perform new functions. [Rule 11]

§ 142.12 Deception as to being "new." In the sale, offering for sale, or distribution of radio receiving sets, television receiving sets, radio-television combination receiving sets, cathode-ray tubes, or other industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to represent any of such products as being new or unused, or as containing all new or unused parts, when such is not the fact, or deceptively to conceal the fact that any of such products have been used or contain a used part or parts.

NOTE: Whenever a cathode-ray tube which has never been subjected to consumer, demonstrator, or floor-sample use, is discovered to have a defect or imperfection which can be and is completely remedied by the original manufacturer of such tube, such tube may be sold as a new tube. Cathode-ray tubes which have never been subjected to any consumer, demonstrator, or floor-sample use, and which, though giving satisfactory performance, do not meet the standards of quality and workmanship maintained by the manufacturer with respect to the general run of tubes of the same type, need not be designated as "used," but shall be designated as a "reject" or a "second."

[Rule 12]

§ 142.13 Deception as to identity of manufacturer when products are repaired, reconditioned, or rebuilt by other than the original manufacturer. Whenever an industry member obtains used or defective products or parts manufactured by another member and identified as such, and has repaired, reconditioned, or rebuilt such products or parts, whether through the installation of a new part or parts, or otherwise, it is an unfair trade practice to sell or offer for sale such products or parts without clear disclosure, in advertising and sales promotional literature relating thereto, and on labels or marks prominently affixed in a conspicuous place on the products or parts and containers thereof, of the fact that such products or parts have been repaired, reconditioned, or rebuilt, as the case may be, together with the name of the person or firm performing such repairing, reconditioning, or rebuilding: Provided, however, That with respect to an industry member who obtains cathode-ray tubes manufactured by another member and identified as such, and who rebuilds such tube reusing the envelope but utilizing all other new parts, it is an unfair trade practice to fail to remove or completely obliterate the name of the original manufacturer of the tube. [Rule 13]

§ 142.14 Misuse of terms "factory rebuilt" and "rebuilt". It is an unfair trade practice to use the term "rebuilt," "factory rebuilt," or any other word or term of similar import, as descriptive of a radio or television receiving set or other industry product which has not been dismantled and reconstructed and all badly worn, impaired, defective, or missing parts repaired or replaced with new parts; Provided, That the product shall not be described, as "factory rebuilt" unless said dismantling, reconstruction, repair, or replacement of parts is performed at a factory, or under factory supervision or control. [Rule 14]

§ 142.15 Deceptive pricing. (a) It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to represent or imply that an industry product may be purchased for a specified price when such is not the fact; or to represent or imply that in industry product is being offered for sale at a reduced price when such is not the fact; or otherwise to represent prices or terms of sale for industry products in such manner as to have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers.

(b) Among the practices inhibited by this section are:

(1) Representing or implying, in advertising or otherwise, that a stated price is for a complete functional radio or television receiving set when in fact the product so priced is without cabinet or batteries or any other part necessary to its normal functioning with proper antenna.

(2) Representing or implying, in advertising or otherwise, that the price of a radio or television receiving set or other product of the industry includes the cost of installation service, antenna, adjustment, accessories, etc., when such is not the fact.

(3) Representing or implying, in advertising or otherwise, as the price of a radio or television receiving set or other industry product, any amount which is less than the total price of such product which the purchaser is required to pay, excepting only State or local taxes the amount of which the purchasing public is presumed to have notice.

(4) Representing that a radio or television receiving set or other industry product is being sold at a reduced price when the alleged reduction is from a fictitious price; or is being offered at a reduced or special price when in fact the same model or product has never customarily been offered or sold by the claimant at a higher price than the alleged reduced or special price; or when over a substantial period of time the alleged "reduced" or "special" price has been the price at which the product customarily has been sold.

(5) Making or publishing any false, misleading, or deceptive representation, through advertising or otherwise, concerning installment sales contracts to be used in the sale of industry products, the terms or conditions of such contracts, the down payment to be required, the rate of interest or the financing cost to be charged, or respecting any other matters relative to such contracts. [Rule 15]

§ 142.16 Misrepresentation as to the effectiveness of television antennas. (a) In the offering for sale or distribution of television receiving sets equipped with antennas, or in the offering for sale or distribution of antennas designed for television sets, it is an unfair trade practice to make or publish any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation, by way of advertisement, label, mark, brand, or otherwise, concerning their uniqueness, performance, ability to "bring in" distant transmission, or utility for Very High Frequency or Ultra-High Frequency reception, or to make any other representation concerning the antenna which is false or misleading in any other material respect.

(b) Under this section it is an unfair trade practice to make the unqualified general representation that television receiving sets equipped with "built-in" or "indoor" antennas will perform as satisfactorily as if they were equipped with "outdoor" antennas, when such is not the fact. When such representation is true only in a limited number of locations or within a limited radius of television transmitting stations, or only under specially favorable conditions, or under other performance limitations, it is an unfair trade practice under this section to fail to make a clear and plain disclosure of such limitations. [Rule 16]

§ 142.17 Guaranties, warranties, etc. (a) It is an unfair trade practice to use any guaranty respecting a radio or a television receiver, accessory, attachment, or part thereof, or any television service contract, or any advertisement or representation in relation thereto, which does not make conspicuous and nondeceptive disclosure of the conditions or limitations of the guaranty.

(b) Without in any any way limiting the foregoing provisions of this section guaranties of the following type or character shall not be used:

(1) Guaranties containing statements, representations, or assertions which have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading and deceiving in any respect; or

(2) Guaranties which are so used, or are of such form, text, or character, as to import, imply, or represent that the guaranty is broader than is in fact true; or

(3) Guaranties in which the conditions or limitations are stated in such manner or form as to be minimized, obscured, or concealed, wholly or in part.

(c) This section shall be applicable also to warranties and any other writing purporting to be or having the effect of either a warranty or a guaranty. [Rule 17]

§ 142.18 Use of the word "free." In connection with the sale, offering for sale, or distribution of industry products, it is an unfair trade practice to use the word "free," or any other word or words of similar import, in advertisements or in other offers to the public, as descriptive of an article of merchandise, or service, which is not an unconditional gift, under the following circumstances:

(a) When all the conditions, obligations, or other prerequisites to the receipt and retention of the "free" article of merchandise or service offered are not clearly and conspicuously set forth at the outset so as to leave no reasonable probability that the terms of the offer will be misunderstood; and, regardless of such disclosures:

(b) When, with respect to any article of merchandise required to be purchased in order to obtain the "free" article or service, the offerer (1) increases the ordinary and usual price of such article of merchandise, or (2) reduces its quality, or (3) reduces the quantity or size thereof.

NOTE: The disclosure required by subsection (a) of this section shall appear in close conjunction with the word "free" (or other word or words of similar import) wherever such word first appears in each advertisement or offer. A disclosure in the form of a footnote, to which reference is made by use of an asterisk or other symbol placed next to the word "free," will not be regarded as compliance.

§ 142.19 False invoicing. Withholding from or inserting in invoices or sales slips any statements or information by reason or which omission or insertion a false record is made, wholly or in part, of the transactions represented on the face of such invoices or sales slips, with the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 19]

§ 142.20 Imitation of trade-marks, trade names, etc. The imitation or simulation of the trade-marks, trade names, brands, or labels of competitors, with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 20]

§ 142.21 Tie-in sales—coercing purchase of one product as a prerequisite to the purchase of other products. (a) The practice or coercing the purchase of one or more products as a prerequisite to the purchase of one or more other products, where the effect may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly or unreasonably to restrain trade, is an unfair trade practice.

(b) This section should not be construed as inhibiting a requirement of purchases of a representative line of radio, television, or radio-television receiving sets, or of parts or accessories therefor, when such required purchases are not resorted to and pursued as a monopolistic practice and do not have the tendency or effect of unreasonably restraining trade, creating a monopoly, or substantially lessening competition. [Rule 21]

§ 142.22 Unfair threats of infringement suits. The circulation of threats of suits for infringement of patents or trademarks among customer or prospective customers of competitors, not made in good faith but for the purpose or with the effect of thereby harassing or intimidating such customers or prospective customers or of unduly hampering, injuring, or prejudicing competitors in their business, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 22]

§ 142.23 Prohibited forms of trade restraints (unlawful price fixing, etc.) [2] It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry, either directly or indirectly, to engage in any planned common course of action, or to enter into or take part in any understanding, agreement, combination, or conspiracy, with one or more members of the industry, or with any other person or persons, to fix or maintain the price of any goods, or otherwise unlawfully to restrain trade; or to use any form of threat, intimidation, or coercion to induce any member of the industry or other person or persons to engage in any such planned common course of action, or to become a party to any such understanding, agreement, combination, or conspiracy. [Rule 23]

§ 142.24 Consignment distribution. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to employ the practice of shipping industry products on consignment or pretended consignment for the purpose and with the effect of artificially clogging or closing trade outlets and unduly restricting competitors' use of said trade outlets in getting their products to consumers through regular channels of distribution, thereby injuring, destroying, or preventing competition, or tending to create a monopoly or unreasonably to restrain trade. Nothing in this section shall be construed as restricting or preventing consignment shipping or marketing of industry products in good faith where suppression of competition, restraint of trade, or undue interference with competitors' use of the usual channels of distribution, is not effected; nor shall anything in this section be construed to authorize any agreement, understanding, or planned common course of action by and between industry members mutually to conform or restrict their practice of shipping goods on consignment with the intent or effect of lessening competition. [Rule 24]

[2] The inhibitions of this section are subject to Public Law 542, approved July 14, 1952, 66 Stat. 632 (the McGuire Act) which provides that with respect to a commodity which bears, or the label or container of which bears, the trademark, brand, or name of the producer or distributor of such commodity and which is in free and open competition with commodities of the same general class produced or distributed by others, a seller of such a commodity may enter into a contract or agreement with a buyer thereof which establishes a minimum or stipulated price at which such commodity may be resold by such buyer when such contract or agreement is lawful as applied to intrastate transactions under the laws of the State, Territory, or territorial jurisdiction in which the resale is to be made or to which the commodity is to be transported for such resale, and when such contract or agreement is not between manufacturers or between wholesalers, or between brokers, or between factors, or between retailers, or between persons, firms, or corporations in competition with each other.

§ 142.25 Use of lottery. The offering or giving of prizes, premiums, or gifts in connection with the sale or distribution of industry products by means of a lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, is an unfair trade practice.

NOTE: This section should not be construed as inhibiting the giving of prizes, premiums, or "give-aways," which giving is not contingent upon the requirement of a purchase of industry products or upon any other consideration.

[Rule 25]

§ 142.26 Defamation of competitors or false disparagement of their products. The defamation of competitors by falsely imputing to them dishonorable conduct, inability to perform contracts, questionable credit standing, or by other false representations, or the false disparagement of the quality, grade, origin, use, construction, design, performance, properties, manufacture, or distribution of the products of competitors, or of their business methods, selling prices, values, credit terms, policies, or services, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 26]

§ 142.27 Enticing away employees of competitors. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry wilfully to entice away employees or sales representatives of competitors with the intent and effect of thereby unduly hampering or injuring competitors in their business and destroying or substantially lessening competition: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting employees from seeking more favorable employment, or as prohibiting employers from hiring or offering employment to employees of competitors in good faith and not solely for the purpose of inflicting injury on a competitor. [Rule 27]

§ 142.28 Procurement of competitors' confidential information. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to obtain information concerning the business of a competitor by bribery of an employee or agent of such competitor, by false or misleading statements or representations, by the impersonation of one in authority, or by any other unfair means, and to use the information so obtained so as substantially to injure competition or unreasonably restrain trade. [Rule 28]

§ 142.29 Commercial bribery. It is an unfair trade practice for a member of the industry, directly or indirectly, to give, or offer to give, or permit or cause to be given, money or anything of value to agents, sales clerks, employees, or representatives of customers or prospective customers of the industry member, without the knowledge of the employers or principals of such agents, sales clerks, employees, or representatives, as an inducement:

(a) To influence such employers or principals to purchase or contract to purchase products manufactured or sold by the industry member; or

(b) To influence such employers or principals to refrain from dealing in the products of competitors or from dealing or contracting to deal with competitors; or

(c) For the purpose of causing said employees, agents, sales clerks, or representatives to push and promote the resale of the industry member's products over competing products being offered for resale by the employers or principals of said agents, employees, sales clerks, or representatives. [Rule 29]

§ 142.30 Exclusive deals. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to contract to sell or sell any industry product, or fix a price charged therefor, or discount from, or rebate upon, such price, on the condition, agreement, or understanding that the purchaser thereof shall not use or deal in the products of a competitor or competitors of such industry member, where the effect of such sale or contract for sale, or of such condition, agreement, or understanding, may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce. [Rule 30]

§ 142.31 Push money. It is an unfair trade practice for any industry member to pay or contract to pay anything of value to a salesperson employed by a customer of the industry member as compensation for, or as an inducement to obtain, special or greater effort or service on the part of the salesperson in promoting the resale of products supplied by the industry member to the customer—

(a) When the agreement or understanding under which the payment or payments are made or are to be made is without the knowledge and consent of the salesperson's employer; or

(b) When the terms and conditions of the agreement or understanding are such that any benefit to the salesperson or customer is dependent on lottery or chance; or

(c) When any provision of the agreement of understanding requires or contemplates practices or a course of conduct unduly and intentionally hampering sales of products of competitors of an industry member; or

(d) When, because of the terms and conditions of the agreement or understanding, including its duration, or the attendant circumstances, the effect may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly; or

(e) When similar payments are not accorded to salespersons of competing customers on proportionally equal terms in compliance with sections 2 (d) and (e) of the Clayton Act.

NOTE: Payments made by an industry member to a salesperson of a customer under any agreement or understanding that all or any part of such payments is to be transferred by the salesperson to the customer, or is to result in a corresponding decrease in the salesperson's salary, are not to be considered within the purview of this section, but are to be considered as subject to the requirements and provisions of section 2 (a) of the Clayton Act.

[Rule 31]

§ 142.32 Prohibited discrimination. [3]—(a) Prohibited discriminatory prices, or rebates, refunds, discounts, credits, etc., which effect unlawful price discrimination. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, to grant or allow, secretly or openly, directly or indirectly, any rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, where such rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, effects a discrimination in price between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality, where either or any of the purchases involved therein are in commerce, and where the effect thereof may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce, or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefit of such discrimination, or with customers of either of them: Provided, however:

(1) That the goods involved in any such transaction are sold for use, consumption, or resale within any place under the jurisdiction of the United States;

(2) That nothing contained in paragraph (a) of this section shall prevent differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are to such purchasers sold or delivered;

NOTE: "Spindling" of orders. This proviso shall not be construed as permitting the practice of allowing a price differential, whether in the form of a discount, rebate, or other form, through billing as a single order an aggregate of the amounts of two or more orders separately delivered, when such price differential is not justified by savings to the seller which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such products are to such purchasers sold or delivered.

(3) That nothing contained in this section shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade;

(4) That nothing contained in paragraph (a) of this section shall prevent price changes from time to time where in response to changing conditions affecting the market for or the marketability of the goods concerned, such as but not limited to obsolescence of seasonal goods, distress sales under court process, or sales in good faith in discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(b) Prohibited brokerage and commissions. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, to pay or grant, or to receive or accept, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, except for services rendered in connection with the sale or purchase of goods, wares, or merchandise, either to the other party to such transaction or to an agent, representative, or other intermediary therein where such intermediary is acting in fact for or in behalf, or is subject to the direct or indirect control, of any party to such transaction other than the person by whom such compensation is so granted or paid.

(c) Prohibited advertising or promotional allowances, etc. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce to pay or contract for the payment of advertising or promotional allowances or any other thing of value to or for the benefit of a customer of such member in the course of such commerce as compensation or in consideration for any services or facilities furnished by or through such customer in connection with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of any products or commodities manufactured, sold, or offered for sale by such member, unless such payment or consideration is available on proportionally equal terms to all other customers competing in the distribution of such products or commodities.

(d) Prohibited discriminatory services or facilities. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce to discriminate in favor of one purchaser against another purchaser or purchasers of a commodity bought for resale, with or without processing, by contracting to furnish or furnishing, or by contributing to the furnishing of, any services or facilities connected with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of such commodity so purchased upon terms not accorded to all competing purchasers on proportionally equal terms.

(e) Inducing or receiving an illegal discrimination in price. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce, in the course of such commerce, knowingly to induce or receive a discrimination in price which is prohibited by the foregoing provisions of this section.

(f) Exemptions. The inhibitions of this section shall not apply to purchases of their supplies for their own use by schools, colleges, universities, public libraries, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions not operated for profit.

NOTE: In complaint proceedings charging discrimination in price or services or facilities furnished, and upon proof having been made of such discrimination, the burden of rebutting the prima facie case thus made by showing justification shall be upon the person charged; and unless justification shall be affirmatively shown, the Commission is authorized to issue an order terminating the discrimination: Provided, however, That nothing contained in this section shall prevent a seller rebutting the prima facie case thus made by showing that his lower price or the furnishing of services or facilities to any purchaser or purchasers was made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor, or the services or facilities furnished by a competitor. See section 2–b, Clayton Act.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 22d day of June 1955;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned matter; and

It appearing that it would be in the public interest to amend the rules as herein ordered to allow a radio operator engaged in operating a station on land under the provisions of Part 7 of the Commission's rules to dispense with the posting of his operator license where he holds a restricted radiotelephone operator permit and keeps the permit in his personal possession; and

It further appearing that because the amendment herein ordered is of a noncontroversial nature and will have minor public effect, compliance with the public notice and rule making procedure prescribed by sections 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary; and

It further appearing that the amendment herein ordered relieves an existing restriction, and may, therefore, be made effective immediately;

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In the matter of amendment of Part 8 of the Commission's rules for the purpose of reflecting changes in law and treaty, principally with respect to compulsorily installed ship radiotelegraph stations; Docket No. 11365.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of June 1955;

The Commission having under consideration its proposal in the above-captioned matter;

It appearing that in accordance with the requirements of section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, notice of proposed rule making in this matter which made provision for submission of written comments by interested parties was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 20, 1955 (20 F. R. 2624), and the period for filing comments has now expired; and

It further appearing that the only comment filed was that of the American Merchant Marine Institute, Inc. which suggested a revision of proposed § 8.515 dealing with station clocks under the impression that the rule related to radiotelephone equipped ships, whereas the rule as proposed applies only to ships compulsorily equipped with radiotelegraph stations; and

It further appearing that in addition to the amendments heretofore proposed certain editorial and procedural amendments to § 8.49 are desirable in order to reflect existing procedures used in applying for and acting upon applications for exemption; and

It further appearing that since such amendments to § 8.49 are editorial and procedural in nature prior notice of rule making with respect to them is not necessary; and

It further appearing that the public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the amendments herein ordered, the authority for which is contained in section 303 (n) and (r) and Title III, Part II of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

The issuance of an appropriate certificate (see section 361 of the Communications Act) in behalf of any vessel of the United States concerning the radio particulars provided for in the Safety Convention is subject to a finding by the Commission that such vessel complies in an efficient manner with the applicable radio and communication provisions of that Convention or that, pursuant to the provisions of the Safety Convention, such vessel is exempt from those provisions of that Convention. The issuance date of Safety Radiotelegraphy and Safety Radio telephony certificates issued by the Commission shall be the date the installation is found to be in compliance or not later than one business day following such in-compliance date.

(b) In accordance with the Safety Convention, every ship of the United States holding a Safety Certificate, Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificate, Safety Radiotelephony Certificate or Exemption Certificate is subject when in a port of a foreign country which is a party to the Safety Convention, to control by officers duly authorized by the government of that country, insofar as that control is directed towards verifying that there is on board a valid Convention certificate and, if necessary, that the conditions of the vessel's seaworthiness correspond substantially with the particulars of that certificate.

(c) The privileges of the Convention may not be claimed in favor of any ship unless it holds appropriate valid certificates. In the event of control giving rise to intervention of any kind in a foreign port, the officer carrying out the control is required to notify the United States Consul in writing forthwith of all the circumstances in which intervention was deemed to be necessary.

(d) In accordance with the Safety Convention, Safety Certificates, Safety Radiotelegraphy Certificates and Safety Radiotelephony Certificates are required to be posted in a permanent and accessible place in the ship.

(b) Whenever a main installation only is provided on board a cargo vessel in accordance with the terms of paragraph (a) of section 355 of the Communications Act, this installation shall comply in full with all rules and regulations of the Commission that apply to an emergency or reserve installation on board a vessel subject to Title III, Part II of the Communications Act.

NOTE: Section 355 (a) of the Communications Act (Title III, Part II) provides that "The radio installation shall comprise a main and an emergency or reserve radiotelegraph installation: Provided, That, in the case of an existing installation on a cargo ship and a new installation on a cargo ship of five hundred gross tons and upwards but less than one thousand six hundred gross tons, if the main installation complies with all requirements of an emergency or reserve installation, the emergency or reserve installation may be omitted, except that a separate emergency receiver must, in all cases, be provided".

15. Section 8.503 is amended as follows:

a. Amend paragraph (a) (3) of § 8.503 to read as follows:

(3) The main receiver shall be capable of efficiently receiving radiotelegraph signals, classes A1 and A2 emission, on all frequencies within the bands 100 to 200 kilocycles, and 405 to 535 kilocycles, and in addition class B emission within the band 485 to 515 kilocycles. In addition, it shall be fitted with a head receiver capable of effective operation at every audio frequency from 200 to 3000 cycles per second, inclusive. Under this load condition and at all times herein specified, any potential of the main power supply at the radio room terminals shall not deviate from its rated electrical potential by more than 10 percent on vessels completed on or after July 1, 1941, nor by more than 15 percent on vessels completed before that date. While at sea, storage batteries forming part of the main installation shall be brought up to the normal fully charged condition daily.

c. Add new subparagraphs (6) and (7) to § 8.503 (a) as follows:

b. Paragraph (a) (5) of § 8.504 is amended to read as follows:

(5) There shall be readily available for use at all times under normal load conditions, when the vessel is leaving or attempting to leave a harbor or port for a voyage in the open sea, while being navigated in the open sea outside a harbor or port, and when required during inspection of the ship radio station by an authorized representative of the Commission, an emergency power supply for the emergency installation (independent of the propelling power of the ship, and any other electrical system; and independent of the main power supply where a separate main and emergency or reserve installation is provided for the purpose of compliance with paragraph (a) of section 355 of the Communications Act) capable of supplying electrical power sufficient to energize simultaneously and efficiently the emergency transmitter at its required antenna power (the antenna power specified in § 8.553) and the emergency receiver. Such emergency power supply shall be maintained in readiness to operate effectively and shall have a reserve capacity of at least 6 continuous hours at all times while the vessel is navigated outside a harbor or port and whenever the vessel leaves or attempts to leave a harbor or port of the United States for a voyage in the open sea. When the operating position of the emergency radio installation is not located in the radio room normally used for operating the main radio installation, an efficient interior communication system shall be separately provided between the bridge and each of these radio operating positions.

(b) If a vessel is provided with more than one location from which it is normally controlled and steered, the interior communication system between the radio room and bridge shall include in the system a point of communication to each such location. The existence at a location of all of the following factors will be considered to be evidence that a point of communication should there be established: (1) Provision of a steering wheel; (2) provision of a compass; (3) provision of an engine order telegraph; (4) provision of apparatus to control the whistle; and (5) enclosure of the location to form a wheelhouse.

(c) The requirement of paragraph (b) of this section shall not apply to locations established solely for emergency use in event of failure of the normal steering facilities or locations used solely while docking or maneuvering a ship while in port or occasionally for brief periods while navigating the ship in close quarters on inland waters.

EXPLANATIONS AND METHODS OF ANALYSES

§ 52.984 Definitions of terms. (a) A "piece of stem" means a portion of the branch or main stem.

(b) "Capstems" means small woody stems exceeding ⅛ inch in length which attach the grapes to the branches of the bunch. A currant for each capstem which is not attached to a currant is included and weighed with "currants with capstems" in ascertaining compliance with the allowance permitted.

(c) "Poorly developed, blowovers" refers to currants that are immature or hard, contain practically no flesh, are very light in weight, and have very coarse wrinkles.

(d) "Damaged" currants means currants affected by insect injury or injury from sunburn, scars, mechanical or other means which seriously affects the appearance, edibility, keeping quality, or shipping quality of the currants.

(e) "Sugared" means either external or internal sugar crystals are present and the accumulation of such crystallized fruit sugars in the flesh of the dried currant or on the surface are readily apparent.

(f) "Moldy" currants are those that show mold on more than one-fourth of the surface when ascertained in accordance with the following method:

(1) Currants showing catalase activity. (For use on currants where catalase activity has not been destroyed by treatment with lye, oil, or heat). Count out 100 currants from a well-mixed sample and place 10 or 15 at a time in a crystallizing dish. Cover each lot with a fresh solution made up to contain 5 percent hydrogen peroxide and 1 percent NH_4OH. The moldy areas are detected by the presence of copious oxygen bubbles. Place the crystallizing dish over black glazed paper to give greater contrast. Confirm the presence of mold filaments microscopically. Do not class as "moldy" currants, those in which yeasts also give a reaction with hydrogen peroxide.

(g) "Grit, sand, or silt" means any particle of earthy material.

[1] Compliance with the requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION AND GRADES

§ 52.2931 Product description. Concentrated tangerine juice for manufacturing is the concentrated product obtained from sound, mature fruit of the Mandarin group (Citrus reticulata). The fruit is prepared by sorting and by washing prior to extraction of the juice and the extracted juice is concentrated. The concentrated tangerine juice is processed in accordance with good commercial practice; and may or may not require processing by heat or subsequent refrigeration to assure preservation of the product. The finished product does not contain any additives except that cold-pressed oil to standardize flavor and chemical preservatives permissible under provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act may have been added.

(a) The Brix value of the finished concentrate shall be not less nor more than the following for the respective dilution factor of canned concentrated tangerine juice for manufacturing:

Dilution factor	Brix value of the finished concentrate
	Minimum Brix value	Maximum Brix value
	Degrees	Degrees
1 plus 3	38.0	41.0
1 plus 4	46.0	49.0
1 plus 5	53.3	56.3
1 plus 6	60.3	63.3

(b) Concentrated tangerine juice for manufacturing of other dilution factors between "1 plus 3" to "1 plus 6" or more than "1 plus 6" shall result in a Brix (upon reconstitution as prescribed by the processor or as prescribed by the label on the container, if labeled) of not less than 10.6 degrees.

§ 52.2932 Grades of concentrated tangerine juice for manufacturing. (a) "U. S. Grade A for Manufacturing" or "U. S. Fancy for Manufacturing" is the quality of concentrated tangerine juice which shows no material gelation, reconstitutes properly, and of which the reconstituted juice possesses a good color; is practically free from defects; possesses a reasonably good flavor; and scores not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(b) "U. S. Grade C for Manufacturing" or "U. S. Standard for Manufacturing" is the quality of concentrated tangerine juice which shows no material gelation, reconstitutes properly, and of which the reconstituted juice possesses a fairly good color; is fairly free from defects; possesses a fairly good flavor; and scores not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(c) "Substandard for Manufacturing" is the quality of concentrated tangerine juice that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C for Manufacturing or U. S. Standard for Manufacturing.

FILL OF CONTAINER

§ 52.2933 Recommended fill of container. The recommended fill of container is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. It is recommended that each container be filled with concentrated tangerine juice as full as practicable without impairment of quality.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

§ 52.2934 Ascertaining the grade. The grade of concentrated tangerine juice for manufacturing is ascertained by examining the concentrate and the reconstituted juice and considering all requirements of the standards as follows:

(a) Factors not rated by score points. (1) Degree of gelation.

(2) Faculty of reconstituting properly.

(b) Factors rated by score points. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

Factors:	Points
Color	20
Defects	40
Flavor	40
Total score	100

§ 52.2935 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive. (For example, "17 to 20 points" means 17, 18, 19, or 20 points.)

§ 52.2936 Color—(a) (A-Mfg) classification. Concentrated tangerine juice of which the reconstituted juice possesses a good color may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Good color" means that the color is a reasonably bright yellow to yellow-orange color typical of properly processed and properly concentrated tangerine juice and is practically free from browning due to scorching, oxidation, caramelization, or other causes.

(b) (C-Mfg) classification. If the reconstituted juice possesses a fairly good color, a score of 14 to 16 points may be given. Concentrated tangerine juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C for Manufacturing or U. S. Standard for Manufacturing, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the tangerine juice may possess a typical fairly bright yellow to yellow-orange color that is reasonably free from browning due to scorching, oxidation, caramelization, or other causes.

(c) (SStd-Mfg) classification. Concentrated tangerine juice that fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above Substandard for Manufacturing, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2937 Defects—(a) General. The factor of defects refers to the degree of freedom from seeds and portions thereof, from excessive juice cells, from pulp, and from other defects.

(1) "Pulp" means particles of membrane, core, and peel.

(b) (A-Mfg) classification. Concentrated tangerine juice of which the reconstituted juice is practically free from defects may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Practically free from defects" means that there may be present:

(1) Small seeds or portions thereof that are of such size that they could pass through round perforations not exceeding 1/8 inch in diameter, provided such seeds or portions thereof do not materially affect the appearance or edibility of the product.

(2) Juice cells and pulp that do not materially affect the appearance or edibility of the product; and

(3) Other defects that are not more than slightly objectionable.

(c) (C-Mfg) classification. If the reconstituted juice is fairly free from defects, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Concentrated tangerine juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C for manufacturing or U. S. Standard for Manufacturing, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that there may be present:

(1) Small seeds or portions thereof that are of such size that they could pass through round perforations not exceeding 1/8 inch in diameter, provided such seeds or portions thereof do not seriously affect the appearance or edibility of the product;

(2) Juice cells and pulp that do not seriously affect the appearance or edibility of the product; and

(3) Other defects that are not materially objectionable.

(d) (SStd-Mfg) classification. Concentrated tangerine juice that fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above Substandard for Manufacturing, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2938 Flavor—(a) (A-Mfg) classification. Concentrated tangerine juice of which the reconstituted juice possesses a reasonably good flavor may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Reasonably good flavor" means that the flavor is typical of reconstituted concentrated tangerine juice from properly processed and concentrated tangerine juice; that the flavor may range from high acidity to low acidity; is practically free from traces of scorching, caramelization, oxidation, or terpene; and is free from off-flavors of any kind. To score not less than 34 points the concentrated tangerine juice shall meet the following requirement: The ratio of the Brix value to acid is not less than 9 to 1 nor more than 18 to 1.

(b) (C-Mfg) classification. If the reconstituted juice possesses a fairly good flavor, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Concentrated tangerine juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C for Manufacturing or U. S. Standard for Manufacturing, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good flavor" means a normal flavor for reconstituted concentrated tangerine juice; and that the flavor may range from high acidity to low acidity, may have a slightly caramelized or slightly oxidized flavor or may possess traces of terpene but is free from off-flavors of any kind. To score not less than 28 points concentrated tangerine juice shall meet the following requirement: The ratio of the Brix value to acid is not less than 9 to 1 nor more than 21 to 1.

(c) (SStd-Mfg) classification. If the concentrated tangerine juice fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section, a score of 0 to 27 points may be given. Concentrated tangerine juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above Substandard for Manufacturing, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

EXPLANATIONS AND METHODS OF ANALYSES

§ 52.2939 Explanation of terms and analyses. (a) "Reconstituted juice" means the product obtained by mixing thoroughly one part by volume of the concentrated tangerine juice with a stated volume of water. For example, a dilution factor of "1 plus 6" means that to one part by volume of concentrated tangerine juice 6 parts by volume of water are added to produce a reconstituted juice. In the absence of any declared dilution factor the product is diluted with water to a Brix of between 10.6 and 11.6 degrees. Distilled water is used in reconstituting the product for testing flavor.

(b) "Reconstitutes properly" means that the concentrate mixes readily into a tangerine juice which shows no more than a slight graininess and that the reconstituted juice shows no material separation of colloidal or suspended matter after standing four hours at a temperature of not less than 68 degrees Fahrenheit in a clear glass tube or cylinder of approximately 250 ml. capacity.

(c) "Acid" means the percent by weight of acid (calculated as anhydrous citric acid) in concentrated tangerine juice and is determined by titration with standard sodium hydroxide solution using phenolphthalein as indicator.

(d) "Brix value" of the concentrate is the refractometric sucrose value determined in accordance with the International Scale of Refractive Indices of Sucrose Solutions and to which the applicable correction for acid is added. (See table I for corrections.)

TABLE I—CORRECTIONS FOR OBTAINING BRIX VALUE

Citric acid, anhydrous (percent by weight)	Correction to be added to refractometer sucrose value to obtain degree Brix value	Citric acid, anhydrous (percent by weight)	Correction to be added to refractometer sucrose value to obtain degree Brix value
2.0	0.39	3.6	0.70
2.2	.43	3.8	.74
2.4	.47	4.0	.78
2.6	.51	4.2	.81
2.8	.54	4.4	.85
3.0	.58	4.6	.89
3.2	.62	4.8	.93
3.4	.66	5.0	.97

(e) The "Brix" of reconstituted juice means the degree Brix as determined by a Brix hydrometer calibrated at 20 degrees C. (68° F.), and to which any applicable temperature correction has been applied.

LOT CERTIFICATION TOLERANCES

§ 52.2940 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (a) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of concentrated tangerine juice the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if,

(1) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification; and

(2) With respect to those factors which are scored:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers fails to meet the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(ii) None of the containers falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(iii) None of the containers falls more than one grade below the grade indicated by the average of such total scores; and

(iv) The average score of all containers for any factor subject to a limiting rule is within the score range of that factor for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores of the containers comprising the sample.

[Docket No. R–145]

RATE SCHEDULES AND TARIFFS; APPLICATIONS FOR CERTIFICATES OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

SUPPLEMENTAL NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULEMAKING

JUNE 15, 1955.

1. Notice of proposed rulemaking was given the above-entitled matter on June 1, 1955. Said notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 22, 1955 (20 F. R. 4368).

2. In addition to the amendments to Part 154 of its regulations listed in paragraph 2 of that notice, the Commission proposes to amend § 154.63 (b) (3) (i) (e) (1) relating to the test period to be used in submitting material in connection with rate increase applications. The present rule provides that a company may adjust the figures based upon its most recent 12 months' actual experience to reflect known and measurable revenues and costs which will occur within seven months thereafter. It seems entirely reasonable to increase to eight months the seven-month limit on estimates in the present rule.

3. Pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 4 and 16 of the Natural Gas Act (15 U. S. C. 717c, 717o) the Commission proposes to amend the first sentence of § 154.63 (b) (3) (i) (e) (1), captioned "Test period," by changing the words "effective within seven months" to read "effective within eight months."

4. Any interested person may submit to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before July 5, 1955, data, views, and comments in writing concerning the amendments proposed herein. The Commission will consider these written submittals before acting upon the proposed amendments. An original and 9 copies should be filed of any such submittals.

[SEAL] LEON M. FUQUAY,
Secretary.

In turn, Consolidated will loan the $20,000,000 to the subsidiaries and in amounts as follows: East Ohio, $4,000,000; Hope, $4,000,000; New York State, $11,500,000 and Peoples, $500,000. These loans to subsidiaries will be on short-term promissory notes having a maturity date on or before the time of maturity of Consolidated's first borrowing and will bear a 3 percent interest rate.

It is represented that no State Commission or Federal Commission other than this Commission has jurisdiction over the issuance and sale of notes by Consolidated, the $4,000,000 principal amount of short-term notes by East Ohio, the $10,000,000 of common stock and $11,500,000 of short-term notes by New York State and the $500,000 of short-term notes by Peoples. The issuance and sale of $3,500,000 of long-term notes by East Ohio and $100,000 of long-term notes by River have been authorized by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio; the issuance and sale of $4,500,000 of long-term notes and $4,000,000 of short-term notes by Hope have been authorized by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia; and the issuance and sale of $4,000,000 of common stock and $3,500,000 of long-term notes by Peoples have been authorized by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

The fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the above transactions and also the sale by Consolidated of additional shares of its capital stock with respect to which the Commission by order dated May 24, 1955, permitted the declaration herein to become effective, except for the reservation of jurisdiction over fees and expenses, are estimated to aggregate $225,463, including counsel fees of $3,500 and accountants fees of $4,500, all of which will be paid by Consolidated except for $20,400 of taxes to be paid by the subsidiaries.

Applicants-declarants request that the Commission's order to be entered herein become effective upon issuance.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the joint application-declaration and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission having examined the filing and finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder are satisfied, that the estimated fees and expenses are not unreasonable, and that no adverse findings are necessary in respect of the proposed issuance, sale and acquisition of securities described above; and the Commission deeming it in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said joint application-declaration, insofar as it relates to the issuance, sale and acquisition of said securities should be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act that said joint application-declaration, as amended, to the extent not heretofore permitted to become effective by the Commission's order of May 24, 1955, be, and it hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

It is further ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to fees and expenses in the aforesaid order of May 24, 1955 be, and the same hereby is, released.

By the Commission.

AMERICAN NATURAL GAS CO. AND AMERICAN LOUISIANA PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATIONS AND DECLARATION REGARDING ISSUE AND SALE BY PARENT OF COMMON STOCK AND ISSUE AND SALE BY SUBSIDIARY OF COMMON STOCK AND BONDS AND ORDER FOR HEARING

JUNE 22, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that American Natural Gas Company ("American Natural"), a registered holding company, and its interstate natural gas pipeline subsidiary, American Louisiana Pipe Line Company ("American Louisiana"), have filed with this Commission applications and a declaration, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Applicants-declarants have designated sections 6 (a), 6 (b), 7, 9, 10, and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-43 and U-50 as applicable to the proposed transactions.

All interested persons are referred to the applications and declaration on file in the office of the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

(1) American Natural proposes to issue and sell 736,856 additional shares of its authorized but unissued shares of $25 par value common stock, pursuant to a rights offering to its common stockholders, on the basis of one share of such additional stock for each five shares held. The date of the offering and expiration thereof are to be determined by American Natural prior to the offering. The subscription price is also to be determined by American Natural prior to the offering and will be lower than the market price then prevailing for outstanding shares of American Natural's common stock on the New York Stock Exchange.

To effectuate the issue and sale of such additional shares, transferable subscription warrants will be issued to holders of outstanding common stock evidencing a number of rights equal to the number of outstanding shares of common stock held, and five rights will be required for the purchase of each share of additional common stock. American Natural will make arrangements with its New York transfer agent, The First National City Bank of New York, under which the transfer agent will, without service charge to stockholders, attempt to execute purchase or sale orders of stockholders designed to (a) round out the stockholders' interest to multiples of the number of rights required for the purchase of one additional share of common stock or (b) dispose of rights when they are insufficient to permit purchase of one such share.

Each holder of outstanding shares of American Natural common stock will also be given the privilege of subscribing, at the subscription price, for any number of shares of the additional common stock not purchased through the exercise of rights, subject to allotment.

For purposes of facilitating the offering, American Natural may stabilize the price of its common stock. Stabilization transactions, if any, will be effected by the purchase of shares of such stock on the stock exchanges where listed or traded, in the open market, or otherwise. Stabilization transactions, if commenced, may be terminated at any time, and in any case not later than the expiration of the warrants. American Natural will at no time acquire a long position in shares of its common stock in excess of ten per cent of the number of additional shares of common stock being offered to the stockholders. Shares acquired through stabilization transactions will be sold in ordinary brokerage transactions on the New York Stock Exchange.

Of the proceeds received from the sale of the additional common stock, the sum of $20,000,000 is to be invested in common stock of American Louisiana, and the remainder is to be invested in other subsidiaries pursuant to further and future applications.

(2) American Louisiana proposes to issue and sell, and American Natural proposes to acquire, 200,000 shares of authorized but unissued $100 par value common stock for $20,000,000 cash.

American Natural has been previously authorized to acquire 5,000 shares of $100 par value common stock of American Louisiana, 4,000 shares of which have been issued and are held by American Natural, and the remaining 1,000 shares of which are soon to be issued pursuant to such authorization.

(3) American Louisiana also proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to bond purchase agreements entered into in February and March 1954, as amended in March 1955, $97,500,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Pipe Line Bonds, 4¼ percent Series, due not later than January 1, 1977, of which $87,750,000 will be sold to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company ("Metropolitan") and $9,750,000 will be sold to the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York ("Mutual"). The bonds are to be issued under and secured by a Mortgage and Deed of Trust between the company and City Bank Farmers Trust Company and Marc A. Rieffel, as trustees. The bonds are to be issued and sold from time to time as funds are required, in not more than nine lots of which no lot shall be less than $10,000,000. A commitment fee at the rate of ½ of 1% per annum on the principal amount of bonds sold from time to time, computed in each instance from a specified date in February 1954 to the dates of sale of the bonds, is to be paid. In addition, a like commitment fee is to be paid on any amount of bonds unsold on July 1, 1957 or on the final closing date, whichever is the earlier. The company has the right, on or prior to July 1, 1957, to reduce, pro rata, the total commitment upon 30 days' written notice. The bonds will be subject to a sinking fund designed to retire the entire issue by the maturity date, or by the "date of exhaustion of firm gas supply", determined from time to time as provided in the mortgage, whichever date is the earlier.

The net proceeds received by American Louisiana from the sale of its common stock ($20,500,000, including $500,000 previously authorized by this Commission) and bonds ($97,500,000) are to be used to provide the major portion of the $130,000,000 estimated to be required for the construction of a natural gas pipe line system which will extend from southern Louisiana to Detroit, Michigan for purposes of supplementing the gas supply of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, subsidiaries of American Natural. The balance of $12,000,000 will be obtained from the issue and sale of $12,000,000 principal amount of interim notes convertible, at the option of the company, into preferred stock. The issue and sale of the interim notes will be the subject of a further application to this Commission.

The Federal Power Commission has issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the construction of the pipeline system; and, in connection therewith, has found the proposed plan of financing thereof to be satisfactory for purposes of its issuance of such certificate.

American Louisiana requests that the proposed issue and sale of common stock and bonds by it be exempted from the requirements of sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act, pursuant to the provisions of the last clause of the third sentence of section 6 (b) thereof. It requests an exception from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (a) (5) thereof, with respect to the issue and sale of its bonds.

The applications and declaration state that in the opinion of counsel no further approval of any regulatory body other than this Commission is necessary for the consummation of the proposed transactions.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to the applications and declaration, and that the applications and declaration should not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission:

It is ordered, That, pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, a hearing with respect to the applications and declaration be held on July 11, 1955, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., at the offices of the Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington, D. C. On said date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

Any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before July 8, 1955, a request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice and shall state the reasons for wishing to participate, the nature and extent of his interest in the proceeding, and the issues of fact or law raised by the applications and declaration which he desires to controvert.

It is further ordered, That James G. Ewell, or any other officer of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing, and that the officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all of the powers granted to this Commission under section 18 (c) of the act, and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Corporate Regulation of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the applications and declaration and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration, without prejudice to the designation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the issue and sale by American Natural of its common stock satisfy the standards of section 7 of the act.

2. Whether the issue and sale by American Louisiana of its common stock and of its bonds are solely for the purpose of financing its business.

3. What terms and conditions, if any, should be imposed in the public interest, or for the protection of investors or consumers, in respect of the proposed issue and sale by American Louisiana of its stock and of its bonds.

4. Whether, in connection with the proposed issue and sale by American Louisiana of its bonds, compliance with the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 is unnecessary to aid the Commission to determine such terms and conditions as may be appropriate in the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

5. Whether the proposed acquisition of the common stock of American Louisiana by American Natural is in accord with applicable standards of the act, particularly section 10 thereof.

6. Whether the fees, commissions, or other remuneration to be incurred in connection with the proposed issuances and sales of securities are for necessary services and are reasonable in amounts.

7. Whether the accounting entries to record the proposed transactions are proper, conform with sound accounting principles, and meet the requirements of the act.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at the hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve a copy of this notice and order, by registered mail, on American Natural, American Louisiana, and the Federal Power Commission; that this notice and order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and that a general release of the Commission in respect of this notice and order shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the persons appearing upon the Commission's mailing list for releases under the act.

By the Commission.

PROCLAMATION 3099

CARRYING OUT THE SUPPLEMENTARY AGREEMENT WITH SWITZERLAND

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

1. WHEREAS, pursuant to the authority vested in the President by the Constitution and the statutes, including section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, on January 9, 1936, he entered into a trade agreement with the Swiss Federal Council, including two schedules and a declaration annexed thereto (49 Stat. (pt. 2) 3918), and by a proclamation of January 9, 1936 (49 Stat. (pt. 2) 3917), he proclaimed the said trade agreement, which proclamation has been supplemented by a proclamation of May 7, 1936 (49 Stat. (pt. 2) 3959), and a proclamation of November 28, 1940 (54 Stat. (pt. 2) 2461);

2. WHEREAS the said trade agreement specified in the first recital was supplemented on October 13, 1950, by certain provisions set forth in the 13th recital of the President's proclamation of November 26, 1951 (Proclamation No. 2954, 66 Stat. C6);

3. WHEREAS, by Proclamation No. 3062 of July 27, 1954 (3 CFR, 1954 Supp., p. 29), acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in the President by section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and by section 7 (c) of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951, and in accordance with the said trade agreement specified in the first recital as supplemented on October 13, 1950, the President proclaimed modifications of duty concessions granted by the United States with respect to certain products described in item 367 (a) of Schedule II of the said trade agreement, effective at the close of business July 27, 1954;

4. WHEREAS the said trade agreement specified in the first recital, as supplemented on October 13, 1950, provides for compensatory modifications thereof, whenever action is taken pursuant to Paragraph 1 of the supplemental provisions referred to in the second recital of this proclamation, in order to maintain, to the extent practicable, the general level of reciprocal and mutually advantageous concessions in the said trade agreement;

5. WHEREAS I have found as a fact that under the circumstances recited above existing duties or other import restrictions of the United States of America or of Switzerland are unduly burdening and restricting the foreign trade of the United States of America;

10. WHEREAS it is provided in paragraph numbered 4 of the said supplementary agreement specified in the eighth recital that it shall enter into force on July 11, 1955;

11. WHEREAS I find that such modifications of existing duties and other import restrictions and such continuance of existing customs and excise treatment of articles as are hereinafter proclaimed in Part I of this proclamation will be required or appropriate, on and after July 11, 1955, to carry out the said supplementary trade agreement specified in the eighth recital;

PART II

To the end that the said exclusive trade agreement specified in the twelfth recital may be carried out, the list set forth in the ninth recital of the said proclamation of January 1, 1948, as amended and rectified, shall be further amended by deleting therefrom the second item 28 (a), as amended by the said proclamation of June 2, 1951, effective on and after July 11, 1955.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter IV—Commodity Stabilization Service and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Loans, Purchases, and Other Operations

[1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Amdt. 1]

SUBPART—GENERAL PROVISIONS 1955-CROP PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAMS FOR GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The regulations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Commodity Stabilization Service published in 20 F. R. 3017 and containing regulations of a general nature with respect to price support programs for certain grains and other commodities produced in 1955 are amended as follows:

1. Section 421.1001 is amended to provide for approval of price support documents by the county office manager so that the amended section reads as follows:

§ 421.1001 Administration. The programs to which this subpart applies will be administered by CSS, under the general direction and supervision of the Executive Vice President, CCC, and in the field, will be carried out by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committees and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committees (hereinafter called State and County Committees) and CSS commodity offices. Producers interested in participating in the program should contact their county office through which the price support documents will be distributed. All documents will be approved by the county office manager, or other employee of the county office designated by him to act in his behalf. Such designations shall be on file in the county office. Copies of all price support documents shall be retained in the county office. County office managers, State and county committees, and CSS commodity offices do not have authority to modify or waive any of the provisions of this subpart or any amendments or supplements to this subpart.

2. Section 421.1018 (a) (1) is changed by deleting the fourth, fifth and sixth sentences and inserting three new sentences in lieu thereof to clarify the conditions under which a grade and quality determination will be made when the commodity is going out of condition, or is in danger of going out of condition, so that the amended subparagraph reads as follows:

§ 421.1018 Liquidation of loans and delivery under purchase agreements—(a) Farm-storage loans. (1) The producer is required to pay off his loan on or before maturity or to deliver the commodity in accordance with instructions issued by the county committee. If the producer desires to deliver the commodity, he should, prior to maturity, give the county committee notice in writing of his intention to do so. The producer may, however, pay off his loan and redeem his commodity at any time prior to the delivery of the commodity to CCC or removal of the commodity by CCC. If, either before or after maturity, the commodity is going out of condition or is in danger of going out of condition, the producer shall so notify the county committee, and confirm such notice in writing. If the county committee determines that the commodity is going out of condition or is in danger of going out of condition and that the commodity cannot be satisfactorily conditioned by the producer, and delivery cannot be accepted within a reasonable length of time, the county committee shall arrange for an inspection and grade and quality determination. When delivery is completed, settlement shall be made on the basis of such grade and quality determination or on the basis of the grade and quality determination made at the time of delivery, whichever is higher. In the event the farm is sold, there is a change of tenancy, or the producer dies, the commodity may be delivered before the maturity date of the loan, upon prior approval by the county committee, or may be delivered before the maturity date of the loan for other reasons upon authorization of the Executive Vice President, CCC. Settlement will be made at the applicable support rate, subject to the provisions of the Producer's Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement and applicable commodity supplement according to grade and quality. Delivery of commodities in bulk will be accepted only from the bin(s) in which the commodity under loan is stored. In case a loan is made on part of the commodity in the bin, the maximum quantity eligible for delivery shall be the quantity on which the loan was made plus any normal overrun established by the State Committee. In the case of commodities stored in bags, only the quantity contained in the bags included in the lot placed under loan may be delivered. Settlement will be made on the quantity delivered by the producer as determined by the county committee in accordance with the applicable commodity supplement.

3. Section 421.1018 (d) (3) is changed to set forth certain conditions under which CCC will assume losses due to quality deterioration so that the amended subparagraph reads as follows:

§ 421.1018 Liquidation of loans and delivery under purchase agreements. • • •

(d) Purchase agreements. • • •

(3) The producer may be required to retain a commodity stored in other than approved warehouse storage for a period of 60 days after the applicable loan maturity date without any cost to CCC. CCC will not assume any loss in quantity or quality of a commodity covered by a purchase agreement occurring prior to delivery to CCC, except for quality deterioration under the following circumstances. If a producer has properly requested delivery instructions and CCC cannot accept delivery within the 60 day period following the applicable loan maturity date, the producer may notify the county committee at any time after such 60 day period that the commodity is going out of condition or is in danger of going out of condition. Such notice must be confirmed in writing. If the county committee determines that the commodity is going out of condition or is in danger of going out of condition and that the commodity cannot be satisfactorily conditioned by the producer, and delivery cannot be accepted within a reasonable length of time, the county committee shall obtain an inspection and grade and quality determination. When delivery is completed, settlement shall be made on the basis of such grade and quality determination or on the basis of the grade and quality determination made at the time of delivery, whichever is higher, and on the basis of the quantity actually delivered.

GENERAL

§ 481.625 General statement. In order to encourage the sale and exportation by commercial exporters of wheat produced in the United States and flour processed in the United States from such wheat and in order to exercise the rights, obtain the benefits and fulfill the obligations of the United States under the Wheat Agreement, the Commodity Credit Corporation (referred to in this subpart as CCC), pursuant to the authority conferred by section 2 of the International Wheat Agreement Act of 1949, as amended, offers to make payments to exporters under the terms and conditions stated in this subpart. Information pertaining to the operation of this program and forms prescribed for use thereunder can be obtained upon request directed to the address shown in § 481.675, or from the Director, Commodity Stabilization Service Office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, located in the cities listed in § 481.663.

ELIGIBILITY FOR PAYMENT BY THE COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION

§ 481.630 General conditions of eligibility. (a) Payment under this subpart will be made to an exporter in connection with the net quantity of wheat or flour exported to a designated country from the United States and the net quantity of wheat or flour in customs bond in Canada exported to a designated country from Canadian ports, excluding West Coast Canadian ports, pursuant to a sale to a foreign buyer for which he receives a confirmation by the CCC in accordance with § 481.648, subject to the additional conditions set forth in this subpart. Payment also will be made to an exporter for wheat or flour exported prior to sale and for which the exporter has received a confirmation by the CCC subject to the conditions contained in § 481.638.

(b) A sale which involves wheat produced outside the United States, or flour processed from any such wheat, or a mixture which is partly derived from wheat produced outside the United States is not eligible for confirmation by the CCC for export payment. However, in the event that CCC determines that such a mixture is exported unintentionally, payment may be made but only on that portion, which is established to the satisfaction of CCC as having been, produced in the United States.

(c) In any case where the Wheat Council, subsequent to confirmation by the CCC, determines that a sale, or any part thereof, is ineligible to be, or to remain, recorded because of non-compliance with the applicable regulations of the importing country governing purchase and importation under the Wheat Agreement, payment may be withheld or required to be refunded if already made.

(d) Wheat or flour exported pursuant to any other CCC program wherein the price reflects an export allowance shall not be eligible for payment under this subpart.

§ 481.631 Program period. Sales entered into after the effective date of this offer and not later than June 30, 1956, for recording against the 1954–55 or 1955–56 Wheat Agreement year quotas, are eligible for payment under this offer. Sales must be entered into during periods in which an announced rate is in effect, and in reliance thereon, in order to be eligible for payment.

§ 481.632 Date of exportation. (a) Wheat or flour sold for recording against the 1954–55 Wheat Agreement guaranteed quantities must be exported on or before August 14, 1955, unless approval is obtained from the Director, Grain Division, Commodity Stabilization Service (referred to in this subpart as the Director), to export subsequent thereto. Wheat or flour sold for recording against the 1955–56 Wheat Agreement guaranteed quantities must be exported during the period August 1, 1955 to July 31, 1956, inclusive, unless exportation prior or subsequent to that period is authorized (1) by announcement issued in connection with the daily export payment rate announcement (see § 481.640), or (2) in specific cases by prior approval of the Director.

(b) Wheat or flour sold for export in a specified export rate period must be exported before the end of that period in order for that exporter to obtain the export payment rate applicable to that sale, unless an extension is obtained changing the export date to a later period. In the event that export takes place after the specified rate period and the exporter has not obtained an extension to change the export date to a later period, the export payment rate will be that which was in effect at time of sale, or time of giving Notice of Sale, whichever is lower, for the period in which actual export takes place. It will be the policy to grant an extension if it can be shown that exportation under the contract has been delayed by circumstances beyond the exporter's or importer's control and is not due to intentional violation of the contract.

§ 481.633 Exports to designated countries. Exports of wheat or flour under this program shall be made only to the country named in the Notice of Sale and the Declaration of Sale unless the exporter obtains, prior to export, authority from the Director to export to designated country other than the purchasing country named in the Notice of Sale and Declaration of Sale.

§ 481.634 Excess quantities exported. Payment will not be made on quantities loaded on vessels or exported by rail or truck which exceed by more than 1 percent the quantity shown on the Declaration of Sale, or, in the case of bulk wheat, a loading tolerance as specified in the contract but which shall not exceed 5 percent of the contract quantity on parcel shipments or 10 percent of the contract quantity on full cargo shipments, unless clearance is obtained from the Director, in which case a new Declaration of Sale and a new Confirmation of Sale for the additional quantity is required. Payment will be made without additional clearance where, in the case of flour or bagged wheat, the loaded quantity does not exceed the contract quantity by more than 1 percent, and in the case of bulk wheat the loaded quantity does not exceed the contract quantity by more than 1 percent, or a loading tolerance as specified in the contract, whichever is greater, but such loading tolerance shall not exceed 5 percent of the contract quantity on parcel shipments and 10 percent of the contract quantity on full cargo shipments.

§ 481.635 Reports. The exporter shall submit the reports and documents specified in §§ 481.655 to 481.658, inclusive.

§ 481.636 Evidence of export. Proof of Export, and specified supporting documents, must be submitted in accordance with § 481.662.

§ 481.637 Reentry or diversion. If any quantity of wheat or flour exported under this subpart is unloaded in the United States or Canada prior to being imported into some country other than the United States or Canada, or because of the exporter's action or with his consent is at any time unloaded in the United States or Canada or diverted to another country while en route, payment may be withheld, or if payment has already been made, the exporter may be required to make such refund or other adjustment as deemed appropriate by the Vice President: Provided, That if the wheat or flour with respect to which payment may be withheld or refund required under this section is lost, destroyed or damaged, the amount of the payment withheld or refund required shall not exceed the amount realized or which might reasonably be realized by the exporter over the price at which it was sold to the designated country. The exporter shall notify the Director immediately upon becoming cognizant of any unloading or diversion of wheat or flour with respect to which payment may be withheld or refund required under this section and furnish information as to the condition of such wheat or flour and any claim he may have in connection with any damage or loss thereto or destruction thereof.

§ 481.638 Wheat and flour exported prior to sale. (a) In connection with the quantity of wheat and flour exported prior to sale, payments will be made only on that portion thereof which has been reported in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section and only on sales made by the actual exporter of such wheat or flour, and not to any other party who buys such wheat or flour and re-sells it to a designated country.

(b) In order to receive export payment the exporter must have reported the exportation of such wheat or flour to the Director within one week after the date of such exportation as defined in § 481.686, unless additional time for reporting is granted by the Director. This report, which will be considered as a certification by the exporter, must include the following information:

(1) Date of exportation.

(2) Port of exportation.
(3) Country and port of original destination of wheat and flour.
(4) Name of ocean vessel upon which loaded.
(5) Quantity:
(i) Wheat in bushels.
(ii) Flour in net hundredweight.
(6) Class and grade of wheat; or type and extraction of flour.
(7) The report shall also contain a statement that the vessel contains wheat or flour sold to a designated country under the terms of the Wheat Agreement by the exporter filing the report, as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Only wheat or flour which is loaded on a vessel which also carries wheat or flour which has been sold by the same exporter to a designated country as provided in this subpart shall be reported under paragraph (b) of this section, and shall be eligible for export payment when sold. In the case of full cargo shipments the unsold portion shall not exceed one-third of the total cargo. In the case of part cargo lots the unsold portion shall not exceed 2,000 metric tons.

(d) At such time as the wheat or flour is sold to a designated country, the exporter shall report the sale to the Director as provided in § 481.655, and shall submit all other reports and documents as required by this subpart. In reporting the sale the exporter must state that the wheat or flour sold was reported to the Director, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section. This may be done by the use of the code word "Abroad."

(e) The export rate applicable to such sale shall be that rate in effect at time of sale, or time of giving Notice of Sale, whichever is the lower, for the current export rate period which applies (1) to the port from which the wheat or flour was exported, and (2) to the designated country shown in the Notice of Sale and the Declaration of Sale, or the country of final destination, whichever is lower.

(f) In addition to the documents required under § 481.662, the exporter will be required in the case of flour to submit with Public Voucher Form CSS 21 a document which carries a description of such flour. The exporter should obtain separate bill or bills of lading for both the unsold and sold quantities of wheat or flour exported.

(g) All other conditions of this subpart, except as modified by paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section are applicable to sales described by this section.

EXPORT PAYMENT RATES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

§ 481.640 Announcement of rates. Export payment rates will be announced from Washington, D. C., daily or at intervals of up to 7 days. Announcement of rates will be released at approximately 3:31 p. m., e. s. t. (see § 481.689), and will remain in effect through 3:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the expiration date stated in the announcement at which time a new announcement will be made. No rates will be announced on Saturday, and rates effective at 3:31 p. m., e. s. t., on Friday will be considered as in effect through 3:30 p. m., e. s. t., of the market day succeeding Saturday unless the announcement specifically provides otherwise. Announcement will be available through a press release, ticker service, and through Commodity Stabilization Service Offices at Portland (Oregon), Minneapolis, Kansas City (Missouri), Dallas, Chicago, and New Orleans. Different rates of payment based upon export ports or areas, destinations, period of exportation, or other factors may be announced for the same period.

§ 481.641 Determination of rates. The rate in effect at the time of sale to the foreign buyer in the country of destination or the time of giving Notice of Sale as required by § 481.655 (a), whichever rate is the lower, shall be the rate applicable to the sale. In the case of resales of wheat or flour, the export rate for such sales will be that applicable to the original purchasing country or to the country of final destination, whichever is lower. The supporting evidence as proof of sale submitted by the exporter in form prescribed in § 481.656 (d), will be the basis for determining the time of sale. The following are factors which may be determinative of the time of sale.

(a) Time of filing by the exporter of a cablegram or time of mailing of a written acceptance of a definite offer to purchase received from the foreign buyer.

(b) Time of receipt by the exporter of a cablegram or other written acceptance from the foreign buyer of a definite offer by the exporter to sell or the time of receipt by the exporter of a cablegram or other written notification from his agent that the foreign buyer has accepted a definite offer by the exporter to sell.

(c) Time of filing by the exporter of a cablegram or time of mailing of a written confirmation of the booking of a shipment or shipments to be made pursuant to an open offer of the exporter to sell or a standing order of the buyer to purchase. It must be clear from the evidence, however, that the exporter is empowered by the terms of the open offer or standing order to confirm the contract by issuing a confirmation. For example, if he is authorized to confirm the sale at a price which may be established at his option, the evidence must show that such is the understanding between buyer and seller, otherwise it will be necessary for the buyer also to confirm the price, and receipt of the buyer's confirmation will establish the time of sale.

(d) Sales may be made through a third principal party, but in such cases, in determining the time of sale, no substantially greater lapse of time for receipt of buyer's confirmation will be recognized than would have elapsed had the exporter been dealing directly with the ultimate foreign buyer. In such a transaction, the evidence of sale required by § 481.656 (d) shall include documents exchanged between the exporter, the ultimate foreign buyer, and the intermediate third party.

(e) A sale shall not be considered as entered into until the purchase price has been established, and time of sale shall be the earliest date on which a firm contract exists between buyer and seller and on which a firm price has been established. In order to receive payment at the announced rate in effect at the time of sale, it is important that the exporter give timely Notice of Sale as required by § 481.655 (a) and present documentary evidence that the sale was consummated at such time.

(f) If export is wholly by truck or rail and the time of sale cannot be determined on the basis of the factors set forth in paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section, or by any other means, the sale will be deemed to have been made at the time of issuance of inland bill of lading, or if none is issued, at the time of clearance through United States customs. If export is by ocean carrier and time of sale cannot be determined as outlined above, the sale will be deemed to have been made at the time of issuance of ocean carrier bill of lading, or if none is issued, at the time the wheat or flour is loaded on board ocean carrier.

(g) If the time of day at which the sale was consummated is not established and two payment rates are in effect on the day the sale was consummated, the time of consummation of sale will be deemed to be at the time the lower of the two rates was in effect.

§ 481.642 Conversion factors. The following conversion factors shall be applied to the announced rate to determine the rate applicable to a particular type of flour:

	Factor
Wheat flour (including clears), derived from conventional milling practices which are generally accepted in the milling industry in the United States as representing a 72 percent extraction operation	1.000
Semolina and farina	1.000
Wheat flour, derived from conventional milling practices which are generally accepted in the milling industry in the United States as representing an 80 percent extraction operation	.919
Whole Wheat Flour	.717

§ 481.643 Statement of status of purchases and sales. There will be issued not less often than weekly, a statement as to the progress of purchases and sales by individual importing and exporting countries against their guaranteed quantities. Any exporter upon request, addressed to the office indicated in § 481.675, will be furnished with such information as is available as to the status of the fulfillment of guaranteed quantities under the Wheat Agreement.

§ 481.644 Maximum and minimum prices. Maximum and/or minimum prices at which wheat may be sold under the Wheat Agreement will be announced from time to time by CCC. The Wheat Agreement provides that to such maximum prices may be added such marketing costs and carrying charges as may be agreed between buyer and seller, and that such carrying charges may accrue for the buyer's account only after an agreed date specified in the contract under which the wheat is sold. (See § 481.655 (b) (3) (i).)

CONFIRMATION OF ELIGIBILITY

§ 481.648 (a) Confirmation of eligibility. Upon receipt of the Notice of Sale required by § 481.655, CCC will confirm the eligibility of the sale or any part thereof, by telegram, for payment upon proof that the conditions set forth in this subpart have been met, unless CCC determines that the transaction is ineligible for entry in the records of the Wheat Council under the provisions of the Wheat Agreement or unless CCC determines that the transaction would not obtain for the U. S. the maximum benefits under the Wheat Agreement. Accordingly, it may be to the exporter's advantage in some instances to ascertain from the office indicated in § 481.675, prior to making a sale, whether the sale may be confirmed as eligible. It shall be the responsibility of the exporter to protect himself (for example, by inserting an appropriate provision into his sales contract) against the possibility that the transaction will not be confirmed. It shall not be the duty or responsibility of CCC to guarantee that a transaction which appears to the exporter prior to sale to be eligible for recording in the Wheat Council's records will be confirmed as eligible.

(b) In the telegram of confirmation, CCC may utilize the code letters "CEP", to indicate "Confirmed as Eligible for Payment."

(c) Assigning of numbers. Each confirmation will be assigned a number which shall be called the Wheat Agreement Sale Number. This number will be included in the Confirmation of eligibility, and thereafter shall be shown on the Declaration of Sale (see § 481.656), the Notice of Export (see § 481.657), and Voucher Form CSS–21, and in all correspondence with reference to the transaction.

§ 481.649 Eligibility for entry in the Wheat Council's records. The Wheat Agreement provides that:

(a) Wheat. A transaction or part of a transaction in wheat-grain between participating exporting and importing countries is eligible for entry in the Wheat Council's records against guaranteed quantities of those countries for a crop year:

(1) Provided (i) it is at a price not higher than the maximum nor lower than the minimum (i. e., the equivalents of the basic maximum and minimum prices) in effect during the crop year in which the loading periods specified in the transaction falls and (ii) the exporting and importing countries have not agreed that it shall not be entered against their guaranteed quantities, and

(2) To the extent that (i) both the importing and exporting countries concerned have unfilled quantities for the crop year, and (ii) the loading period specified in the transaction falls within that crop year.

(b) Flour. If a commercial contract or governmental agreement on the sale and purchase of flour contains a statement, or if the exporting country and the importing country concerned inform the Wheat Council that they are agreed, that the price of such flour is consistent with the maximum and minimum price in effect during the crop year in which the loading period specified in the transaction falls, the wheat-grain equivalent of such flour shall, subject to the conditions prescribed in paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section, be entered in the Wheat Council's records against the guaranteed quantities of those countries. If there is no such statement or agreement as specified in this paragraph, either country involved in the transaction may request the Wheat Council to decide whether the quantity sold should be entered in its records and the Wheat Council shall decide whether the price at which the flour was sold justified the entry of the transaction in the records.

DESIGNATED COUNTRIES

§ 481.653 Designated countries. A designated country shall be any one of the following countries, including territories, which has been designated by announcement issued in connection with export payment rates provided for in § 481.640.

Austria.	Italy.
Belgium.	Japan.
Bolivia.	Jordan.
Brazil.	Korea.

REPORTS

§ 481.655 Notice of Sale—(a) Time. (1) The exporter shall file a Notice of Sale, normally as soon as possible after consummation of the sale. (See § 481.675.) (In order to comply with the terms of the Wheat Agreement, CCC's report of transactions must reach the Wheat Council in London not later than 10 days after date of consummation.)

(2) The order in which transactions are reported (time of filing telegraphic notice) or time of giving telephonic notice assumes importance when guaranteed quantities are near to being filled. Notices of Sale should normally be filled by telegraph or by telephone. Telephone notices should be confirmed immediately by telegraph.

(3) If notice is not given by telephone, and the exporter desires to take advantage of the current rate of payment, the telegram reporting sale must be filed by 3:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the expiration date for such rate as shown in the rate announcement.

(4) A Notice of Sale may include all sales made to any one designated country during any 24-hour period ending at 3:30 p. m., e. s. t. It shall be normal practice when such multiple sales are submitted in one telegraphic Notice of Sale to assign one Wheat Agreement Sale Number to apply to all sales to a particular country shown in that telegram. Every sale reported in a separate telegram will be assigned an individual Sale Number.

(b) Information required. In giving Notice of Sale the exporter must report the following information:

(1) Date of sale.
(2) Contract quantity:
(i) Wheat in bushels.
(ii) For bulk wheat the contract loading tolerance, if any, in percentage, but not in excess of five percent on parcel shipments or ten percent on full cargo shipments.
(iii) Flour in net hundredweight.
(3) Sale price:
(i) In the case of wheat, the sale price must be shown on an f. o. b. vessel bulk basis, except that on exports from West Coast ports price may be given on an in-store basis. In addition, the coast of export must be shown. If, because of marketing costs and carrying charges as provided for in § 481.644, the sales price exceeds the maximum price, the Notice of Sale must show the total price and the amount thereof included for marketing costs and carrying charges, each shown separately. The f. o. b. or the in-store price shown shall include all charges and commissions necessary to the sale and moving of the wheat to the f. o. b. or the instore position. For example, a selling agent's commission shall be included, whereas guaranteed outturn insurance shall not be included.

(ii) In case of flour, the sales price need not be shown, but the notice must contain a certification that buyer and seller agree that the price of the flour is consistent with the prices specified in the Wheat Agreement. This may be reported by the code word "Akord."

(4) Purchasing country.

(5) Name of purchaser. (Where the sale involves more than one purchaser, the Notice of Sale should contain the name of one purchaser and the word "others.")

(6) The number of the import license, buying permit, or similar authorization applicable to the sale, for those countries where such is required for IWA transactions, unless otherwise authorized by the Director. (Where the sale involves more than one purchaser, the Notice of Sale should contain one license number and the word "others".)

(7) Delivery period specified in contract.

(8) Class and grade of wheat.

(9) The word "Abroad" for wheat or flour exported prior to sale. (See § 481.638 (d).)

(10) Such additional information in individual cases as may be requested by the Director.

§ 481.656 Declaration of Sale and evidence of sale—(a) Time of submission and required copies. (1) The exporter shall prepare a Declaration of Sale (Wheat Agreement Form No. 1) and mail or deliver it normally within two days after receipt of the Confirmation of Eligibility. (See § 481.675.)

(2) The Declaration of Sale must be submitted in triplicate where there is only one buyer, and in quadruplicate where there is more than one buyer. The original and all copies shall be signed in an original signature by the exporter or his authorized representative. One copy of the Declaration of Sale will be acknowledged and returned to the exporter.

(3) One Declaration of Sale normally should be submitted by the exporter for each sale identified by a Sale Number assigned in the Confirmation of Eligibility (see § 481.648 (b)), although this is not mandatory. If more than one Declaration of Sale is submitted, the letters A, B, C, etc., shall be added to the Wheat Agreement Sale Number on the respective declaration.

(b) Information required. The information to be entered on the Wheat Agreement Form No. 1, Declaration of Sale, is as follows:

(1) The Wheat Agreement Sale Number as assigned in the Confirmation of Eligibility.

(2) Date and time of sale.

(3) Name of purchaser, or purchasers.

(4) The number of each import license, buying permit, or similar authorization applicable to the sale, for those countries where such are required for IWA transactions. The applicable number(s) shall be entered following each buyer's name. All applicable numbers shall be so entered even though such numbers were reported in the Notice of Sale.

(5) Quantity sold:

(i) Wheat in bushels. If, in the case of bulk wheat, the sales contract provides for a loading tolerance, the amount of such tolerance, but not to exceed five percent on parcel shipment or ten percent on full cargo shipments, given in percentage figures shall be entered directly following the quantity sold.

(ii) Flour in net hundredweight.

(6) Purchasing country. (If the country of final destination is other than the purchasing country, the country of final destination shall be shown as a parenthetical entry following the name of the purchasing country.)

(7) Delivery period specified in the contract.

(8) Class and grade of wheat or type and extraction of flour. In the case of flour, the class of wheat from which the flour was milled and the approximate ash content must be shown. For example: "Hard Spring 0.48 Ash". For blended flours, the most predominant class of wheat contained in the blend should be shown. For example: "Blended (predominantly) Hard Winter 0.70 ash".

(9) Price and the basis upon which price is determined:

(i) The sales price in the case of wheat must be given on an f. o. b. vessel, bulk, basis, on exports from gulf and East Coast ports and on an in-store or f. o. b. vessel, bulk, basis, on exports from the West Coast ports. If, because of marketing costs and carrying charges as provided for in § 481.644, the sale price of wheat exceeds the maximum price, the declaration shall show the total price and the amount thereof included for marketing costs and carrying charges, each shown separately. The f. o. b. or the in-store price shown shall include all charges and commissions necesary to the sale and the moving of the wheat to the f. o. b. or the in-store position. For example, a selling agent's commission shall be included, whereas guaranteed out-turn insurance shall not be included.

(10) Export rate per bushel of wheat or per hundredweight of flour in effect as determined by § 481.641.

(11) Coastal area from which it is anticipated exportation will be made.

(12) Such additional information in individual cases as may be requested by the Director.

(c) Name in which filed. The Declaration of Sale must be filed in the name of the exporter who has sold the wheat or flour to a foreign buyer. Persons or firms selling wheat or flour to others who resell such wheat or flour to foreign buyers are not exporters. If a sale is made under a trade name, the Declaration of Sale may be filed under such name provided the name of the actual exporter and the relationship between the two is clearly established by an appropriate signature on the Declaration and all related documents, such as:

AMERICAN MILLING CO.,
(Trade Name)
U. S. MILLING CO.,
(s) JOHN SMITH,
Secretary.

(d) Evidence of sale. Supporting evidence of sale, in one copy only, must be filed with each Declaration of Sale. Such evidence may be in the form of certified true copies of offer and acceptance or other documentary evidence of sale including contracts between exporter and buyer. In transactions involving a third principal party (see § 481.641 (d)) the evidence shall include documents exchanged between the exporter, the ultimate foreign buyer, and the intermediate third party. In the case of flour the exporter must also furnish a signed statement or other acceptable evidence, such as an exchange of cables, to the effect that buyer and seller agree that the price of the flour is consistent with prices specified in the Wheat Agreement.

§ 481.657 Notice of Export—(a) Time of submission and required copies. Only one Notice of Export, Wheat Agreement Form No. 2, is required in connection with any one Declaration of Sale. Such Notice of Export must be mailed or delivered by the exporter normally within three days after date of export of the last shipment against the quantity shown as sold on the applicable Declaration of Sale, unless such time of filing is extended by the Director. (See § 481.675.)

(b) Information required. The Notice of Export shall contain the following information:

(1) Wheat Agreement Sale Number.

(2) Date of export of final shipment.

(3) Country of destination.

(4) Total quantity actually loaded on all shipments made in connection with applicable Declaration of Sale.

(i) Wheat in bushels, excluding dockage.

(ii) Flour in net hundredweight.

(5) The U. S. coastal area or areas from which the wheat or flour was exported. If more than one coastal area is involved, the quantity exported from each should be shown.

§ 481.658 Additional reports. The exporter shall file such additional reports as may be required from time to time by the Director, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget.

APPLICATION FOR PAYMENT

§ 481.660 Application for payment. The exporter shall make an application for payment under this program in the manner set forth in §§ 481.661 and 481.663.

§ 481.661 Public Voucher Form CSS–21. An original and two (2) copies of Form CSS–21 must be prepared and submitted together with the evidence of exportation set forth in § 481.662. Supplies of Form CSS–21 and detailed instructions regarding the preparation and submission of Form CSS–21 and supporting documents may be obtained from the CSS Commodity Offices listed in § 481.663 or from the office indicated in § 481.675.

§ 481.662 Documents required to evidence exportation by exporters—(a) Bills of lading or Shipper's Export Declaration. Each voucher must be supported by one copy of the applicable on-board ocean carrier bill of lading signed by an agent of the ocean carrier which shows that the wheat or flour is destined for the buyer identified with the Declaration of Sale and supporting evidence, unless otherwise approved by the Director. Where loss, destruction or damage occurs subsequent to loading on-board ocean carrier but prior to issuance of on-board bill of lading, one copy of a Loading Tally Sheet or similar document may be submitted in lieu of such bill of lading; or if exported wholly by rail or truck, one copy of the Shipper's Export Declaration authenticated by the appropriate United States Customs official which identifies the shipment(s) and shows date of clearance into the foreign country. If the final destination of the shipment is a designated country not shown on the ocean bill of lading, the exporter also shall furnish an authenticated copy of Shipper's Export Declaration showing country of final destination. In the case of wheat, the voucher must also be supported by one copy of an Export Grain Inspection Certificate issued by an inspector holding a license under the United States Grain Standards Act. Where shipment is exported from a Canadian port, the voucher also must be supported by one copy each of the following documents:

(1) For wheat:

(i) A signed or certified true copy of the bill of lading or other document covering the movement of the wheat from the United States to Canada; and

(ii) A signed or certified true copy of document evidencing the holding of the wheat in customs bond in Canada.

(2) For flour:

(i) A signed or certified true copy of the bill of lading or other document covering the movement of the flour from the United States to Canada; and

(ii) A statement by the exporter, certified as being a true and correct statement, that the flour for which export payment is claimed is the same flour covered by the bill of lading or other document as required by subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(b) Shipper or consignor other than exporter. If the shipper or consignor named in the on-board ocean bill(s) of lading or the Shipper's Export Declaration(s), covering wheat or flour exported is other than the exporter named in the Notice of Sale and Declaration of Sale, waiver by such shipper or consignor of any interest in the claim in favor of such exporter is required. Such waiver must clearly identify the on-board ocean bill(s) of lading or Shipper's Export Declaration(s) submitted to evidence exportation. If the shipper or consignor is neither the exporter named in the Notice of Sale and Declaration of Sale, nor the consignee identified with the Declaration of Sale and supporting evidence of sale, the exporter must submit, in addition to the waiver a certification by such shipper or consignor that he acted only as a freight forwarder, agent of exporter, or agent of consignee, and not as buyer and seller of the wheat or flour shown on the documents submitted to evidence exportation.

(c) Statements evidencing resale. In connection with the sale of wheat or flour under the Wheat Agreement to a designated country which is resold for export to another designated country, there must be included with the voucher a statement from the buyer directing shipment to the second designated country if the contract or supporting evidence of sale does not provide for such shipment.

(d) Export prior to sale. In the event of export prior to sale such additional documents as required by § 481.638 (f) must also accompany the voucher.

§ 481.663 Submission of voucher for payment. Vouchers and required supporting documents should be submitted to the office listed below which services the State in which the exporter's invoicing office is located.

OBLIGATION AND DEFAULT

§ 481.665 Exporter's agreement with CCC. The Notice of Sale by the exporter and CCC's Confirmation of Eligibility shall constitute an agreement by the exporter to export the quantity of wheat or flour within the prescribed period stated in the Notice of Sale and in accordance with this subpart in consideration of the undertaking of CCC to make an export payment.

§ 481.666 Cancellation of sale or failure to export. (a) The exporter shall notify the Director promptly in every case where, after giving Notice of Sale as required in § 481.655, a sale is canceled by the exporter or by the importer, and he must state the reason for such cancellation. The exporter also shall notify the Director promptly when, for any reason, it becomes apparent to him that he will not be able to fulfill his obligation under this subpart by making shipment within the prescribed period.

(b) If the Vice President, after affording an exporter the opportunity to present evidence, determines that such exporter due to the cancellation of a sale or failure to export or for other reasons has failed to discharge fully any obligation assumed by him under this subpart such exporter may be denied the right to continue participating in this or any subsequent program for such period as the Vice President may determine or until the exporter has complied with such terms as the Vice President may prescribe. Such terms, among other things, may:

(1) Require the refund of payments previously made to the exporter in an amount equivalent to twenty (20) percent of the payment applicable to the quantity of wheat or flour with respect to which the exporter has failed to fulfill his obligation, or

(2) Require the making of future shipments not in excess of such quantity at a payment rate which is reduced by an amount equivalent to twenty (20) percent of the payment rate applicable to such quantity, or

(3) Require a combination of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Such records, accounts, and other documents relating to any transaction in connection with this program shall be available during regular business hours for inspection and audit by authorized employees of the United States Department of Agriculture, and shall be preserved for two years after date of export.

§ 481.671 Assignments. No exporter shall, without the written consent of the Director, assign any right of the exporter under this subpart. The exporter may, however, name a joint payee on Voucher Form CSS–21.

§ 481.672 Good faith. If the Vice President after affording the exporter an opportunity to present evidence determines that such exporter has not acted in good faith in connection with any transaction under this subpart such exporter may be denied the right to continue participating in this program or the right to receive payment under this subpart in connection with any sales previously made under this program, or both. Such exporter may also be required to refund any payment received by him in connection with the transaction in which he is determined not to have acted in good faith. Any such action shall not affect any other right of the Commodity Credit Corporation or the government by way of the premises.

§ 481.673 Amendment and termination. This offer may be amended or terminated at any time by public announcement of such amendment or termination. Any such amendment or termination shall not be applicable to sales for export (which otherwise comply with the terms of this offer) made before the effective time and date of such amendment or termination.

§ 481.674 Persons not eligible. No member or delegate to Congress, or resident commissioner, shall be admitted to any benefit that may arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to a payment made to a corporation for its general benefit.

GENERAL

§ 725.711 Basis and purpose. (a) The regulations contained in §§ 725.711 to 725.728 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and govern the establishment of 1956 farm acreage allotments and normal yields for Burley and flue-cured tobacco. The purpose of the regulations in §§ 725.711 to 725.728 is to provide the procedure for allocating, on an acreage basis, the national marketing quota for Burley and flue-cured tobacco for the 1956–57 marketing year among farms and for determining normal yields. Prior to preparing the regulations in §§ 725.711 to 725.728, public notice (20 F. R. 3800) was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003). The data, views, and recommendations pertaining to the regulations in §§ 725.711 to 725.728, which were submitted have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) In order that State and county committees may prepare and mail notices of farm acreage allotments as early as possible prior to the referendum for flue-cured tobacco which shall be held July 23, 1955, it is essential that the regulations in §§ 725.711 to 725.728 be made effective as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the 30-day effective date provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and such regulations shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 725.712 Definitions. As used in §§ 725.711 to 725.728, and in all instructions, forms, and documents in connection therewith the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) Committees:

(1) "Community committee" means the persons elected within a community as the community committee pursuant to regulations governing the selection and functions of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community committees.

(2) "County committee" means the persons elected within a county as the county committee pursuant to regulations governing the selection and functions of Agricultural Stablilization and Conservation county and community committees.

(3) "State committee" means the group of persons within any State designated by the Secretary of Agriculture to act as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State committee.

(b) "County office manager" means the person employed by the county committee to execute the policies of the county committee and be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the ASC county office, or the person acting in such capacity.

(c) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and

(2) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon, it shall be regarded as located in the county in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(d) "New farm" means a farm on which tobacco will be produced in 1956 for the first time since 1950.

(e) "Old farm" means a farm on which tobacco was produced in one or more of the five years 1951 through 1955.

(f) "Cropland" means farm land which in 1955 was tilled or was in regular crop-rotation, excluding (1) bearing orchards and vineyards (except the acreage of cropland therein), (2) plowable noncrop open pasture, and (3) any land which constitutes or will constitute, if tillage is continued, a wind erosion hazard to the community.

(g) "Community cropland factor" means that percentage determined by dividing the total cropland for all old farms in the community in 1955 into the total of the 1955 tobacco acreage allotment for such old farms: Provided, That (1) if it is determined that the cropland factors for all communities in the county are substantially the same, the county committee, with the approval of the State committee, may consider the entire county as one community, and (2) if there is only one farm in the county on which tobacco is grown, the community cropland factor of the nearest community in which tobacco is grown shall be used in determining the acreage indicated by cropland.

(h) "Acreage indicated by cropland" means that acreage determined by multiplying the number of acres of cropland in the farm by the community cropland factor.

(i) "Operator" means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(j) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust or other business enterprise or other legal entity, and whenever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof.

(l) "State administrative officer" means the person employed by the State committee to exeeute the policies of the State committee and be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the ASC State office, or the person acting in such capacity.

(m) "Tobacco" means:

(1) Burley tobacco type 31, or flue-cured tobacco types 11, 12, 13, and 14, as classified in Service and Regulatory Announcement No. 118 (Part 30 of this title) of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, or both, as indicated by the context.

(2) Any tobacco that has the same characteristics, and corresponding qualities, colors, and lengths as either Burley or flue-cured tobacco shall be considered respectively either Burley or flue-cured tobacco regardless of any factors of historical or geographical nature which cannot be determined by examination of the tobacco.

§ 725.713 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions. All acreage allotments shall be rounded to the nearest one hundredth acre. The rule of fractions will be to round upward fractions of more than five-thousands and to round downward fractions of five-thousands or less (i. e., 0.0050 would be 0.00, and 0.0051 would be 0.01).

§ 725.714 Instructions and forms. The Director, Tobacco Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, shall cause to be prepared and issued such forms as are necessary, and shall cause to be prepared such instructions with respect to internal management as are necessary for carrying out the regulations in this part. The forms and instructions shall be approved by, and the instructions shall be issued by, the Deputy Administrator for Production Adjustment of the Commodity Stabilization Service.

§ 725.715 Applicability of §§ 725.711 to 725.728. Sections 725.711 to 725.728 shall govern the establishment of farm acreage allotments and normal yields for tobacco in connection with farm marketing quotas for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1956, in the case of Burley tobacco, and July 1, 1956, in the case of flue-cured tobacco. The applicability of §§ 725.711 to 725.728 is contingent upon the proclamation of national marketing quotas for tobacco by the Secretary of Agriculture and approval thereof by growers voting in referenda pursuant to section 312 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS FOR OLD FARMS

§ 725.716 Determination of 1956 preliminary acreage allotments for old farms. The 1956 preliminary acreage allotment for an old farm shall be the 1955 farm acreage allotment with the following exceptions:

(a) If the acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in each of the three years 1953–55 was less than 75 percent of the farm acreage allotment for each of such years, the preliminary allotment shall be the larger of (1) the largest acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in any one of such three years, or (2) the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in the five years 1951–55: Provided, That any such preliminary allotment shall not exceed the 1955 allotment for such farm or be less than 0.01 acre.

(b) If no 1955 allotment was established for the farm on which tobacco was grown in 1955 for the first time since 1950, the 1956 preliminary allotment shall be that acreage which the county committee determines (with the approval of the State committee) is fair and reasonable for the farm taking into consideration the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco: Provided, That such preliminary allotment shall not exceed 20 percent of the acreage indicated by cropland, or be less than one-hundredth (.01) of an acre.

§ 725.717 1956 old farm tobacco acreage allotment. The preliminary allotments calculated for all old farms in the State pursuant to § 725.716 shall be adjusted uniformly so that the total of such allotments for old farms plus the acreage available for adjusting acreage allotments for old farms pursuant to § 725.718 shall not exceed the State acreage allotment: Provided, That in the case of Burley tobacco, the farm acreage allotment shall not be less than the smallest of (a) the 1955 allotment, (b) fifty-hundredths of an acre, or (c) 10 percent of the cropland in the farm: Provided, That no 1955 allotment of seventy-hundredths of an acre or less shall be reduced more than one-tenth of an acre.

§ 725.718 Adjustment of acreage allotments for old farms. Notwithstanding the limitations contained in § 725.716, the farm acreage allotment for an old farm may be increased if the community and county committees (with the approval of the State committee) find that such increase is necessary to establish an allotment for such farm which is fair and equitable in relation to the allotments for other old farms in the community, on the basis of the past acreage of tobacco, making due allowances for drought, flood, hail, other abnormal weather conditions, plant bed, and other diseases; land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco. The acreage available for increasing allotments under this section shall not exceed one-tenth of one percent of the total acreage allotted to all tobacco farms in the State for the 1955–56 marketing year.

§ 725.719 Reduction of acreage allotment for violation of the marketing quota regulations for a prior marketing year. (a) If tobacco was marketed or was permitted to be marketed in any marketing year as having been produced on the acreage allotment for any farm which in fact was produced on a different farm, the acreage allotments established for both such farms for 1956 shall be reduced, as provided in this section, except that such reduction for any such farm shall not be made if the county committee determines that no person connected with such farm caused, aided, or acquiesced in such marketing.

(b) The operator of the farm shall furnish complete and accurate proof of the disposition of all tobacco produced on the farm at such time and in such manner as will insure payment of the penalty due at the time the tobacco is marketed and, in the event of failure for any reason to furnish such proof, the acreage allotment for the farm shall be reduced, except that if the farm operator establishes to the satisfaction of the county and State committees that failure to furnish such proof of disposition was unintentional on his part and that he could not reasonably have been expected to furnish accurate proof of disposition, reduction of the allotment will not be required if the failure to furnish proof of disposition is corrected and payment of all additional penalty is made.

(c) If any producer files, or aids or acquiesces in the filing of, any false report with respect to the acreage of tobacco grown on the farm in 1955, the acreage allotment for the farm shall be reduced, as provided in this section, except that if each producer on the farm establishes to the satisfaction of the county and State committees that the filing of, or aiding or acquiescing in the filing of, the false report was unintentional on his part and that he could not reasonably have been expected to know that the report was false, reduction of the allotment will not be required if the report is corrected and payment of all additional penalty is made.

(d) Any such reduction shall be made with respect to the 1956 farm acreage allotment, provided it can be made at least 30 days prior to the beginning of the normal planting season for the county in which the farm is located as determined by the State committee. If the reduction cannot be so made effective with respect to the 1956 allotment such reduction shall be made with respect to the farm acreage allotment next established for the farm where the reduction can be made within the appropriate 30-day period. This section shall not apply if the allotment for any prior year was reduced on account of the same violation.

(e) The amount of reduction in the 1956 allotment shall be that percentage which the amount of tobacco involved in the violation is of the respective farm marketing quota for the farm for the year in which the violation occurred. Where the amount of such tobacco involved in the violation equals or exceeds the amount of the farm marketing quota the amount of reduction shall be 100 percent. The amount of tobacco determined by the county committee to have been falsely identified, or for which satisfactory proof of disposition has not been furnished, or with respect to which a false acreage report was filed, shall be considered the amount of tobacco involved in the violation. If the actual production of tobacco on the farm is not known, the county committee shall estimate such actual production, taking into consideration the condition of the tobacco crop during production, if known, and the actual yield per acre of tobacco on other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar: Provided, That the estimate of such actual production of tobacco on the farm shall not exceed the harvested acreage of tobacco on the farm multiplied by the average actual yield on farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar. The actual yield of tobacco on the farm as so estimated by the county committee multiplied by the farm acreage allotment shall be considered the farm marketing quota for the purpose of this section. In determining the amount of tobacco for which satisfactory proof of disposition has not been shown or with respect to which a false acreage report was filed in case the actual production of tobacco on the farm is not known, the amount of tobacco involved in the violation shall be deemed to be the actual production of tobacco on the farm, estimated as above, less the amount of tobacco for which satisfactory proof of disposition has been shown.

(f) If the farm involved in the violation is combined with another farm prior to the reduction, the reduction shall be applied to that portion of the allotment for which a reduction is required under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

(g) If the farm involved in the violation has been divided prior to the reduction, the reduction shall be applied to the allotments for the divided farms as required under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

§ 725.720 Reallocation of allotments released from farms removed from agricultural production. (a) The allotment determined or which would have been determined for any land which is removed from agricultural production for any purpose because of acquisition by any Federal, State, or other agency having a right of eminent domain shall be placed in a State pool and shall be available to the State committee for use in providing equitable allotments for farms owned or purchased by owners displaced because of acquisition of their farms by such agencies. Upon application to the county committee, within five years from the date of such acquisition of the farm, any owner so displaced shall be entitled to have an allotment for any other farm owned or purchased by him equal to an allotment which would have been determined for such other farm plus the allotment which would have been determined for the farm so acquired: Provided, That such allotment shall not exceed 20 percent of the acreage of cropland on the farm in the case of Burley tobacco and 50 percent of the acreage of cropland on the farm in the case of flue-cured tobacco.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable if (1) there is any marketing quota penalty due with respect to the marketing of tobacco from the farm or by the owner of the farm at the time of its acquisition by the Federal, State, or other agency; (2) any tobacco produced on such farm has not been accounted for as required by the Secretary; or (3) the allotment next to be established for the farm acquired by the Federal, State, or other agency would have been reduced because of false or improper identification of tobacco produced on or marketed from such farm or due to a false acreage report.

§ 725.721 Farms divided or combined. (a) If land operated as a single farm in 1955 will be operated in 1956 as two or more farms, the 1956 tobacco acreage allotment determined or which otherwise would have been determined for the entire farm shall be apportioned among the tracts in the same proportion as the acreage of cropland available for the production of tobacco in each such tract in such year bore to the total number of acres of cropland available for the production of tobacco on the entire farm in such year, except that the tobacco acreage allotment determined or which otherwise would have been determined for the entire farm shall, if the farm to be divided for 1956 consists of two or more tracts which were separate and distinct farms before being combined within the past five years (1951–55), be apportioned among the tracts in the same proportion that each contributed to the farm acreage allotment: Provided, That with the recommendation of the county committee and approval of the State committee and with the written agreement of all interested persons, the tobacco acreage allotment determined for a tract under the provisions of this paragraph may be increased or decreased by not more than the larger of one-hundredth of an acre or 10 percent of the 1956 acreage allotment determined for the entire farm with corresponding increases or decreases made in the acreage allotment apportioned to the other tract or tracts.

(b) If two or more farms operated separately in 1955 are combined and operated in 1956 as a single farm, the 1956 allotment shall be the sum of the 1956 allotments determined for each of the farms comprising the combination or, in the case of Burley tobacco, if smaller, the allotment determined or which would have been determined for the farm as constituted in 1956.

(c) If a farm is to be divided in 1956 in settling an estate, the allotment may be divided among the various tracts in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section or on such other basis as the State committee determines will result in equitable allotments.

§ 725.722 Determination of normal yields. The normal yield for any old farm shall be that yield which the county committee determines is normal for the farm taking into consideration (a) the yields obtained on the farm during the five years 1950–54, (b) the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco on the farm, and (c) the yields obtained on other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to such factors.

ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS FOR NEW FARMS

§ 725.723 Determination of acreage allotments for new farms. (a) The acreage allotment, other than an allotment made under § 725.720, for a new farm shall be that acreage which the county committee (with the approval of the State committee) determines is fair and reasonable for the farm taking into consideration the past tobacco experience of the farm operator; the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco: Provided, That the acreage allotment so determined shall not exceed 50 percent of the allotments for old tobacco farms which are similar with respect to land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section a tobacco acreage allotment shall not be established for any new farm unless each of the following conditions has been met:

(1) The farm operator shall have had experience in growing the kind of tobacco for which an allotment is requested either as a share cropper, tenant, or as a farm operator during two of the past five years: Provided, That a farm operator who was in the armed services after September 16, 1940, shall be deemed to have met the requirements of this subparagraph if he has had such experience during one year either within the five years immediately prior to his entry into the armed services or within the five years immediately following his discharge from the armed services and if he files an application for an allotment within five crop years from date of discharge.

(2) The farm operator shall live on and obtain 50 percent or more of his livelihood from the farm covered by the application.

(3) The farm covered by the application shall be the only farm owned or operated by the farm operator for which a Burley or flue-cured tobacco allotment is established for the 1956–57 marketing year.

(c) The farm shall be operated by the owner thereof.

(d) The farm or any portion thereof shall not have been a part of another farm during the years 1951–55 for which an old farm tobacco acreage allotment was determined.

(e) The acreage allotments established as provided in this section shall be subject to such downward adjustment as is necessary to bring such allotments in line with the total acreage available for allotment to all new farms. One-fourth of one percent of the 1956 national marketing quota shall, when converted to an acreage allotment by the use of the national average yield, be available for establishing allotments for new farms. The national average yield shall be the average of the several State yields used in converting the State marketing quotas into State acreage allotments.

§ 725.724 Time for filing application. An application for a new farm allotment shall be filed with the ASC county office prior to February 1, 1956, unless the farm operator was discharged from the armed services subsequent to December 31, 1955, in which case such application shall be filed within a reasonable period prior to planting tobacco on the farm.

§ 725.725 Determination of normal yields. The normal yield for a new farm shall be that yield per acre which the county committee determines is normal for the farm as compared with yields for other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 725.726 Determination of acreage allotments and normal yield for farms returned to agricultural production. (a) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of §§ 725.711 to 725.725, the acreage allotment for any farm which was acquired by any Federal, State, or other agency having the right of eminent domain, for any purpose and which is returned to agricultural production in 1956, or which was returned to agricultural production in 1955 too late for the 1955 allotment to be established, shall be determined by one of the following methods:

(1) If the land is acquired by the original owner, any part of the acreage allotment which was or could have been established for such farm prior to its retirement from agricultural production which remains in the State pool (adjusted to reflect the uniform increases and decreases in comparable old farm allotments since the farm was acquired) may be established as the 1956 allotment for such farm by transfer from the pool, and if any part of the allotment for such land was transferred by the original owner through the State pool to another farm now owned by him, such owner may elect to transfer all or any part of such allotment (as adjusted) to the farm which is returned to agricultural production.

(2) If the land is acquired by a person other than the original owner, or if all of the allotment was transferred through the State pools to another farm and the original owner does not now own the farm to which the allotment was transferred, the farm returned to agricultural production shall be regarded as a new farm.

(b) The normal yield for any such farm shall be that yield per acre which the county committee determines is reasonable for the farm as compared with yields for other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar.

§ 725.727 Approval of determinations made under §§ 725.711 to 725.726. All allotments and yields shall be reviewed by or on behalf of the State committee, and the State committee may revise or require revision of any determinations made under §§ 725.711 to 725.726. All acreage allotments and yields shall be approved by or on behalf of the State committee and no official notice of acreage allotment shall be mailed to a grower until such allotment has been approved by or on behalf of the State committee.

§ 725.728 Application for review. Any producer who is dissatisfied with the farm acreage allotment and marketing quota established for his farm, may, within fifteen days after mailing of the official notice of the farm acreage allotment and marketing quota, file application with the ASC county office to have such allotment reviewed by a review committee. This procedure governing the review of farm acreage allotments and marketing quotas is contained in the regulations issued by the Secretary (Part 711 of this chapter) which are available at the ASC county office.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of June 1955. Witness my hand and seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Determination of Proportionate Shares

[Sugar Determination 856.2]

PART 856—HAWAII

1955 AND SUBSEQUENT CROPS

Pursuant to the provisions of section 302 of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (herein referred to as "act"), the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 856.2 Proportionate shares for sugarcane farms in Hawaii for the 1955 and subsequent crops—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this section the terms:

(1) "Processor-producer" means a producer who is a processor as defined in the determination of processor-producer (7 CFR Part 821) to whom the provisions of section 301 (c) (2) of the act are applicable.

(2) "Small producer" means any producer who qualifies as an independent grower for Sugar Act payment purposes and whose farm is located in the mill area of a specific processor-producer.

(3) "Area Director" means the Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Hawaiian Area Office.

(b) Proportionate share for any farm except the farm of a processor-producer. The proportionate share for the 1955 and each subsequent crop for any farm except the farm of a processor-producer, shall be the amount of sugar, raw value, commercially recoverable from sugarcane grown thereon and marketed (or processed by the producer) for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar during the applicable calendar year.

(c) Proportionate share for the farm of a processor-producer. The proportionate share for the 1955 and each subsequent crop for the farm of a processor-producer, shall be the amount of sugar, raw value, commercially recoverable from sugarcane grown thereon and marketed (or processed by the processor-producer) for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar during the applicable calendar year, subject to conditions for protecting the interests of small producers as follows:

(1) The total acres used for the production of sugarcane on the farm of the processor-producer at the end of the applicable calendar year shall not bear a higher percentage relationship to the total acres used by small producers for the production of sugarcane at the end of such year than that which existed at the beginning of such year, and with respect to the total acreage pertaining to small producers in such relationship, the processor-producer will receive, or be prepared to receive, sugarcane in accordance with those provisions of his sugarcane purchase contract for the 1955 crop which relate to the timing of the physical delivery of sugarcane grown by such small producers;

(2) The total number of farms of small producers at the end of the applicable calendar year shall not be less than the number of such farms at the beginning of such year;

Provided, That with respect to the above conditions relating to the percentage relationship of acreage and the number of small farms in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, adjustment in such percentage relationship and number of farms shall be made to take into account; (i) the changed status of adherent planters who become small producers after December 31, 1954; (ii) any minor and non-recurring acreage variation approved by the Area Director although such variation shall not be recognized with respect to the acreage bases for subsequent years; and (iii) any reduction in the acreage of small producers, or any deficiency in total acreage of small producers resulting from the failure of small producers to expand acreage, any case in which the small producer fails to cultivate his land in accordance with the minimum standards as set forth in the independent grower agreements for the 1955 crop, and any reduction in the number of farms of small producers, any or all of which are beyond the control of the processor-producer as determined by the Area Director and in making such determination the Area Director shall give consideration to whether a replacement grower is available. Each case will be considered by the Area Director and a decision issued at the earliest practicable date. The processor-producer shall within 30 days after notice thereof is mailed to him comply with any decision of the Area Director issued pursuant to this paragraph unless an appeal is taken pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section.

(d) Share tenant, share cropper and adherent planter protection. To protect the interests of share tenants, share croppers and adherent planters, and notwithstanding the establishment of a proportionate share for any farm under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, eligibility for payment of any producer of sugarcane shall be subject to the following conditions:

(1) The total number of adherent planters on such sugarcane farm for the applicable calendar year shall not be reduced below the number on such farm at the end of the previous calendar year unless such reduction is approved by the Area Director. In making such determination, the Area Director shall be guided by whether the reduction was the result of a voluntary action of the adherent planter, or whether the reduction was beyond the control of the producer, and whether a replacement planter is available. Each case will be considered by the Area Director and a decision issued at the earliest practicable date. Compliance with any decision of the Area Director issued pursuant to this paragraph shall be effected within 30 days after notice of such decision is mailed unless an appeal is taken pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section; and

(2) That such producer shall not have entered into any leasing or cropping agreement for the purpose of diverting to himself or other producer any payment to which share tenants, share croppers, or adherent planters would be entitled if their leasing or cropping agreements for the previous crop year were in effect.

(e) Appeals. Any producer who is affected by a decision of the Area Director made in accordance with this section and who believes such decision is inequitable may, within 30 days after notice of such decision is mailed to him, submit an appeal in writing to the Director of the Sugar Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and his decision shall be final. Such producer shall within 30 days from the date notice thereof is mailed to him comply with the decision of the Director issued pursuant to this paragraph.

(f) Effective period. The provisions of this section shall supersede § 856.1, the "Determination of Proportionate Shares for Sugarcane Farms in Hawaii for the 1954 and Subsequent Crops" (19 F. R. 4399), shall be effective for the 1955 crop and subsequent crops, and shall remain in effect until amended, superseded or terminated.

STATEMENT OF BASES AND CONSIDERATIONS

(a) Requirements of act. As a condition for payment, section 301 (b) of the act requires that there shall not have been marketed (or processed) for the production of sugar, sugarcane in excess of the proportionate share established for the farm. Such proportionate share shall be the farm's share of the quantity of sugarcane required to be processed to enable the area to meet its sugar quota (and provide a normal carryover inventory) as estimated by the Secretary for the calendar year during which the larger part of the sugar from such crop normally would be marketed. Section 302 (a) of the act provides that the amount of sugar with respect to which payment may be made shall be the amount of sugar, raw value, commercially recoverable from the sugarcane grown on a farm and marketed (or processed) for sugar or liquid sugar not in excess of the proportionate share established for the farm. Section 302 (b) provides that in determining the proportionate share for a farm the Secretary may take into consideration the past production on the farm of sugarcane marketed (or processed) for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar and the ability to produce such sugarcane, and that the Secretary shall, insofar as practicable, protect the interests of new producers and small producers, and the interests of producers who are cash tenants, adherent planters, or share croppers.

(b) General situation. Although the above requirements have been in effect since the enactment of the Sugar Act of 1937, restrictive proportionate shares have not been imposed on any crop in Hawaii. For the 1952, 1953 and 1954 crops, the production of sugar was 93.0, 100.2 and 100 percent, respectively, of the sum of the mainland and local quotas. The carryover of sugar on January 1, 1955, was less than 5,000 tons. Production has been kept in line with marketing quotas and carryover requirements by the industry. Approximately 90 percent of the total production of sugar in Hawaii is extracted from sugarcane grown by 28 companies and is processed into sugar by mills operated by the companies while the remainder comes from sugarcane grown by approximately 1,700 small independent growers and adherent planters and sold to processing companies. Although it may not be necessary to impose definitive restrictive proportionate shares in Hawaii to prevent the accumulation of excessive inventories, it may become necessary for individual companies to limit production within their mill areas.

During the course of adjustment in sugarcane production by the companies in those mill areas where only a portion of the sugarcane is produced by the company and the balance is purchased under contracts with small producers who are independent growers, there is need to protect the interests of such small producers insofar as is practicable. Because of transportation costs and other economic limitations, a small producer is restricted for all practical purposes to contracting for the sale of his cane to one mill. Inability of a small producer to obtain a contract would mean not only the loss of a marketing outlet for his sugarcane, but also inability to qualify for payment under the Sugar Act.

Under the foregoing circumstances, where an adjustment in production is undertaken by a processor-producer, the small producer's interests must be protected in order that he will not bear a disproportionate reduction in sugarcane acreage. To protect the interests of such producers, this determination establishes proportionate shares subject to practicable conditions for maintaining an equitable production relationship between the farm of the processor-producer and the farms of small producers in the mill area.

(c) Determination for 1955 and subsequent crops. This determination establishes a proportionate share for any farm at the actual level of production, except that the establishment of the proportionate share for the farm of a processor-producer is subject to conditions designed to maintain the pro rata relationship in the acreage used for the production of sugarcane (in Hawaii commonly referred to as acreage under cultivation to sugarcane) between the processor-producer and the small producers in the event of an adjustment in production. In the event a reduction of acreage is necessary in a mill area, the processor-producer is required to reduce the area used for the production of sugarcane on his farm in ratio to the total of reductions on the farms of small producers with whom he contracts, and in maintaining this ratio to accept or be prepared to accept physical delivery of sugarcane from the farms of such producers in accordance with present practice. Currently, processor-producers accept the cane of producers at the time it is matured and ready for harvest, giving due consideration, however, to the maturity of the cane of other producers and of the processor-producer and, provided that access to the producers' fields is available and that the processor-producer's mill is not closed down because of strike, acts of God, and other causes or casualties beyond the processor-producer's control. The harvesting schedule clause, milling responsibility clause, right-of-way clause, and any other clause of the processor-producer's 1955 Sugarcane Purchase Contract pertaining to the timing of sugarcane delivery shall be regarded as indicative of current practice. In addition, the processor-producer is required to maintain the number of farms of small producers at the present level.

With respect to the conditions set forth in the determination, cases may arise which are beyond the control of the processor-producer. In such cases, the Area Director is authorized to modify the proportional and numerical limitations. Each case will be considered on the basis of the circumstances involved. Since one of the purposes of this determination is to protect the interests of small producers, it is contemplated that the operations of the processor-producer will be conducted in a manner to maintain the production relationship between the farm of the processor-producer and the farms of small producers. It is recognized that changing methods of production may make the continued operation of certain land uneconomic. It is not the intent of the determination to require discontinuance of suitable acreage operated by the processor-producer whenever marginal land is abandoned by a small producer, nor when a small producer fails to cultivate his land in accordance with minimum standards set forth in the 1955-crop independent grower agreements. Similarly, such reduction is not anticipated in cases where a small producer loses control of the land he operates for reasons which are unrelated to the processor-producer. However, it is contemplated that the rights of small producers will be recognized in cases where they are able to obtain suitable land in lieu of land previously operated. If a small producer is in the position of losing control of land subleased from a processor-producer because such lands are no longer leased to such processor-producer, it is expected that the processor-producer will not act to prejudice the interests of such sub-lessee in acquiring a direct lease. In all cases, it is expected that the processor-producer will accept replacement producers with suitable land, if available, so as to minimize changes in proportional and numerical relationships. In the event an adverse decision with respect to any case is rendered, provision has been made that the processor-producer shall have 30 days to conform to any such decision.

The provisions relating to the protection of share tenants, share croppers and adherent planters are essentially the same the those which have been effective for recent crops.

Accordingly, I hereby find and conclude that the foregoing determination will effectuate the purposes of section 302 of the act.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 609—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

PROCEDURE ALTERATIONS

The standard instrument approach procedure alterations appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 609 is amended as follows:

NOTE: Where the general classification (LFR, VAR, ADF, ILS, GCA, or VOR), location, and procedure number (if any) of any procedure in the amendments which follow, are identical with an existing procedure, that procedure is to be substituted for the existing one, as of the effective date given, to the extent that it differs from the existing procedure; where a procedure is canceled, the existing procedure is revoked; new procedures are to be placed in appropriate alphabetical sequence within the section amended.

1. The low frequency range procedures prescribed in § 609.6 are amended to read in part:

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 11249; FCC 55-686]

[Rules Amdts. 2-1, 11-12]

PART 2—FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

PART 11—INDUSTRIAL RADIO SERVICES

REPORT AND ORDER

ALLOCATION OF FREQUENCIES AND PERMISSION TO USE CERTAIN RADIOLOCATION EQUIPMENTS FOR PETROLEUM EXPLORATION OFF COAST OF CALIFORNIA

In the matter of Amendment of parts 2 and 11 of the Commission's rules to allocate frequencies and permit the use of certain radiolocation equipments in connection with petroleum exploration off the coast of California; Docket No. 11249.

1. On January 12, 1955, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding in response to petitions by Offshore Navigation, Inc., Overseas Navigation, Inc., and the Central Committee on Radio Facilities of the American Petroleum Institute to amend the Commission's rules so as to permit, under certain conditions, the use of three specific frequencies in the Government band 225–328.6 Mc in connection with the use of SHORAN radiolocation equipment for petroleum exploration operations off the coast of California.

2. The abovementioned notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 20, 1955 (20 F. R. 465), in accordance with the requirements of section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act. Provisions were made for the submission of written comments by interested parties on or before February 23, 1955, and rebuttal comments within ten days thereafter.

3. Comments in support of the proposed rule making were filed by each of the three parties shown in paragraph 1 above and, in addition, comments were received from Interstate Petroleum Communications, Inc., which not only supported the proposed rule making but also requested that it be extended to include the State of Louisiana and waters adjacent thereto. The latter party stated that the use of SHORAN for the past several years in conjunction with phase comparison systems had been invaluable in the absence of suitable lane identification for the phase comparison systems. It was further stated that SHORAN was very useful for surveying in-shore bays and inlets where phase comparison systems, in their present form, are not practical. In addition, Interstate indicated that SHORAN was also needed in conjunction with tests to evaluate a possible error of considerable magnitude which may have been discovered in the phase comparison system being used.

4. In recognition of the need for the establishment of a reliable, nationally available radiopositioning system, the Commission has encouraged the development of this type of equipment in frequency bands below 500 kc, which appear to offer a more suitable permanent home for such operations than the 1750–1800 kc band now generally used or bands in the high frequency region of the radio spectrum. Toward that end the Commission has authorized experimental radiopositioning operations in the band 90–110 kc and has proposed to amend its Table of Frequency Allocations so as to provide for such development on a general basis (Docket No. 10988). The Commission believes that the use of bands below 500 kc will assist in overcoming some of the more serious frequency problems inherent in the use of the above-mentioned bands higher in the radio frequency spectrum. In this connection, at least one serious international interference problem has occurred due to radiopositioning operations in the Gulf of Mexico in the band 1750–1800 kc.

5. Because of the current availability of SHORAN equipment and the showing of need for its use made in this proceeding, the Commission believes that some provision should be made in the Commission's rules so as to make available the frequencies 230 Mc, 250 Mc and 310 Mc for further SHORAN operations on a limited basis in the radiolocation activities of the Petroleum industry. It appears that there may be instances where SHORAN can provide an immediate solution to certain radiopositioning problems of a special nature where the use of larger presently available phase comparison systems would be economically or otherwise impractical. This should assist in the general economic growth of the Industrial Radiolocation Service and help make possible its orderly development on a long-range basis in other frequency bands where a practical and reliable nationwide service can be realized. The further use of SHORAN should not be permitted to retard such development in any way.

6. The Commission wishes to emphasize that the three frequencies involved are in the Government band 225–328.6 Mc and that any non-Government use of these frequencies for SHORAN operations is on a non-interference basis to Government operations in this band. Experience has indicated that it is becoming increasingly difficult in many areas of the country to avoid conflicts with Government operations in the band in question. For that reason, in planning civil radiolocation operations, primary reliance should not be placed on the use of SHORAN. For the same reason, users are also warned that SHORAN should not be permanently integrated with radiolocation equipment operating in other frequency bands. The Commission believes that, on the basis of available information, any two-band radiolocation system which utilizes one band for lane identification only would be wasteful of spectrum space, in addition to creating frequency requirements which probably could not be met on a nationwide basis.

7. Inasmuch as the Commission believes that the petition filed by Interstate Petroleum Communications, Inc., cites good and sufficient cause for modifying the Commission's original proposal in this proceeding, and in view of the absence of any comments in opposition to the modification requested, the rule amendments herein adopted provide for limited SHORAN operation in both the California coastal area and the Gulf of Mexico coastal area. It should be noted that the geographical area in which SHORAN operations are to be permitted in the Gulf of Mexico area is the same as the area in which phase comparison systems in the band 1750–1800 kc are now permitted. Therefore, all companies now using the latter type of equipment are equally eligible to make use of SHORAN equipment in that area.

8. Pursuant to the authority contained in section 303 (c), (d), (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, it is therefore ordered that, effective July 5, 1955, Parts 2 and 11 of the Commission's rules are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082 as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: June 22, 1955.

Released: June 24, 1955.

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

A. Part 2 of the Commission's rules is amended in the following respects:

Section 2.104 (a) (5) is amended by inserting the following footnote in column 7 of the band 225–328.6 Mc:

(US43) For the radiolocation activities of the petroleum industry only, land radiopositioning stations and mobile radiopositioning stations making use of SHORAN equipment may be authorized the use of the frequencies 230 Mc, 250 Mc and 310 Mc at locations within 150 miles of the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico and the shoreline of the State of California, provided that no harmful interference is caused to services operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations and provided that SHORAN operations are coordinated locally in advance with Federal Government authorities making use of frequencies in this band in the same area.

B. Part 11, Industrial Radio Services, is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to § 11.607 of Subpart M, Industrial Radiolocation Service, to read as follows:

(e) Land Radiopositioning Stations (SHORAN) and Mobile Radiopositioning Stations (SHORAN) in this service may be authorized the use of the frequencies 230 Mc, 250 Mc and 310 Mc at locations within 150 miles of the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico and the shoreline of the State of California for radiolocation operations of the petroleum industry only, provided that no harmful interference is caused to services operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations contained in Part 2 ("Rules Governing Frequency Allocations and Radio Treaty Matters") and provided that SHORAN operations are coordinated locally in advance with Federal Government authorities making use of frequencies in the band 225–328.6 Mc in the same area.

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

DATA REQUIRED WITH APPLICATIONS FOR DIRECTIONAL ANTENNA SYSTEMS

In the matter of amendment of § 3.150 of the Commission's rules and regulations; Rules Amdt. 3-49.

1. The Commission has under consideration Section 3.150 of its rules and regulations as adopted in its report and order in Docket No. 11020 issued on May 23, 1955 (FCC 55-591).

2. Section 3.150 sets forth the data that must be filed with all applications involving standard broadcast directional antenna systems. The rule as presently drafted requires vertical plane radiation patterns for both daytime and nighttime operation. The Commission has not generally required the submission of calculated vertical field intensity patterns for daytime directional operation in the past, and it was not the Commission's intention in adopting § 3.150 of the rules to require that applicants submit field intensity vs. azimuth patterns in all cases. The Commission is of the view that the submission of vertical patterns for daytime directional operation is unnecessary in certain cases. We believe that data involving daytime vertical field intensity patterns should be supplied only when such data would constitute a pertinent factor in station allocation.

3. In view of the foregoing, the Commission is amending § 3.150 by adding the following language to the first sentence of paragraph (a) (3) of the rule: "In those instances where radiation at angles above the horizontal plane is a pertinent factor in station allocation."

4. Authority for the adoption of the amendment herein is contained in sections 4 (i) and (j) and 303 (s) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

5. The amendment adopted herein constitutes a relaxation of the present requirement in § 3.150 of the rules. Prior publication of notice of proposed rule making is not necessary.

6. It is ordered, That effective June 30, 1955, § 3.150 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as follows:

Section 3.150 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Calculated field intensity vs. azimuth patterns for every 5 degrees of elevation through 60 degrees in those instances where radiation at angles above the horizontal plane is a pertinent factor in station allocation. These may be plotted in slotted rectangular coordinates but shall be submitted one to a page. Minor lobe and null detail occurring between the 5-degree intervals need not be submitted.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066 as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: June 22, 1955.

Released: June 24, 1955.

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

OPERATION OF LOW-POWER TELEVISION STATIONS

In the matter of amendment of Part 3 of the Commission's rules and regulations concerning television broadcast service to authorize the operation of low-power television broadcast stations; Docket No. 11237.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its notice of proposed rule making issued in the above-entitled matter on December 17, 1954, and the comments filed in the proceeding. The notice was issued in response to a petition filed by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., urging that the Commission's rules be revised to permit television broadcast stations to operate with lower power.

2. The Commission's rules presently prescribe the minimum effective radiated power for television broadcast stations, with the power specified varying in accordance with the size of the city. Stations located in cities under 50,000 population are required to operate with a minimum of 1 kw (0 dbk) effective radiated power at antenna heights of 300 feet above average terrain; for antenna heights below 300 feet, power must be increased to provide approximately equivalent coverage as computed in accordance with Figure 1, Appendix III, of the rules. In its notice of proposed rule making, the Commission proposed to amend § 3.614 of the rules to provide that stations located in cities with 50,000 persons or less could employ minimum power of −10 dbk (100 watts) at any antenna height.

3. In proposing to lower the minimum power requirements for television broadcast stations, the Commission expressed its desire to obtain the maximum utilization of the television broadcast frequencies and noted its concern for stimulating the growth of television in the smaller communities situated at remote areas presently beyond the service areas of operating stations. The Commission pointed out that a step in this direction was the policy announced in its Public Notice of August 5, 1954 (FCC 54-991) that it would consider applications for stations which do not propose to originate any local programs where it appears that this type of operation would permit the flexibility and the necessary economy to make the operation of a station feasible in a community where one might not otherwise be constructed. The Commission cautioned at that time, however, that such stations would be required to meet the technical provisions of the rules, including those relating to minimum height and power. The Commission expressed its view that a reduction in the minimum power requirement for stations in small communities would offer a further inducement to prospective television operators to construct stations in towns where operation might not otherwise be economically feasible; and its belief that a reduction in the minimum power requirements for cities with populations under 50,000 can be undertaken while still affording such communities adequate coverage.

4. In light of the Commission's policy with respect to the authorization of stations which do not propose to originate local programs, the Commission, in its notice of rule making, requested interested parties to direct their comments to a number of specific matters. The notice sought information with respect to such factors as the cost of construction and operation of stations without locally originated programs and information relating to the feasibility of such operation. Inquiry was directed, also, to other changes in the technical requirements in the rules that might be necessary or desirable in order to accommodate such low-power operation, and the Commission directed interested parties to questions relating to the eligibility of stations for engaging in such operations.

5. Comments have been filed in this proceeding by a number of parties.[1] The comments almost unanimously favor the proposed revision to permit low-power operation. Several parties have proposed additional detailed technical rule changes. The comments with respect to eligibility for low-power operation in connection with stations without locally originated programs, however, present a number of varying viewpoints.

6. In its notice the Commission proposed only to permit low-power operation in cities with populations under 50,000 persons. A number of the parties commenting in the proceeding urged that low-power operation should not be confined to small communities; other parties urge that, on the other hand, low power should be permitted only in cities with populations of 25,000 persons or less; and still other parties submit that low power is warranted only when economic factors in particular areas may justify this type of operation. Upon our consideration of the comments directed to this phase of the proceeding, we have concluded that low-power operation should not be dependent upon the size of the city concerned, and that the public interest would be served by reducing the minimum power requirements for all television broadcast stations. We do not believe that it would be practicable to evaluate requests for low power on a case-by-case basis in order to attempt to determine when economic or other conditions might warrant such operation. Most of the remaining unassigned channels are located in cities with populations of less than 50,000 persons. For those cities of greater than 50,000 persons where channels are still available, we believe the public interest would be served by reducing the present minimum power restrictions in order to encourage the establishment of additional local television service. Accordingly, we have decided to reduce the minimum power requirements for all stations regardless of the size of the city to —10 dbk (100 kw) with no minimum antenna height specified.

7. The Commission's notice of rule making also raised the question whether low-power stations should be authorized only in those cities without authorized or operating stations, and without applications on file, and whether low-power authorizations should only be made for stations in cities at least 50 miles distant from operating stations. Upon our consideration of the comments submitted in the proceeding, we have concluded that restrictions on the basis of proximity to other television stations should not be applied to low-power stations. In order to effectuate the maximum utilization of our assignment plan and to make possible the affording of a diversity of television services to the public, we do not believe that low-power stations should be barred because they may be close to existing stations. Many of the authorizations for both VHF and UHF stations which have been returned to the Commission for cancellation were located in cities with populations of greater than 50,000 persons and were situated within 50 miles of other operating stations. Substantial numbers of receivers, it is apparent, are located in these areas and are equipped to receive both VHF and UHF transmissions. The amendment we are here adopting may offer an inducement to the re-establishment of additional television stations in these areas.

8. In our notice of rule making we also requested the parties to direct their comments to the subject of multiple ownership and its relation to low-power stations. The majority of the comments urge that the multiple ownership rules should not be made applicable to low-power stations. However, these comments misconstrue the basic purpose of this proposal. Lowering the minimum power for television stations is intended primarily to provide an incentive for broadcasters to commence the construction of stations that might not otherwise be economically feasible, with the anticipation that many of the stations so authorized will eventually increase power and become full-fledged television stations in all respects. We do not believe, therefore, that we should relax our multiple ownership rules with respect to low-power stations. On the other hand, we do not believe that any special precautionary measures in addition to the existing multiple ownership rules are necessary in order to prevent an undue concentration of control of television facilities contrary to the public interest.

9. A number of comments submitted urge that in order for our action herein to be fully effective, other technical rules and standards should also be revised. For example, the comments suggest the use of directional antennas, remote control operation, etc. Without considering the merits of these suggestions, we believe that they require further extensive rule making in order to be treated adequately. We do not believe that we should withhold our action in this proceeding relating to low-power operation in order to consider these other matters. They will be given further consideration in future proceedings.

10. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), and (r), and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

11. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective August 1, 1955, § 3.614 of the Commission's rules and regulations, and Figure 1, Appendix III, are amended as set out below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066 as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1082, 1084; 47 U. S. C. 303, 307)

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

I. Section 3.614 is amended as follows:

a. Delete paragraph (a) and substitute the following:

§ 3.614 Power and antenna height requirements—(a) Minimum requirements. Applications will not be accepted for filing if they specify less than —10 dbk (100 watts) visual effective radiated power in any horizontal direction. No minimum antenna height above average terrain is specified.

b. The following sentence is added after the title of paragraph (b): "Applications will not be accepted for filing if they specify a power in excess of that provided for in this paragraph."

II. Figure 1, entitled "Minimum Effective Radiated Power v. Antenna Height Above Average Terrain", of Appendix III of Subpart E is deleted.

AFFILIATION AGREEMENTS; TERRITORIAL EXCLUSIVITY

In the matter of amendment of § 3.658 (b) of the Commission's rules and regulations; Docket No. 10989.

1. The commission has under consideration its notice of proposed rule making (FCC 54-437) issued in this proceeding on April 1, 1954, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 7, 1954 (19 F. R. 1961), proposing to amend § 3.658 (b) of the Chain Broadcasting Rules so as to limit the geographic bounds wherein a television broadcast station may contract for territorial exclusivity with network organizations to the extent permitted by this section of the rules.[1]

[1] Comments have been filed by the following parties: Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; Clair L. Taylor, Supt. of Public Instruction, Lansing, Michigan; Southern Idaho Broadcasting and Television Company, Twin Falls, Idaho; E. B. Craney, Butte, Montana; Dage Television Division, Thompson Products, Inc., Michigan City, Indiana; Louis Wasmer, Spokane, Washington; Archer S. Taylor, Montana State University; General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York; Joint Committee on Educational Television, Washington, D. C.; Chanticleer Broadcasting Co., New Brunswick, New Jersey; Indian River Broadcasting Co., Fort Pierce, Florida; Orange County Broadcasters, Inc., Winter Park, Florida; Western Slope Broadcasting Co., Inc., Grand Junction, Colorado; Wyoming Valley Broadcasting Co., Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania; Crosley Broadcasting Corp., Cincinnati, Ohio; University of Arizona, Tucson, Arizona; Seward Community TV, Inc., Seward, Alaska; Chemical City Broadcasting Co., Charleston, West Virginia; Adler Communications Laboratories, New Rochelle, New York; Philco Corporation, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Sylvania Products, Inc., Emporium, Pennsylvania; National Association of Educational Broadcasters, Washington, D. C.; WSM, Inc., Nashville, Tennessee; Frontier Broadcasting Co., Cheyenne, Wyoming; Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association, Washington, D. C.; Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., New York, New York. Numerous letters relating to this matter were also received.

[1] In response to a request filed by the UHF Industry Coordinating Committee on May 14, 1954, the time for filing comments in this proceeding was extended from May 3, 1954, to June 15, 1954, and for Replies from May 13, 1954, to June 25, 1954.

2. Comments supporting the proposed amendment were filed by Valley Telecasting Company, Green Bay, Wisconsin (WFRV-TV, Channel 5); KNUZ Television Company, Houston, Texas (KNUZ-TV, Channel 39); Lebanon Television Corporation, Lebanon, Pennsylvania (WLBR-TV, Channel 15); Summit Radio Corporation, Akron, Ohio (WAKR-TV, Channel 49); Standard Radio and Television Company, San Jose, California (KQXI, Channel 11); and Bridgeport Broadcasting Company, Bridgeport, Connecticut (WICC-TV, Channel 43). Comments opposing the proposed amendment were filed by National Broadcasting Company, Inc.; Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.; Allen B. DuMont Laboratories, Inc.; Havens & Martin, Inc., Richmond, Virginia (WTVR, Channel 6); and The Elm City Broadcasting Corporation, New Haven, Connecticut (WNHC-TV, Channel 6). Joint comments were also filed by Meredith Engineering Company, Kansas City, Missouri (KCMO-TV, Channel 5); Meredith Syracuse Television Corp., Syracuse, New York (WHEN-TV, Channel 8); and Meredith WOW, Inc., Omaha, Nebraska (WOW-TV, Channel 6). The latter parties are of the view that the Commission's proposal is not entirely clear in several respects, and they request that a hearing be held to determine its impact upon both television broadcasters and networks. Replies to comments were filed by Gulf Television Company, Galveston, Texas (KGUL-TV, Channel 11); Lebanon Television Corporation, Havens & Martin, Inc., and Summit Radio Corporation.

3. Section 3.658 (b) of the Commission's rules presently permits a television station which renders coverage to a substantial portion of the service area of a station located in another community to contract with a network to prevent the station in the other community from carrying particular network programs, even though the sponsor of the program or the network may desire that the latter station also broadcast the programs. The proposed amendment would revise the above section so as to preclude a station in one community from depriving stations in other communities of the opportunity of securing and carrying the same network programs. Under the Commission's proposal, a station would be permitted to enter into agreements with networks whereby it would be granted the first call upon network programs only in the community in which it is located.[2]

4. The parties supporting the proposed amendment urge that even though the amendment does not assure that a station located outside of a community from which another station broadcasts network programs will obtain an affiliation contract, it will permit the networks to exercise more freedom in their selection of affiliates and will give some stations a greater opportunity to obtain network programs and compete more successfully with other stations. It is argued that television stations should not be entitled to the protection of exclusive arrangements for network programs beyond the principal community they are licensed to serve and that the only sound basis for applying the "territorial exclusivity" provisions of § 3.658 (b) to television stations is by "community" rather than the "area" a station serves. It is contended that the "principal community" approach was used in the establishment of the nationwide allocation plan in contrast to that utilized in the standard broadcast service where area and populations to be served are the dominant factors; that television channels were assigned on the basis of the needs of each community without considering that a station of another city might render service to the community in question; that the present territorial exclusivity rule does not define the "area" which a station serves; that the Commission has recognized that television coverage cannot be measured accurately and has refused to permit competing applicants to claim advantage on the basis of greater coverage; and that the proposed amendment incorporating the geographic standard is necessary to give § 3.658 (b) meaning and to make it capable of application. It is urged that the proposed amendment will promote the orderly development of television service by precluding stations which carry network programs from inordinate claims of coverage—particularly when the areas are distant from the station and no community of interest exists with the other city, and the station's signal is technically inferior and does not provide a consistent and satisfactory service to such other city. It is contended that the existing rule has made it possible for network affiliated stations unreasonably and unfairly to preclude stations in other communities from obtaining network programs and affiliations; that the economic handicap of some stations has been aggravated by the restraints which have been imposed under the present rule; that the existing rule has prevented stations in communities nearby to those with affiliated stations from competing effectively for programs, for audience and for advertising revenue; and that impairment of competition among television stations in other communities by nearby network stations is contrary to the design and intent of the Commission's Sixth Report and Order and in derogation of the Commission's obligation, under the Communications Act, to promote competition in the broadcast field.

5. These parties also urge that there is no merit to the arguments advanced by the networks and the other opponents to the proposed amendment that it would lead to duplication of network programming by stations in nearby communities; that advertisers will not buy such stations; and that all stations will be deprived of a fair financial return. It is maintained that there is no evidence that duplicate programming will be encouraged by the proposal and that there is every evidence that competition among stations will be increased; that the over-riding purpose of the chain broadcasting rules is to preserve competition among stations and not to prevent duplication of service; and that special circumstances may warrant some duplicate programming, and if it should exceed desirable limits, the Commission can remedy the situation. Furthermore, it is noted that duplicate network programming would occur only if the networks agree to provide such service and that some duplicate network service is provided at the present time by affiliated stations serving substantially the same area, e. g., Providence, Rhode Island, and Boston, Massachusetts; Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit, Michigan. It is similarly asserted that there is no proof that advertisers will not buy more than one station if two or more stations in nearby communities carry the same network programs. While it is conceded that an advertiser would not pay more for two stations than he pays for one station if no greater coverage or audience is expected, the parties submit that in almost all cases greater coverage and audience would result from broadcasts by two or more stations in nearby communities and that the advertiser would pay for such greater coverage and audience. It is urged that the charge that the proposed amendment may keep stations from realizing their "full economic potential" springs from the fear that some stations may be kept from benefiting from their monopolistic economic position derived through the exclusion of other stations from the opportunity of obtaining network programs, and thus, to compete for audience and revenues.[3]

6. The parties opposing the instant proposal contend that although it represents a substantial departure from the present rule, no valid reasons have been advanced nor any need demonstrated indicating that further extension of the Commission's control over network-station relationships and their freedom to contract with each other is warranted. It is argued that the best interests of the public would not be served if identical network programs are broadcast by stations in different communities serving substantially the same area and that the proposed rule would result in inefficient use of television channels. It is maintained that the Commission's policy has been to prevent duplication of programs by stations serving substantially the same area in order to achieve maximum utilization of radio frequencies and that the instant proposal is in direct conflict with that policy; that the instant proposal ignores the fact that a station's signal does not stop at the city limits of the community in which the station is located, and that the present rule, extending protection for a station's signal to the area which can receive a serviceable signal, constitutes a commonsense standard which should not be changed by the substitution of the artificial political boundary. It is stated that the proposed amendment goes far beyond the scope of the AM rule (§ 3.102) which permits an affiliate to have first call in its primary service area, and it is argued that there is no more justification for duplication of network programming in television than in standard broadcasting nor for the circumscribing the right of first refusal of an affiliate in the one broadcast medium more than the other.

[2] Several of the comments filed indicate that some parties have misconstrued the application of the proposed amendment. They incorrectly interpret it as permitting a station to enter into contractual arrangements with a network covering not only the community in which it is located but also all communities within a 15-mile radius. In view of the misconstruction placed on the amendment in some of the comments, we are revising the footnote to the amendment to clarify the definition of "community".

[3] While KNUZ Television supports the proposed amendment, it maintains that no real benefit will be derived from its adoption unless § 3.658 (a) of the rules is also amended to increase the minimum signal strength required over the principal community to be served. KNUZ is of the view that such an amendment would effectively limit television stations to one principal community and would relieve the unfair competitive situations which result from permitting stations to serve more than one community. It was also suggested by Summit Radio Corporation that the proposed amendment be clarified to leave no doubt that it applies to network-owned and operated or controlled stations as well as to network-affiliated stations.

7. In addition, it is charged that the proposed amendment would cause stations to suffer economic loss, since if two stations in different communities with overlapping coverage carry the same network programs, neither station will realize its full economic potential. It is asserted that advertisers will either not buy duplicate coverage or will insist on rate adjustments to reflect the overlap in circulation, and that national spot and local business would also be adversely affected because the audience for the most salable network programs for station break announcements would be so divided that neither station would obtain a fair return. It is further claimed that the bargaining power of stations to negotiate with the networks would be weakened, and that it would be impossible for weaker stations to build themselves up through the broadcast of network programs of national prestige throughout their service areas. In this connection, it is argued that the proposed amendment might work a particular hardship on those UHF stations which have been able to secure a network affiliation, since the incentive for their potential audience to buy or convert their receivers for UHF reception may be lessened if the same network programs can be received from a VHF station in a different community but with overlapping coverage. It is also contended that duplication of network programming by stations in different communities serving substantially the same areas is not likely to result in materially increased revenue. It is likewise urged that duplicate affiliation of stations in different communities covering the same service area will lessen the ability of the smaller networks to compete, and might possibly result in their demise, thereby depriving the public of that source of network programming.

8. Those opposing the instant proposal also maintain that adoption of the proposed rule may result in no change in the network affiliation situation since the network organizations could still contract with whom they wish and undoubtedly their contractual inclinations will continue to be influenced by the economics of the situation. In instances of practically identical coverage, it is submitted that there will be no network desire or substantial sponsor demand for the presentation of the same network programs on both stations, and that the network will make a choice between the two stations so situated. One network in its comments asserts that it would be its general practice, if the proposed amendment is adopted, to continue to provide its network advertisers with unduplicated service, since it believes that such a practice best serves the public, advertisers, affiliated stations and the network itself. It is argued, however, that adoption of the proposed rule might give rise to unjustifiable claims of its violation by stations unable to secure affiliation contracts, thus imposing unnecessary burdens upon the Commission, its staff, affiliates, and the networks. Another argument advanced in opposition to the proposed amendment is that duplicate network programming under affiliation agreements with option hour provisions might lead to a circumvention of the rules. One of the parties suggests that if the proposed rule is adopted, a truly competitive situation should be made by modifying the option time rule. Another opponent of the instant proposal suggests that, rather than reducing the opportunity of stations to contract for "first call" rights to the community in which the station concerned is located, all programming exclusivity should be eliminated so that competition for the individual programs of the several networks among stations would be unfettered. It was also suggested that any change in § 3.658 (b) of the rules be limited to a more exact definition of what constitutes an area of service for applying the existing rule.

9. We have carefully reviewed the comments filed in this proceeding, and we are of the view that the relatively minor changes herein proposed to the Chain Broadcasting Rules should be adopted at this time. At this stage in the development of the television industry, network programming is essential to the profitable operation of most stations; and, in many instances, its availability may be determinative of a station's ability to survive and furnish a needed television service to the public. The obtaining of network programs is such a vital and valuable asset to stations that we believe maximum opportunity should be given to all stations to compete for network programming, and that any of our Rules which might operate to restrain competition among stations for network programming should be kept to the minimum required to protect the public interest and to insure good program service to the public. We are of the view that the present restriction in our Rules which operates to preclude stations in other communities from contracting with networks for particular network programs when a station with overlapping coverage in another community has contracted for "first call" on the same network programs is unduly restrictive on competition for network programming and is not conducive to the rapid and effective development of television service to the public.

10. In reaching this determination, we realize that the proposed amendment is no cure-all for the economic and other problems which confront many television stations today. The proposed revision makes no basic or substantial change in our rules governing stations in their relationships with the networks. It does not assure any station of network programming. All that the amendment does is to give stations greater freedom on an over-all basis in negotiating and contracting with networks and advertisers for their programs. We are hopeful that the amendment may enable some stations which have heretofore been precluded from obtaining network programming because of the "first call" rights of stations in other communities to obtain such programs. But we do not believe that the fears expressed by the parties in their oppositions that adoption of the amendment would lead to excessive duplication of programming in the same area, the demise of the smaller networks and financial hardship to all stations are substantial. For the important part that economics plays in network-station contractual relationships will continue to function. And such duplication of network programming as may occur by reason of restricting the "first call" rights of stations to the communities in which they are located, will result because additional factors present in the particular cases will convince those responsible for such duplication that it is desirable. We believe this to be consistent with the public interest considerations of enlarging competition in the television field and promoting the orderly development of television service to the public.

11. Certain parties in this proceeding have suggested that several more substantial changes in the Chain Broadcasting and other rules, i. e., the rules relating to option time, minimum signal strength, elimination of all program exclusivity, should be adopted. We believe that rule-making proposals such as these which would involve major changes in our rules governing stations in their relationships with the networks and each other can be considered more adequately after we have completed the study of station-network practices and policies which we hope to undertake in the near future. We further believe that the parties requesting a full public hearing on the proposed amendment have made no showing that such a hearing would serve any useful purpose or would be of any help to us in reaching a decision on the matter. While it is alleged that the proposed amendment is not clear in several respects, the only allegation made in support thereof is that the rule does not define "first call" or indicate the duration of "first call" rights of stations on network programs. We see no need in holding a hearing to clarify this matter. The proposed amendment makes no change from the present rule in this respect. Since the existing rule does not define or limit the duration of the "first call" rights of stations on network programs, the duration of such rights is determined by the contractual arrangements made by stations with the networks. We are also of the view that there is no necessity to clarify the proposed amendment to indicate specifically that it applies to network owned and operated or controlled stations, as suggested by Summit Radio Corporation, since the amendment clearly applies to all television broadcast stations.

12. In view of the foregoing considerations and determinations and pursuant to the authority contained in sections 1 and 303 (i) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended: It is ordered, That, effective August 1, 1955, § 3.658 (b) of the Commission's rules is amended, to read as follows:

(b) Territorial exclusivity. No license shall be granted to a television broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which prevents or hinders another broadcast station located in the same community from broadcasting the network's programs not taken by the former station, or which prevents or hinders another broadcast station located in a different community from broadcasting any program of the network organization. This section shall not be construed to prohibit any contract, arrangement, or understanding between a station and a network organization pursuant to which the station is granted the first call in its community upon the programs of the network organization. As employed in this paragraph, the term "community" is defined as the community specified in the instrument of authorization as the location of the station.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR Parts 40, 41, 42]

[Draft Release 55-16]

APPLICABILITY OF CONTROL OF ENGINE ROTATION AND INSTRUMENTATION REQUIREMENTS TO TURBINE-POWERED AIRPLANES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments to Parts 40, 41, and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration before taking further action on the proposed rules, communications must be received by July 13, 1955. Copies of such communications will be available after July 15, 1955, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

The current engine rotation requirements and the engine instrument and equipment requirements prescribed in Parts 40, 41, and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations are not entirely appropriate for turbine-powered airplanes for the reason that these requirements are generally applicable only to reciprocating engines, which until the present time have been the only engines installed in the airplanes being operated under these parts. Since it is anticipated that airplanes with turbine engines will be introduced into air transportation in the immediate future, it is proposed to revise the aforementioned engine rotation and engine instrument and equipment requirements so as to render them compatible with the characteristics of turbine-powered airplanes.

Currently effective §§ 40.150, 41.20 (d), and 42.13 of Parts 40, 41, and 42, respectively, require that airplanes be provided with means for stopping engine rotation in flight. However, on the basis of current information, it does not appear that the extremely slow rotation of feathered propellers of some turbopropeller airplanes will jeopardize safety. On the contrary, to stop the propeller completely will, in some instances, either involve additional hazards or require unduly burdensome modifications. Similarly, the rotation of a turbo-jet engine, following engine failure, may not be as hazardous as would be stopping the engine completely in flight. This proposed amendment would, therefore, require means for stopping rotation on turbine engine installations only if such rotation could jeopardize the safety of the airplane.

Currently effective §§ 40.172, 41.25, and 42.21 of Parts 40, 41, and 42, respectively, require the installation of specified engine instruments and equipment. Although required instruments and equipment can be installed on reciprocating engine airplanes, it is clear that some are not appropriate for turbine-powered airplanes. It is recognized, however, that turbine engines may require instrumentation or equipment different from that for which provision is made in §§ 40.172, 41.25, and 42.21. In view of the limited experience in air carrier operations with such engines, it is believed desirable that a determination as to what different instrumentation or equipment may be required should, for the present, be made by the Administrator. Therefore, this proposed amendment would permit the Administrator to establish instrument and equipment requirements for turbine-powered airplanes different from those currently specified in the Civil Air Regulations for reciprocating engine airplanes.

In view of the foregoing, notice is hereby given that it is proposed to amend Parts 40, 41 and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations as follows:

1. By amending §40.150 to read as follows:

§ 40.150 Control of engine rotation. All airplanes shall be provided with means for individually stopping and restarting the rotation of any engine in flight, except that for turbine engine installations means for stopping the rotation need be provided only if the Administrator finds that such rotation could jeopardize the safety of the airplane.

2. By amending the introductory sentence of § 40.172 to read as follows:

§ 40.172 Engine instruments for all operations. The following engine instruments are required for all operations, except that the Administrator may permit or require different instrumentation for turbine-powered aircraft to provide equivalent safety:

3. By amending § 41.20 (d) to read as follows:

§ 41.20 General. • • •

(d) Multiengine airplanes shall be so equipped that engine rotation may be promptly stopped during flight, except that for turbine engine installations means for stopping the rotation need be provided only if the Administrator finds that such rotation could jeopardize the safety of the airplane.

4. By amending § 41.25 by amending the sentence immediately preceding the itemized list to read as follows:

§ 41.25 Instruments and equipment required for continuance of flight. • • •

The items listed in this section are required for all types of operation unless otherwise specified, except that the Administrator may permit or require different instrumentation or equipment for turbine-powered aircraft to provide equivalent safety:

5. By amending § 42.13 to read as follows:

§ 42.13 Engine rotation. Multiengine aircraft having any engine rated at more than 480 h. p. for maximum continuous operation shall be so equipped that the rotation of each such engine can be stopped promptly in flight, except that for turbine engine installations means for stopping the rotation need be provided only if the Administrator finds that such rotation could jeopardize the safety of the aircraft.

6. By amending the introductory sentence of § 42.21 of Part 42 to read as follows:

§ 42.21 Basic required instruments and equipment for aircraft. The following instruments and equipment acceptable to the Administrator for the type of operations specified shall be installed and in serviceable condition in all aircraft, except that the Administrator may permit or require different instrumentation or equipment for turbine-powered aircraft to provide equivalent safety:

These amendments are proposed under authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in light of comments received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Part 3]

[Docket No. 11433; FCC 55–705]

INCREASE OF MAXIMUM EFFECTIVE RADIATED POWER

In the matter of amendment of Part 3 of the Commission's rules and regulations to increase the maximum effective radiated power for television stations on Channels 14–83; Docket No. 11433.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The Commission is concerned with the maximum utilization of its television broadcast frequencies and with methods for achieving this goal. In this connection, the Commission has been considering its rules relating to the maximum power for UHF television stations.

3. In its Third Notice of Rule Making issued in the last allocation proceeding (Docket No. 8736 et al.), the Commission proposed a maximum power of 200 kw (23 dbk) for Channels 7–13 and Channels 14–83. However, comments were submitted in that proceeding indicating that an amplifier with 25 kw was feasible and practicable on the UHF. And it was contended that such an amplifier would provide a radiated power of 400 kw (26 dbk). In the Sixth Report and Order finalizing that proceeding, the Commission stated that in order to attempt to equalize the service areas of stations operating on the UHF and VHF bands, it would be necessary to increase the maximum power for the upper-band VHF Channels 7–13 and for the UHF Channels 14–83. Consequently, the Commission provided for a maximum power of 100 kw (20 dbk) for Channels 2–6, 316 kw (25 dbk) for Channels 7–13, and 1000 kw (30 dbk) for Channels 14–83. In establishing 1 megawatt as a maximum for the UHF, the Commission stated that while it recognized such power might not be immediately available, it believed that it should provide for such power since it felt confident that developments in the art would eventually achieve this goal.

4. The Commission believes that the public interest would be served by increasing the maximum permissible power for UHF stations in order that the viewing public may receive the best possible service that the state of the art permits. In this connection, the industry has now developed amplifiers which make it possible to attain 1000 kw effective radiated power on the UHF band. Indeed, stations employing such high power are now in operation. Other amplifiers are presently being developed which will be capable of operating at still higher outputs, and the development of such amplifiers will permit the transmission of signals of greater strength, with still stronger signals received by the viewing public.

5. In view of the further developments in the state of the art, and as an additional step in bringing to the viewers the best possible television service, the Commission is proposing to amend its rules to increase the maximum permissible effective radiated power for UHF stations from 1000 kw (30 dbk) to 5000 kw (37 dbk).

6. Although the Commission is proposing to increase the maximum radiated power for UHF stations, such action does not contemplate that UHF receivers should be less satisfactory than at present. Rather, the Commission is desirous that every effort be made to produce and market still better sets in order that the viewing public may enjoy better reception. In this connection, we believe that information concerning the sensitivity of UHF sets and the tuning mechanisms of such sets would be pertinent to this proceeding. The Sixth Report and Order established 74 db and 64 db as a required median field strength in db above 1 uv/m for UHF Grade A and Grade B service, respectively. These UHF field strengths were based on various assumptions: The receiver noise figure was assumed at 15 db, the transmission line loss at 5 db, and the antenna gain at 13 db compared with a half-wave dipole.

7. In order that the Commission may have the benefit of current information relating to the present status of UHF sets, it desires that interested parties submit comments in this proceeding relating to this matter. Comments on this phase of the proceeding should direct their attention to UHF receivers in three categories: (1) UHF receivers manufactured prior to 1955, (2) UHF receivers manufactured during 1955, and (3) UHF receivers to be manufactured next year.

8. In addition to the foregoing, the Commission desires that the comments submitted in this proceeding present information and data as to the present state of the art with respect to the following matters:

(a) Receiver noise figures.

(b) Transmission line losses.

(c) Data relating to gain of receiving antennas.

(d) Information as to improvements in UHF sets, such as ease of tuning.

(e) The expected increase in cost to the consumer that would result from improving set preformance.

(f) Measurement data with respect to the propagation of UHF signals.

9. In view of the above, the Commission is proposing to amend its rules as follows:

I. It is proposed to delete the expression "30 dbk (1000 kw)" appearing in § 3.614 (b) and to substitute the following: "37 dbk (5000 kw)".

II. It is proposed to delete in Appendix III, Figures 2 (a) and 2 (b) and substitute new Figures 2 (a) and 2 (b) with the Channel 14–83 curves displaced +7 dbk.

10. Authority for the issuance of the proposed amendments is vested in the Commission under sections 303 (a), (b), (c), (e), (f), (g), (h), and (r) and 4 (i) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

11. Any interested party who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission on or before September 1, 1955, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendments may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments may be filed within 10 days from the last date for filing said original comments or briefs. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments is established. The Commission will consider such comments before taking final action in this matter, and if any comments appear to warrant the holding of a hearing or oral argument, notice of the time and place of such hearing or oral argument will be given.

12. In accordance with the provisions of Section 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: June 22, 1955.

Released: June 24, 1955.

VILLAGE BROADCASTING CO. (WOPA)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Richard Goodman, Mason Loundy and Egmond Sonderling, a partnership d/b as Village Broadcasting Company (WOPA), Oak Park, Illinois, Docket No. 11163, File No. BP-9271; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of June 1955;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application for a construction permit to change the transmitter location of Station WOPA, Oak Park, Illinois, from on roof of Oak Park Hotel, Oak Park Avenue and Washington Boulevard, Oak Park, Illinois, to 4723 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois; and specify remote control point as 408 S. Oak Park Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois; and

It appearing, that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified, except as set forth below, to operate Station WOPA as proposed, but that the application would not comply with the Commission's Standards of Good Engineering Practice in that it would not provide a minimum field intensity of 25 mv/m over the business area of the City of Oak Park and would only provide interference-free nighttime service to approximately 37.5 percent of the city of Oak Park; and

It further appearing, that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applicant was advised by letter dated April 28, 1955 of the aforementioned deficiencies and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing, that in a timely reply filed by the applicant it was contended that in spite of the above deficiencies a grant of the application would serve the public interest; and

It further appearing, that the Commission, after consideration of the reply, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary:

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designed for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the proposed operation of Station WOPA, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the proposed operation of Station WOPA would provide a minimum field intensity of 25 mv/m over the business area of the city of Oak Park, Illinois, in accordance with section 4 of the Standards of Good Engineering Practice.

3. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station WOPA as proposed would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations with particular reference to providing adequate nighttime coverage of the city of Oak Park, Illinois.

4. To determine whether, in the light of evidence adduced under the foregoing issues, a grant of the application would be in the public interest.

TAYLOR BROADCASTING CO. AND GARDEN OF THE GODS BROADCASTING CO.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Taylor Broadcasting Company, Colorado Springs, Colorado, Docket No. 11417, File No. BP-9439; Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company, Manitou Springs, Colorado, Docket No. 11418, File No. BP-9462; for applications for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of June 1955;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of the Taylor Broadcasting Company for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1460 kilocycles with a power of 5 kilowatts, daytime only, at Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1490 kilocycles with a power of 250 watts, unlimited time, at Manitou Springs, Colorado;

It appearing, that each applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified, except as may appear from the issues specified below, to operate its proposed station but that the operation of both stations as proposed would result in mutually prohibitive interference and that the application of the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company may involve interference with Stations KRTN, Raton, New Mexico; and KBOL, Boulder, Colorado and because of the interference received from KRTN and KBOL would not comply with § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules; and may not otherwise comply with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice with particular reference to the efficiency and location of the antenna system and whether it would constitute a hazard to air navigation; and

It further appearing, that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the subject applicants were advised by letters dated November 23, 1954, and March 2, 1955, of the aforementioned deficiencies and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of either application would serve the public interest; and

It further appearing, that timely replies were received from both applicants; and

It further appearing, that the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company amended its application on March 28, 1955 to include field intensity measurements purporting to show that its proposed operation would cause no interference to Stations KRTN and KBOL, but that the measurements are insufficient under the Commission's Standards of Good Engineering Practice to prove the absence of the said interference; and

It further appearing, that in a petition filed on February 8, 1955, the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company requested that any hearing on the subject applications be held in the vicinity of Manitou Springs, Colorado, rather than at the Commission's offices in Washington, D. C., on the grounds that a hearing in Washington, D. C. would work a severe hardship on the petitioner; that no comments on this request have been filed by the Taylor Broadcasting Company; and

It further appearing, that the Commission, after consideration of the above replies, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary:

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications all designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding in Manitou Springs, Colorado, at a time to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from each of the operations proposed by the Taylor Broadcasting Company and the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation proposed by the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company would involve interference with Stations KRTN, Raton, New Mexico and KBOL, Boulder, Colorado, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine, in light of Issue 2, whether, because of the interference received from Stations KRTN and KBOL, if any, the proposal of the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company would comply with the provisions of § 3.28 (c) of the Commission's rules.

4. To determine whether the operation proposed by the Garden of the Gods Broadcasting Company would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice with particular reference to minimum efficiency and satisfactory location of the proposed antenna system, and whether the proposed antenna system would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

5. To determine, in light of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the applications, if granted would better provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

6. To determine, in light of the evidence adduced under the foregoing issues, which if either, of the applications should be granted.

It is further ordered, That the issues in the above-entitled proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding and upon sufficient allegations of fact in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether funds available to the applicant will give reasonable assurance that the proposal set forth in the application will be effectuated.

It is further ordered, That Boulder Radio Station KBOL, Inc., and Southwest Broadcasters, Inc., licensees of Stations KBOL, Boulder, Colorado; and KRTN, Raton, New Mexico, respectively, are made parties to the proceeding.

NOTICE OF APPLICATIONS AND DATE OF HEARING

JUNE 22, 1955.

In the matters of Montana-Dakota Utilities Co., Docket No. G-8767; Signal Oil and Gas Company, Docket No. G-8843.

Take notice that Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. Montana-Dakota does not propose to abandon any service. It proposes to remove 30.45 miles of its Black Hills 12¾-inch transmission pipeline in Harding and Butte Counties, South Dakota, and replace it with 16-inch pipeline. It also proposes to remove two 160 horsepower compressor units from its Baker compressor station on its Black Hills line in Fallon County, Montana and install in lieu thereof one 540 horsepower compressor unit.

Montana-Dakota proposes to construct and operate the following additional facilities: (1) 8.5 miles of 10¾-inch and 0.41 miles of 12¾-inch lateral transmission line extending from the Black Hills line to the Ellsworth Air Force Base near Rapid City, South Dakota, together with metering and regulating facilities, all in Pennington and Meade Counties, South Dakota; (2) 4.47 miles of 4½-inch lateral transmission line extending from Montana-Dakota's 14-inch main line to the proposed Signal desulphurizing plant, together with metering facilities, all in Washakie County, Wyoming; and (3) a 550 horsepower compressor unit in Montana-Dakota's Little Buffalo Basin Compressor Station on its 12-inch line in Hot Springs County, Wyoming, Montana-Dakota also proposes to lease and operate an additional 880 horsepower compressor unit to be installed by Montana-Wyoming Gas Pipe Line Co. (Montana-Wyoming) in its Worland Compressor Station in Washakie County, Wyoming.

The estimated cost of the facilities to be constructed by Montana-Dakota is $1,414,218 and those to be constructed by Montana-Wyoming is $522,697. The proposed construction by Montana-Dakota will be financed from funds on hand and bank loans. The construction of the facilities which Montana-Dakota proposes to lease from Montana-Wyoming will be financed by means of an advance of funds from the lessee to the lessor.

Take further notice that Signal Oil and Gas Company (Signal), a Delaware corporation with principal office at Los Angeles, California, filed application on May 2, 1955, for authorization pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act for the proposed sale of natural gas to Montana-Dakota as hereinafter described, all as more fully represented in the application.

Signal proposes to sell natural gas to Montana-Dakota at an initial price of 10 cents per Mcf, which gas will be produced from the Embar formation in Washakie County, Wyoming, and processed in Signal's proposed desulphurization plant. The gas will be commingled with other gas and sold at markets in other States served by Montana-Dakota's transmission pipeline system.

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on July 15, 1955, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Willard B. Smith, a sole proprietor, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar years 1953 and 1954 as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statement referred to in Paragraph II hereof is true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant;

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in Paragraph IV hereof on the 28th day of July 1955, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 2d Street, NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before July 21, 1955. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to July 28, 1955.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(a) Growth cracks when not shallow and not smooth or when the appearance is materially affected; and,

(b) Discoloration when yellowing or other discoloration of the tops materially affect the appearance of the bunch. The appearance of bunches with tops having slight discoloration such as yellowing, browning, or other abnormal color affecting a few leaves shall not be considered materially affected.

§ 51.390 Fresh. "Fresh" means that the tops are not badly wilted.

§ 51.392 Excessively rough. "Excessively rough" means that the root is rough or ridged to the extent that the appearance is seriously affected.

§ 51.393 Seriously misshapen. "Seriously misshapen" means that the root is misshapen to the extent that the appearance is seriously affected.

TOLERANCES

§ 51.2616 Tolerances. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, the following tolerances shall be permited:

(a) For bunched turnips—(1) For defects of roots. 10 percent, by count, for roots in any lot which fail to meet the requirements of the grade: Provided, That not more than one-half of this amount, or 5 percent, shall be allowed for defects causing serious damage, including therein not more than 1 percent for soft rot;

(2) For defects of tops. 10 percent, by count, for bunches with tops in any lot which fail to meet the requirements of the grade, including therein not more than 5 percent for decay;

(3) For off-size roots. 5 percent, by count, for roots in any lot which are smaller than the specified minimum diameter, and 10 percent, by count, for roots which are larger than any specified maximum diameter; and,

(4) For off-length tops. 5 percent, by count, for bunches with tops in any lot which fail to meet the requirements of the style.

(b) For turnips with short-trimmed tops or topped turnips or rutabagas—(1) For defects of roots. 10 percent, by weight, for roots in any lot which fail to meet the requirements of the grade: Provided, That not more than one-half of this amount, or 5 percent, shall be allowed for defects causing serious damage, including therein not more than 1 percent for soft rot;

(2) For defects of tops. 10 percent, by weight, for roots with tops in any lot which fail to meet the requirements of the grade, including therein not more than 5 percent for decay;

(3) For off-size roots. 5 percent, by weight, for roots in any lot which are smaller than the specified minimum diameter, and 10 percent, by weight, for roots which are larger than any specified maximum diameter; and,

(4) For off-length tops. 10 percent, by weight, for turnips or rutabagas with tops in any lot which fail to meet the requirements of the style.

APPLICATION OF TOLERANCES

§ 51.2617 Application of tolerances. (a) The contents of individual packages in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations: Provided, That the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified for the grade:

(1) For packages which contain more than 5 pounds and a tolerance of 10 percent or more is provided, individual packages in any lot shall have not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified. For packages which contain more than 5 pounds and a tolerance of less than 10 percent is provided, individual packages in any lot shall have not more than double the tolerance specified except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen shall be permitted in any package; and,

(2) For packages which contain 5 pounds or less, individual packages in any lot are not restricted as to the percentage of defects and off-size: Provided, That not more than one turnip or rutabaga which is frozen or affected by soft rot may be permitted in any package.

STANDARD BUNCHING

§ 51.2618 Standard bunching. (a) Standard bunches of turnips shall be fairly uniform in size and each bunch of turnips shall weigh not less than 1 pound and contain at least 3 turnips.

(b) Not more than 10 percent of the bunches in any lot may fail to meet the requirements for "Standard Bunching".

DEFINITIONS

§ 51.2619 Similar varietal characteristics. "Similar varietal characteristics" means that the turnips or rutabagas in any package shall be of similar color and shape. For example, yellow fleshed varieties shall not be mixed with white fleshed varieties, and flat, globe, or long varieties shall not be mixed in the same package.

§ 51.2620 Well trimmed. "Well trimmed" means that unattractive secondary rootlets have been removed, and that any objectionably long or coarse tail-like part of the root has been cut off.

§ 51.2621 Firm. "Firm" means that the root is not soft, flabby or shriveled.

§ 51.2622 Fairly smooth. "Fairly smooth" means that the root is not rough or ridged to the extent that the appearance is materially affected.

§ 51.2623 Fairly well shaped. "Fairly well shaped" means that the root is not misshapen to the extent that the appearance is materially affected.

§ 51.2624 Fairly clean. "Fairly clean" means that the individual root is reasonably free from dirt or other foreign matter, and that the general appearance of the roots in the container is not more than slightly affected.

§ 51.2625 Damage. "Damage" means any defect which materially affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the individual turnip or rutabaga root or the general appearance of the turnips or rutabagas in the container, or causes a loss of more than 5 percent, by weight, in the ordinary preparation for use, or which materially affects the appearance or shipping quality of the tops. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(a) Cuts when discolored, rough or deep, or when materially affecting the appearance of the turnip or rutabaga;

(b) Growth cracks or air cracks when discolored or deep, or when the appearance is materially affected;

(c) Pithiness when the edible quality is materially affected by pith;

(d) Insects or rodents when the injury to the root materially affects the appearance of the turnip or rutabaga or causes a loss of more than 5 percent, by weight, or the edible quality of the root is materially affected; or when the tops are injured to the extent that the appearance of the bunch is materially affected; and

(e) Discoloration when yellowing or other discoloration of the tops materially affect the appearance of the bunch. The appearance of bunches of tops having slight discoloration such as yellowing, browning, or other abnormal color affecting a few leaves shall not be considered materially affected.

§ 51.2626 Fresh. "Fresh" means that the tops are of normal green color and are not badly wilted.

§ 51.2629 Seriously misshapen. "Seriously misshapen" means that the root is forked or misshapen to the extent that the appearance is seriously affected.

§ 51.2630 Serious damage. "Serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the individual turnip or rutabaga or the general appearance of the turnips or rutabagas in the container, or causes a loss of more than 20 percent, by weight, in the ordinary preparation for use.

The united States Standards for Turnips or Rutagabas contained in this subpart shall become effective 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and will thereupon supersede the United States Standards for Bunched Turnips issued August 9, 1927, and reissued January 18, 1943, and United States Standards for Topped Turnips or Rutabagas, issued March 21, 1935, and reissued September 27, 1949.

SUBPART A—GENERAL PROCEDURAL RULES

§ 601.101 Introduction—(a) General. The Internal Revenue Service is a branch of the Treasury Department under the immediate direction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The Commissioner has general superintendence of the assessment and collection of all taxes imposed by any law providing internal revenue and also of other functions relating to the administration and enforcement of laws applicable to alcohol and certain firearms which are in addition to those related to taxes. The Internal Revenue Service is the agency by which these functions are performed. Generally, the procedural rules of the Service are based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 and the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the procedural rules in this part apply to the taxes imposed by both Codes except to the extent specifically stated or where the procedure under one Code is incompatible with the procedure under the other Code. References to sections of the Code are references to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, unless otherwise expressly indicated.

(b) Scope. This part sets forth the procedural rules of the Internal Revenue Service respecting all taxes, except alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms taxes, administered by the Service, and supersedes the previously published statement (26 CFR (1939) Parts 600 and 601) with respect to such procedural rules, excepting that part of such statement dealing with alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms taxes. The procedural rules of the Service with respect to alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms taxes will be published at a later date as Subpart C to reflect regulatory changes effective January 1, 1955. Subpart A provides a descriptive statement of the general course and method by which the Service's functions are channeled and determined, insofar as such functions relate generally to the assessment and collection of internal revenue taxes. Certain provisions special to particular taxes are separately described in Subpart D. Conference and practice requirements of the Internal Revenue Service are contained in Subpart E. Specific matters not generally involved in the assessment and collection functions are separately described in Subpart B. A description of the rule-making functions of the Treasury Department with respect to internal revenue tax matters is contained in Subpart F. Subpart G relates to matters of official record in the Internal Revenue Service and the extent to which records and documents are subject to publication or open to public inspection. This part does not contain a detailed discussion of the substantive provisions pertaining to any particular tax or the procedures relating thereto, and for such information it is necessary that reference be made to the applicable provisions of law and the regulations promulgated thereunder. The regulations relating to the taxes administered by the Service are contained in Titles 26 and 27 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

§ 601.102 Classification of taxes collected by the Internal Revenue Service—(a) Principal divisions. Internal revenue taxes fall generally into the following principal divisions:

(1) Taxes collected by assessment.

(2) Taxes collected by means of revenue stamps.

(b) Assessed taxes. Taxes collected principally by assessment fall into the following two main classes:

(1) Taxes within the jurisdiction of the Tax Court of the United States. These include:

(i) Income and profits taxes imposed by chapters 1 and 2 of the 1939 Code and taxes imposed by subtitle A of the 1954 Code, relating to income taxes.

(ii) Estate taxes imposed by chapter 3 of the 1939 Code and chapter 11 of the 1954 Code.

(iii) Gift tax imposed by chapter 4 of the 1939 Code and chapter 12 of the 1954 Code.

(2) Taxes not within the jurisdiction of the Tax Court of the United States. Taxes not imposed by chapter 1, 2, 3, or 4 of the 1939 Code or subtitle A or chapter 11 or 12 of the 1954 Code are within this class, such as:

(i) Employment taxes,

(ii) Various sales taxes collected by return,

(iii) Miscellaneous excise taxes collected by return, and

(iv) Miscellaneous excise taxes collected by sale of revenue stamps.

(3) The difference between these two main classes is that only taxes described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, i. e., those within the jurisdiction of the Tax Court, may be contested before an independent tribunal prior to payment. Taxes of both classes may be contested by first making payment, filing claim for refund, and then bringing suit to recover if the claim is disallowed or no decision is rendered thereon within six months.

(c) Stamp taxes. Taxes collected by means of revenue stamps may in special circumstances be collected by assessment, but references hereinafter to the assessment process do not contemplate taxes ordinarily collectible by means of stamps, except as specially stated. For provisions special to taxes collected by means of revenue stamps, see § 601.404. Taxes collectible by assessment may be collected by suit without assessment, but this is seldom done.

§ 601.103 Summary of general tax procedure—(a) Collection procedure. The Federal tax system is basically one of self-assessment. Each taxpayer (or person required to collect and pay over the tax) is required to file a prescribed form of return which shows the facts upon which tax liability may be determined and assessed. Generally, the taxpayer must compute the tax due on the return and make payment thereof on or before the due date for filing the return. If the taxpayer fails to pay the tax when due, the district director of internal revenue issues a notice and demands payment within 10 days from the date of the notice. In the case of wage earners and nonresident aliens, the income tax is collected in large part through withholding at the source. Another means of collecting the income tax is through payments on declarations of estimated tax which are required by law to be filed by certain taxpayers whose gross income for the taxable year may be expected to exceed a specified amount. For taxable years ending on or after December 31, 1955, the law requires a declaration of estimated tax by certain corporations. See section 6016 of the Code. Neither withholding nor a declaration of estimated tax relieves a taxpayer from the duty of filing a return otherwise required. Certain excise taxes are collected by the sale of internal revenue stamps.

(b) Examination and determination of tax liability. After the returns are filed in the office of the district director of internal revenue, they are sorted, classified, and processed. Many of these returns are selected for examination. If adjustments are proposed with which the taxpayer does not agree, he is ordinarily accorded an opportunity to discuss the proposed adjustments (except with respect to mathematical errors) in an informal conference in the district director's office. If this informal conference results in agreement on the proposed adjustments, the taxpayer is requested to execute an agreement form. If the tax involved is an income, profits, estate, or gift tax, and if the taxpayer waives restrictions on the assessment and collection of the tax (see § 601.105 (b)), the deficiency will be immediately assessed.

(c) Disputed liability—(1) General. If the informal conference does not result in agreement on the adjustments proposed to be made, the taxpayer is given an opportunity to submit a protest in writing, stating under oath the facts on which he relies and the grounds for his contention that the adjustments are not proper. Following review of the protest, the case will be referred to the Appellate Division of the region and the taxpayer may also be accorded a conference in the Appellate Division. The determination of tax liability by the Appellate Division is final insofar as the taxpayer's appellate rights within the Service are concerned.

(2) Petition to the Tax Court of the United States. In the case of income, profits, estate and gift taxes, before a deficiency may be assessed a statutory notice of deficiency (commonly called a "90-day letter") must be sent to the taxpayer by registered mail unless the taxpayer waives this restriction on assessment. The taxpayer may then file a petition for a redetermination of the proposed deficiency with the Tax Court of the United States within 90 days from the date of the mailing of the statutory notice. If the notice is addressed to a person outside the States of the Union and the District of Columbia, the period within which a petition may be filed in the Tax Court is 150 days in lieu of 90 days. In other words, the taxpayer has the right in respect of these taxes to contest any proposed deficiency before an independent tribunal prior to assessment or payment of the deficiency. Unless the taxpayer waives the restrictions on assessment and collection after the date of the mailing of the statutory notice, no assessment or collection of a deficiency (not including the correction of a mathematical error) may be made in respect of these taxes until the expiration of the applicable period or, if a petition is filed with the Tax Court, until the decision of the Court has become final. If, however, the taxpayer makes a payment with respect to a deficiency, the amount of such payment may be assessed. See, however, § 601.105 (h). If the taxpayer fails to file a petition with the Tax Court within the applicable period, the deficiency will be assessed upon the expiration of such period and notice and demand for payment of the amount thereof will be mailed to the taxpayer by the district director of internal revenue. If the taxpayer files a petition with the Tax Court, the entire amount redetermined as the deficiency by a final decision of the Tax Court will be assessed and is payable upon notice and demand from the district director. There are no restrictions on the assessment and collection of the amount of any deficiency determined by the Tax Court, and a petition for review of the Court's decision will not stay the assessment and collection of the deficiency so determined, unless on or before the time the petition for review is filed the taxpayer files with the Tax Court a bond in a sum fixed by the Court not exceeding twice the portion of the deficiency in respect of which the petition for review is filed. No part of an amount determined as a deficiency but disallowed as such by a decision of the Tax Court which has become final may be assessed or collected by levy or by proceeding in court with or without assessment.

(3) Claims for refund. After payment of the tax a taxpayer may, within the applicable period of limitations, contest the assessment by filing with the district director a claim for refund of all or any part of the amount paid, except with respect to certain taxes determined by the Tax Court, the decision of which has become final. If the claim is allowed, the overpayment of tax and allowable interest thereon will be credited against other liabilities of the taxpayer, or will be refunded to the taxpayer. Generally, if the claim for refund is rejected in whole or in part, the taxpayer is notified of the rejection by registered mail. He may then bring suit in the United States District Court or in the United States Court of Claims for recovery of the tax. Suit may not be commenced before the expiration of six months from the date of filing of the claim for refund, unless a decision is rendered thereon within that time, nor after the expiration of two years from the date of mailing by registered mail to the taxpayer of a notice of the disallowance of the part of the claim to which the suit relates. Under the 1954 Code, the 2-year period of limitation for bringing suit may be extended for such period as may be agreed upon in a properly executed Form 907. Also, under the 1954 Code, if the taxpayer files a written waiver of the requirement that he be sent a notice of disallowance, the 2-year period for bringing suit begins to run on the date such waiver is filed. See section 6532 (a) of the Code.

§ 601.104 Collection functions—(a) Collection methods—(1) Returns. Generally, an internal revenue tax assessment is based upon a return required by law or regulations to be filed by the taxpayer upon which he himself computes the tax in the manner indicated by the return. If a taxpayer fails to make a return it may be made for him by a district director, revenue agent, or other duly authorized officer or employee. See section 6020 of the Code and the regulations thereunder. Returns must be made on the forms prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service. Forms are obtainable at the principal and branch offices of district directors of internal revenue. District directors commonly mail forms to persons who they have reason to believe may be required to file returns, but failure to receive a form does not excuse failure to comply with the law or regulations requiring a return. Returns, supplementary returns, statements or schedules and the time for filing them may sometimes be prescribed by regulations issued under authority of law by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. In the case of certain individual income taxpayers having gross income not exceeding an amount prescribed by law and consisting of income from specified sources, a special form (Form 1040A) is prescribed upon which the taxpayer may set forth the information necessary to a determination of his tax liability, and the district director will compute the tax due and mail to the taxpayer a notice and demand for payment. A husband and wife may make a single income tax return jointly. Certain affiliated groups of corporations may file consolidated income tax returns. See section 1501 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.

(2) Withholding of tax at source. Withholding at the source of income payments is an important method used in collecting taxes. For example, in the case of wage earners, the income tax is collected in large part through the withholding by employers of taxes on wages paid to their employees. The tax withheld at the source on wages is applied as a credit in payment of the individual's income tax liability for the taxable year. In no case does withholding of the tax relieve an individual from the duty of filing a return otherwise required by law. The chief means of collecting the income tax due from nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations not engaged in trade or business within the United States is the withholding of the tax by persons paying or remitting the income to the recipients. The tax withheld is allowed as a credit in payment of the tax imposed on such nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations.

(3) Declarations of estimated tax. Any individual who may reasonably expect to receive gross income for the taxable year from wages or from sources other than wages, in excess of amounts specified by law, is required to file a declaration of estimated income tax. Payments of estimated tax are applied in payment of the tax for the taxable year. A husband and wife may make a single declaration jointly, and the amount of the estimated tax paid on the declaration may be applied in payment of the income tax liability of either spouse in any proportion they may specify. For taxable years ending on or after December 31, 1955, the law requires a declaration of estimated tax by certain corporations. See section 6016 of the Code.

(4) Collection by sale of revenue stamps. Certain taxes are collected by sale of revenue stamps. These taxes fall into three general classes: Documentary stamp taxes, commodity stamp taxes, and occupational stamp taxes. The documentary and commodity stamp taxes are paid by having affixed to the document, memorandum of sale, policy, package, container, etc., in respect to which the tax is imposed, internal revenue stamps in the amount equal to the tax due and by cancelling such stamps in the manner prescribed. Payment of occupational taxes is evidenced by posting or displaying a special occupational tax stamp on the premises where the business is operated. In certain situations where it is not practicable to collect the tax by stamp, for example, where the instrument or commodity subject to stamp tax is no longer in existence or for other reasons cannot be stamped or where it is discovered that an occupational stamp tax was due for a prior taxable year, the tax may be collected by assessment. For special provisions applicable to stamp taxes, see § 601.404.

(5) Collection of tax by another person. Certain miscellaneous excise taxes are imposed on the person making the payment for admission, telephone service, transportation, and other facilities or services. Such taxes are required to be collected by the theater, telephone company, railroad, or other person receiving the payment. All taxes collected in this manner are held by the collecting agent in trust for the United States until paid over to the district director of internal revenue. If the person from whom the tax is required to be collected refuses to pay it or if for any reason it is impossible for the collecting agency to collect the tax from such person, the collecting agency is required to report the facts to the district director of internal revenue and the tax will then be collected by direct assessment against the person failing or refusing to pay the tax to the collecting agent. For special provisions applicable to excise taxes collected by another person, see § 601.403.

(b) Extension of time for filing returns. Under certain circumstances the Commissioner is authorized to grant a reasonable extension of time for filing a return or declaration. This authority has been delegated to the several district directors of internal revenue. The maximum period for extensions cannot be in excess of six months, except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad. With an exception in the case of estate tax returns, written application for extension must be received by the district director on or before the date prescribed by law for filing the return or declaration. On or before the last date prescribed by law for filing its income tax return, a corporation may obtain an automatic three-month extension of time for filing the income tax return by filing Form 7004 and paying an estimated amount not less than would be required as the first installment of tax due should the corporation elect to pay the tax in installments. An extension of time for filing a declaration of estimated tax (generally limited to a period of not more than 15 days) automatically extends the time for paying the estimated tax (without interest) for the same period.

(c) Enforcement procedure—(1) General. Taxes shown to be due on returns, deficiencies in taxes, and additional or delinquent taxes to be assessed, and penalties, interest and additions to taxes are recorded by the district director of internal revenue as "assessments". Under the law an assessment is prima facie correct for all purposes, the burden to disprove its correctness being upon the taxpayer. Upon assessment, the district director is required to effect collection of any amounts which remain due and unpaid after the expiration of 10 days from the date of notice and demand for their payment.

(2) Levy. If a taxpayer neglects or refuses to pay any tax within 10 days after notice and demand for its payment, it is lawful for the district director to make collection by levy on the taxpayer's property. See section 6331 of the Code. No suit for the purpose of restraining the assessment or collection of an internal revenue tax may be maintained in any court, except to restrain the assessment or collection of income, estate, or gift taxes during the period within which the assessment or collection of deficiencies in such taxes is prohibited. See section 7421 of the Code. Property taken under authority of any revenue law of the United States is irrepleviable. United States Revised Statutes, section 934; 28 U. S. C. 747.

(3) Liens. The United States' claim for taxes is a lien on the taxpayer's property. Such lien is not valid as against any mortgagee, pledgee, purchaser, or judgment creditor until notice has been filed by the district director. Despite such filing, the lien is not valid with respect to certain securities as against any mortgagee, pledgee or purchaser of such securities, for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, who is without notice or knowledge of the existence of such lien. A valid lien generally continues until the liability is satisfied or becomes unenforceable by reason of lapse of time. A certificate of release of lien may be issued upon the taxpayer furnishing proper bond in lieu of the lien, or when the liability is satisfied or becomes unenforceable by reason of lapse of time. The Code also contains additional provisions with respect to liens in the case of estate and gift taxes. For the specific rules with respect to liens, see subchapter C of chapter 64 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.

(4) Penalties. In the case of failure to file a return within the prescribed time, a certain percentage of the amount of tax is, pursuant to statute, added to the tax unless the failure to file the return within the prescribed time is shown to the satisfaction of the district director to be due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. Civil penalties are also imposed for fraudulent returns; in the case of income and gift taxes, for intentional disregard of rules and regulations or negligence; and additions to the tax are imposed for the failure to comply with the requirements of law with respect to the estimated income tax. See chapter 68 of the Code. Criminal penalties are imposed for willful failure to pay, collect, or truthfully account for and pay over tax, willfully attempting to evade or defeat tax or the payment thereof, or willful failure to make returns, keep records, supply information, etc. See chapter 75 of the Code.

(5) Informants' rewards. Payments to informers are authorized for detecting and bringing to trial and punishment persons guilty of violating the internal revenue laws. See section 7623 of the Code and the regulations thereunder. Claims for rewards should be made on Form 211. Relevant facts should be stated on the form, which after execution should be forwarded to the district director of internal revenue for the district in which the informer resides, or to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 601.105 Examination of returns and claims for refund, credit or abatement; determination of correct tax liability—(a) Processing of returns. When the returns are filed in the office of the district director of internal revenue, they are received by the Collection Division of the office and are checked first for form, execution, and mathematical accuracy. Mathematical errors are corrected and a correction notice of any such error is sent to the taxpayer. Notice and demand is made for the payment of any deficiency so resulting, or refund is made of any overpayment. All returns are then sorted by the Collection Division according to such classifications and subclassifications as are prescribed by the uniform management directives of the Commissioner. The purpose of these classifications is to facilitate prompt processing of returns showing refunds due and returns received with insufficient or no remittance, the selection of returns for audit, and the compilation of income and other statistics.

(b) Examination of returns—(1) General. The original examination of income, profits, estate, gift, excise, and employment tax returns is a primary function of internal revenue agents in the Audit Division of the office of each district director of internal revenue. Such internal revenue agents are organized in groups, each of which is under the immediate supervision of a group supervisor designated by the district director. Revenue agents and collection officers (and such other officers or employees of the Internal Revenue Service as may be designated for this purpose by the Commissioner) are authorized to examine any books, papers, records, or memoranda bearing upon matters required to be included in Federal tax returns and to take testimony relative thereto and to administer oaths. See section 7602 of the Code and the regulations thereunder. There are two general types of audit. These are commonly called "office audit" and "field audit".

(2) Office audit. Certain returns are examined by office audit. Ordinarily these are returns which do not disclose activities involving the conduct of a business. An office audit involves an analysis of the return in the light of the law and the regulations using such evidence as may be available based on returns for previous years, information returns and other records, and the returns of other taxpayers. The original classification of the return usually will have disclosed the need for explanation or supporting evidence. Generally, any questions arising in the office audit are brought to the taxpayer's attention through correspondence with him, and he is asked to supply explanations or copies of supporting evidence by mail. Frequently, however, the examining agent will request the taxpayer to come to the district director's office for a personal conference and interview. The taxpayer has a right, of course, to bring to the attention of the examining agent any amounts included in his return which are not subject to tax or any deductions which he failed to claim on the return.

(3) Field audit. Certain returns are examined by field audit which involves an examination by an internal revenue agent of the taxpayer's books and records on the taxpayer's premises. The revenue agent will check the entire return filed by the taxpayer and will examine all books, papers, records, and memoranda dealing with matters required to be included in the return. If the return presents an engineering or appraisal problem (e. g., depreciation or depletion deductions, gains or losses upon the sale or exchange of property, or losses on account of abandonment, exhaustion, or obsolescence), it may, at the discretion of the officer responsible for making the final determination with respect to the tax liability, be investigated by an engineer agent who makes a separate report.

(4) Conclusion of audit. At the conclusion of an office or field audit, the taxpayer is afforded an opportunity to agree with the findings of the examining agent. In the event that the taxpayer does not agree, the examining agent will inform the taxpayer of his right to an informal conference. The examining agent will furnish the taxpayer a brief statement identifying the proposed adjustments as a basis for requesting an informal conference, if desired. Such informal conference will afford the taxpayer an opportunity to discuss orally the proposed adjustments prior to the preparation of the examining agent's report. See paragraph (c) of this section for informal conference procedure. On the other hand, if the taxpayer agrees with the proposed changes, he should then execute Form 870, or other appropriate agreement form, which will be tendered to him by the examining agent. If the case involves income, profits, estate or gift taxes, this agreement is evidenced in the form of a waiver by the taxpayer of restrictions on assessment and collection of the deficiency, or an acceptance of a proposed overassessment. If the case involves excise or employment taxes, the agreement is evidenced by the taxpayer's signing a waiver of his right to file a claim for abatement after the assessment of the additional tax, or by an acceptance of a proposed overassessment. Even though the taxpayer signs an acceptance of a proposed overassessment, the district director remains free to assess a deficiency. On the other hand, the taxpayer who has given a waiver may still claim a refund of any part of the deficiency assessed against him and paid by him, or any part of the tax originally assessed and paid by him. The taxpayer's acceptance of an agreed overassessment does not prevent his filing a claim and bringing a suit for an additional sum, nor does it preclude the Government from maintaining suit to recover an erroneous refund. As a matter of practice, however, waivers or acceptances ordinarily result in the closing of a case insofar as the Government is concerned.

(c) Informal conference procedure—(1) General. If the taxpayer does not agree with the findings of the examining agent, the taxpayer is advised in writing that he may present his objections to such findings at an informal conference in the Audit Division of the district director's office. The taxpayer is usually granted 10 days from the date of the written notice in which to request an informal conference on the proposed changes. Such request may be made by telephoning or writing to the number or address set forth in such written notice. If the taxpayer fails to request an informal conference within such time or to obtain an extension of time for requesting a conference, the examining agent will proceed with the completion of his report, a copy of which will be mailed to the taxpayer by the district director under cover of a "30-day letter" stating the action proposed to be taken. For further procedure in such a case, see paragraph (d) of this section. If the case involves an additional or delinquent excise or employment tax and the taxpayer fails to request an informal conference, in lieu of a "30-day letter", the taxpayer will be sent a letter advising that the additional or delinquent tax will be assessed by the district director and further advising the taxpayer of the alternative courses of action available to him after the assessment. See paragraph (d) (2) of this section. In certain excise and employment tax cases, in lieu of enclosing a copy of the examining agent's report, such letter will contain an explanation of the proposed adjustments.

(2) Scope of informal conference procedure. The informal conference procedure described in this paragraph is applicable in the determination of any liability in respect of income, profits, estate, gift, excise, or employment taxes. This procedure, however, is not applicable in the determination of liability for any excise tax imposed by the following provisions of the Code (and the corresponding provisions of the 1939 Code): chapter 35 (relating to wagering); subchapter A of chapter 39 (relating to narcotic drugs and marihuana); subtitle E (relating to alcohol, tobacco, machine guns and certain other firearms); and subchapter D of chapter 78 (relating to certain import taxes) insofar as it relates to alcohol and tobacco. The procedure described in this paragraph does not apply in any case where criminal prosecution is under consideration, or in any case in which, in the discretion of the district director of internal revenue, the Government's interest would be prejudiced thereby. Nor does this procedure preclude the taking of appropriate action where the assessment or collection of the tax is in jeopardy. See paragraph (h) of this section.

(3) Rules governing informal conferences. The objective of the informal conference procedure is to give taxpayers greater opportunity to reach an early agreement with respect to disputed items arising from examinations made by internal revenue agents. This procedure affords a means by which such issues may be resolved prior to the preparation of the agent's report and without the necessity of the taxpayer filing a formal protest. The examining agent will be present at the conference. If the taxpayer is represented by an attorney or agent, the rules with respect to their recognition, the filing of powers of attorney, and the filing of fee statements are applicable. For conference and practice requirements, see Subpart E. In the conduct of informal conferences, it is the duty of the group supervisor or other officer who may be acting as conferee to conduct the conference in accordance with the objectives of the informal conference procedure and to provide the taxpayer a fair and courteous hearing at which the taxpayer may present his statement of facts and his view of the issues; to make certain that all pertinent facts are included in the record and are considered in arriving at the proposed recommendation; to make certain that the pertinent provisions of the Internal Revenue Code are applied in arriving at the proposed recommendation and that the proposed recommendation is in accord with the interpretations of the Internal Revenue Service as expressed in regulations and rulings; and to explain fully to the taxpayer the conclusions reached and the reasons therefor. It is the responsibility of the group supervisor or other designated officer to prepare a conference report with respect to each case on which an informal conference is held. This report, which will set forth briefly and concisely the facts and conclusions reached with respect to each issue, will be made available to the examining officer. In preparing his report the examining officer will give effect to the conference decisions. The examination report and the conference report are subject to review in the Audit Division of the district director's office. The purpose of this review is to insure uniformity in the application of the provisions of the Code, the regulations and rulings, as well as the general policy of the Service. In the event that an agreement with the taxpayer is reached at the informal conference, the taxpayer will be requested to execute Form 870 or other appropriate agreement form. Any deficiency in tax or additional tax proposed will then be assessed, or any overpayment will be credited or refunded.

(d) Thirty-day letters; protests; claims for abatement—(1) General. The report of the examining agent, as approved after review, recommends one of four determinations:

(i) Acceptance of the return as filed and closing of the case;

(ii) Assertion of a given deficiency or additional tax;

(iii) Allowance of a given overassessment, with or without a claim for refund, credit, or abatement;

(iv) If a claim for refund, credit, or abatement has been filed and has been found wholly lacking in merit, denial of the claim.

If any one of the last three determinations is made (except a full allowance of a claim in respect of any tax or a proposed additional excise or employment tax), unless the taxpayer has previously agreed with the finding by signing an agreement form as above described in this section, the district director sends to the taxpayer a preliminary or "30-day letter". This is a form letter which states the determination proposed to be made. Except in certain excise and employment tax cases, it is accompanied by a copy of the examining agent's report explaining the basis of the proposed determination. It suggests to the taxpayer that if he concurs in the recommendation, he indicate his agreement by executing and returning the enclosed form of waiver or acceptance. The preliminary letter also advises the taxpayer that if he disagrees with the proposed determination, he may file a written protest under oath within 30 days (from the date of the letter) stating the grounds for his disagreement and may have a hearing in the Appellate Division of the region if requested. Failure by the taxpayer to make any response within 30 days will result in the issuance of a statutory notice of deficiency in income, profits, estate and gift tax cases, or other appropriate action, such as the issuance of a certificate of overassessment or the denial of a claim.

(2) Excise and employment tax cases. If the case involves excise or employment taxes and the examination report proposes an additional or delinquent tax, in lieu of a "30-day letter", the taxpayer will be sent a letter advising that the additional or delinquent tax will be assessed by the district director and that upon receipt of notice and demand for payment of such additional or delinquent tax from the district director, the taxpayer may pay the assessment and file a claim for refund or credit, or may defer paying the assessment and instead file a claim for abatement of the assessment. Form 843 is the form prescribed for use in filing such claims. The taxpayer will also be advised that if he wishes the case to be transferred to the Appellate Division of the region, he should file with the claim a request in writing for such transfer. If the taxpayer requests consideration by the Appellate Division, he may file with his claim a written protest under oath setting forth the facts upon which he relies and his contentions with respect to the issues involved. If the taxpayer files a claim for abatement of the assessment and a request in writing for transfer of the case to the Appellate Division of the region, but does not file a protest, the Appellate Division may thereafter request the taxpayer to file a protest if the conferee to whom the case is assigned decides that a protest would facilitate disposition of the case. If the taxpayer fails to file a claim for abatement within 10 days from the date of the notice and demand for payment of the assessment, the tax becomes collectible immediately upon expiration of such period.

(3) Protests. If the taxpayer chooses to file a protest against the proposed determination set forth in the "30-day letter", his protest should be filed in the district director's office and, following review of the protest, the case will be referred to the Appellate Division of the region. The taxpayer will also be accorded a conference in the Appellate Division if he requests it. Protests should be filed in triplicate. No particular form of protest has been prescribed. However, instructions for the preparation of protests are sent with the "30-day letter". For a description of the procedure in the Appellate Division, see § 601.106.

(e) Claims for refund or credit. (1) After payment of the tax a taxpayer may contest the assessment by filing a claim for refund or credit for all or any part of the amount paid, except as provided in section 6512 of the Code with respect to certain taxes determined by the Tax Court, the decision of which has become final. A claim for refund or credit is made on Form 843, which is obtainable from the district director. Generally, the claim, together with appropriate supporting evidence, must be filed in the office of the district director for the district in which the tax was paid. A claim for refund or credit must be filed within the applicable statutory period of limitation. In the case of individuals a properly executed income tax return may, if the taxpayer elects, operate as a claim for refund or credit of the amount of the overpayment disclosed by such return. If an individual income taxpayer elects to file Form 1040A as a return, such return operates automatically as a claim for refund for the amount of the overpayment shown by the district director's computation of the tax on the basis of the return.

(2) Claims for refund or credit are investigated and considered by the Audit Division of the district director's office. The procedure applicable to the determination of correct tax liability upon the basis of a claim for refund or credit filed by the taxpayer is substantially the same as the procedure applicable to the original determination of tax liability upon the basis of a return filed by a taxpayer. The procedure applicable to the review of determinations of overassessments exceeding $100,000 is substantially the same as that applicable to such determinations by the Appellate Division. See § 601.108.

(3) As to suits for refund, see § 601.103 (c).

(4) A special procedure is applicable to claims for excess profits tax relief (including credit or refund) under section 722 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. See § 601.107 for a description of the applicable procedure.

(5) There is also a special procedure applicable to applications for tentative carryback adjustments under section 6411 of the Code (consult Forms 1045 and 1139).

(f) Interruption of audit and conference procedure. The process of field audits and the course of the administrative procedure described in this section and in the following section may be interrupted in some cases by the imminent expiration of the statutory period of limitations for assessment of the tax. In this event the district director of internal revenue or other appropriate officer concerned must dispatch a statutory notice of deficiency (income, profits, estate or gift tax cases) or take other appropriate action with a view to assessment, even though the audit or conferences may then be going forward. In order to avoid interruption of the established procedure (except in estate tax cases), it is suggested to the taxpayer that he execute an agreement on Form 872 (or such other form as may be prescribed for this purpose). To be effective this agreement must be entered into by the taxpayer and the district director or other appropriate officer concerned prior to the expiration of the time otherwise provided for assessment. Such a consent extends the period for assessment of any deficiency, or any additional or delinquent tax, and extends the period during which the taxpayer may claim a refund or credit to a date 6 months after the agreed time of extension of the assessment period.

(g) Fraud. The procedure described in this section does not apply in any case in which criminal prosecution is under consideration. Such procedure does obtain, however, in cases involving the assertion of the civil fraud penalty after the criminal aspects of the case have been closed.

(h) Jeopardy assessments. If the district director believes that the assessment or collection of a tax will be jeopardized by delay, he is authorized and required to assess the tax immediately, together with interest and other additional amounts provided by law, notwithstanding the restrictions on assessment or collection of income, estate and gift taxes contained in section 6213 (a) of the Code. A jeopardy assessment does not deprive the taxpayer of his right to file a petition with the Tax Court. Collection of a tax in jeopardy may be immediately enforced by the district director upon notice and demand. To stay collection the taxpayer may file with the district director a bond equal to the amount for which the stay is desired.

§ 601.106 Appellate functions—(a) General. (1) There is provided in each region an Appellate Division, with office facilities within the region. Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph, there is vested in certain officers of the Appellate Division of each region, by delegation of authority from the regional commissioner, the exclusive and final authority to represent the Commissioner in the determination of Federal income, profits, estate or gift tax liability (whether before or after the issuance of a statutory notice of deficiency) and in the determination of employment or certain Federal excise tax liability in any case originating in the office of any district director of internal revenue situated in the region, in which the taxpayer has protested the determination of liability made by that officer and no agreement has been reached. The Appellate Division has complete jurisdiction of every income, profits, estate or gift tax case after the issuance of the statutory notice of deficiency, subject to the limitations provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. After the filing of a petition in the Tax Court the Appellate Division continues to have exclusive jurisdiction of the case, subject to the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and to have custody of all administrative files, papers and documents relating to the case, which, however, are at all times available to the regional counsel for the preparation of appropriate pleadings to the petition and for the defense before the Tax Court of the Commissioner's determination. Subject to the exceptions and limitations set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, there is also vested in the Appellate Division of the region exclusive authority to settle (i) all cases docketed in the Tax Court of the United States and placed on a calendar for hearing at any place within the territory comprising the region and (ii) all cases originating in the office of any district director situated within the region which are placed on the Washington, D. C., calendar of the Tax Court, unless the petitioner is then domiciled in the region which includes Washington, D. C. Furthermore, the Appellate Division of the region may retain exclusive authority to settle all cases docketed in the Tax Court which originated in the office of any district director situated within the territorial jurisdiction of such region which may be placed upon a calendar of the Tax Court for hearing at a place within the territorial jurisdiction of the Appellate Division of an adjoining region.

(2) The authority described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph does not include the authority to:

(i) Make or approve a settlement in any case docketed in the Tax Court, except with the concurrence of regional counsel;

(ii) Eliminate the ad valorem fraud or negligence penalty in any case not docketed in the Tax Court, except with the concurrence of regional counsel;

(iii) Act in any case in which criminal prosecution has been recommended, unless and until final disposition has been made of the criminal aspects thereof; or

(iv) Modify any decision of the Excess Profits Tax Council with respect to any issue arising under the provisions of section 722 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939, except with the concurrence of the Council.

(3) The authority vested in the Appellate Division does not extend to the determination of liability for any excise tax imposed by the following chapters of the Internal Revenue Code (and the corresponding provisions of the 1939 Code): chapter 35 (relating to wagering); subchapter A of chapter 39 (relating to narcotic drugs and marihuana); subtitle E (relating to alcohol, tobacco, machine guns and certain other firearms); and subchapter D of chapter 78 (relating to certain import taxes) insofar as it relates to alcohol and tobacco.

(b) Initiation of proceedings before the Appellate Division. In any case in which the district director of internal revenue has issued a preliminary or "30-day letter" and the taxpayer files a written protest under oath against the proposed determination of tax liability made by the district director, and in any case in which the taxpayer files a claim for abatement or refund of any excise or employment tax, the taxpayer has the right (and will be so advised by the district director) of administrative appeal to the Appellate Division of the region. Following review of the protest, the case and its administrative record are referred to the Appellate Division. No taxpayer is required to submit his case to the Appellate Division for consideration. Appeal is at the option of the taxpayer. A request for administrative appeal to the Appellate Division will not be denied because no informal conference was held in the district director's office. The Appellate Division will not consider before the issuance of a statutory notice of deficiency any case involving a determination of income, profits, estate or gift tax liability in which no protest has been filed with the district director. After the issuance by the district director of a statutory notice of deficiency in such a case, upon the taxpayer's request, the Appellate Division may take up the case for settlement and may grant the taxpayer a hearing thereon. Except in unusual circumstances, however, no hearing in such a case will be granted prior to the filing of a petition in the Tax Court for a redetermination of the deficiency proposed in the statutory notice.

(c) Nature of proceedings before the Appellate Division. Proceedings before the Appellate Division are informal. Testimony under oath is not taken, although matters alleged as fact may be required to be submitted in the form of affidavits. Taxpayers may appear in person or by or with a representative duly enrolled to practice before the Treasury Department and whose appearance must be under a proper power of attorney authorizing him to act for the taxpayer. See Subpart E. Any material matter of fact not presented to the district director of internal revenue will be subject to reference to the district director for investigation and report. At any hearing granted by the Appellate Division the district director will be represented if he so desires, or if the Chief of the Appellate Division of the region, or his authorized representative, deems it advisable; and at any such hearing on a case involving the ad valorem fraud or negligence penalty, the regional counsel will be represented if he so desires.

(d) Disposition and settlement of cases before the Appellate Division—(1) Cases not docketed in the Tax Court. (i) If after consideration of the case by the Appellate Division of the region a satisfactory settlement of the issues is reached with the taxpayer, he will be requested to sign Form 870–AD or other appropriate agreement form waiving restrictions on the assessment and collection of any deficiency, or to sign an acceptance of any overassessment resulting under the agreed settlement. As an incident to such settlement the taxpayer may also be required to execute an agreement to make prompt payment of the agreed deficiency or additional tax, together with interest due thereon; not to file an offer in compromise in respect of the agreed tax liability; and upon request to execute at any time a final closing agreement (see § 601.202) under the provisions of section 7121 of the Code in respect of the tax liabilities determined upon the basis of the agreed settlement.

(ii) If after consideration of the case by the Appellate Division of the region it is determined that there is a deficiency in income, profits, estate or gift tax, to which the taxpayer does not agree, a statutory notice of deficiency will be prepared and issued by the Appellate Division after consideration by the regional counsel. The case will be retained by the Appellate Division and, in the event a petition is filed with the Tax Court, the case will be referred to the regional counsel for preparation of the answer or other appropriate pleading. In the event that no petition is filed, the case will be transferred to the district director for appropriate action. In any other unagreed case, the case and its administrative record will be returned to the district director with directions to take such action with respect to the tax liability determined in the Appellate Division as may be appropriate, such as the issuance of a statutory notice of disallowance of a claim for refund or credit in whole or in part, the preparation of a certificate of overassessment or other appropriate action, or the collection of any additional tax (excise and employment tax cases).

(2) Cases docketed in the Tax Court. (i) If the case under consideration in the Appellate Division is docketed in the Tax Court and agreement is reached with the taxpayer with respect to the issues involved, the disposition of the case is effected by a stipulation of agreed deficiency or overpayment to be filed with the Tax Court and in conformity with which the Court will enter its order.

(ii) If the case under consideration in the Appellate Division is docketed in the Tax Court and the issues remain unsettled after consideration and conference in the Appellate Division, the case will be referred to the regional counsel for the region for defense of the tax liability determined.

(e) Transfer and centralization of cases. (1) If a case is docketed in the Tax Court of the United States and is placed on a calendar for hearing at any place within one region, and such case originated in the office of a district director situated within another region, the Commissioner has the authority to confer all or any part of the jurisdiction, authority, and duties vested in the Appellate Division of the region in which the case originated upon the Appellate Division of the region within which the place of hearing is located. However, jurisdiction will not be transferred to the Appellate Division of the region which includes Washington, D. C., in any docketed case set for hearing at Washington, D. C., which did not originate within such region, unless the taxpayer's domicile is then situated within such region. Likewise, the Chief Counsel has corresponding authority to transfer the jurisdiction, authority, and duties of the regional counsel for any region to the regional counsel of another region within which the case has been set for hearing before the Tax Court.

(2) Should a regional commissioner determine that it would better serve the interests of the Government, he may, by order in writing, withdraw any case not docketed before the Tax Court from the jurisdiction of the Appellate Division of the region, and provide for its disposition under his personal direction. Similarly, should the regional commissioner and the regional counsel jointly determine that it would better serve the interests of the Government, they may, by order in writing, withdraw any case docketed before the Tax Court from the jurisdiction of the Appellate Division of the region, and provide for its disposition under their joint direction.

(f) Conference and practice requirements. Practice and conference procedure before the Appellate Division is governed by Treasury Department Circular 230 as amended (31 CFR, Parts 10, 12, 13, and 14), and the requirements of Subpart E. In addition to such rules but not in modification of them, the following rules are also applicable to practice before the Appellate Division:

(1) Rule I. The Appellate Division conferee shall bear in mind that an exaction by the United States Government, which is not based upon law, statutory or otherwise, is a taking of property without due process of law, in violation of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The conferee, in his conclusions of fact or application of the law, shall hew to the law and the recognized standards of legal construction. It shall be the duty of the conferee to determine the correct amount of the tax, with strict impartiality as between the taxpayer and the Government, and without favoritism or discrimination as between taxpayers.

(2) Rule II. In recognition of the difference between abstract theory and practical administration, where substantial uncertainties exist either in law or in fact, or both, as to the correct application of the law to the whole record of a controversy, the Appellate Division will give serious consideration to an offer of settlement of the dispute on a basis which fairly reflects the strength or weakness of the opposing views. However, no settlement will be countenanced based upon nuisance value of the case to either party.

(3) Rule III. Where the Appellate Division conferee recommends acceptance of the taxpayer's proposal of settlement, or, in the absence of a proposal, recommends action favorable to the taxpayer, and said recommendation is disapproved in whole or in part by a reviewing officer in the Appellate Division, the taxpayer shall be so advised by such reviewing officer and upon written request shall be accorded a rehearing before such reviewing officer. The Appellate Division disregards this rule where the interests of the Government would be injured by delay, as for example, a case involving the imminent expiration of the statute of limitations, dissipation of assets, etc.

(4) Rule IV. Where the Chief of the Appellate Division, the Associate Chief, Assistant Chief, or Special Assistant to the Chief, as the case may be, deems it advisable, whether or not upon request of the taxpayer, the district director of internal revenue will be requested to be represented at any Appellate Division conference on the case, in which event such representative (or representatives) will be invited and expected to enter into the discussion and oral argument at the conference on an equal footing with the taxpayer.

(5) Rule V. In order to bring an income, profits, estate or gift tax case before the Appellate Division in prestatutory notice status, the taxpayer must first file with the district director of internal revenue a written protest setting forth specifically the reasons for his refusal to accept the director's findings. The Appellate Division will not assume jurisdiction in an employment or excise tax case prior to the filing of a claim for refund or a claim for abatement.

(6) Rule VI. A taxpayer cannot withhold evidence from the district director of internal revenue and expect to introduce it for the first time before the Appellate Division, at a conference in nondocketed status, without being subject to having the case returned to the district director for reconsideration. Where newly discovered evidence is submitted for the first time to the Appellate Division, in a case pending in nondocketed status, that office, in the reasonable exercise of its discretion, may transmit same to the district director for his consideration and comment.

(7) Rule VII. Where the taxpayer has had the benefit of a conference either before the office of the district director of internal revenue or before the Appellate Division, as the case may be, in the prestatutory notice status, or where the opportunity for such a conference was accorded but not availed of, there will be no conference granted before the Appellate Division in the 90-day status after the mailing of the statutory notice of deficiency, in the absence of unusual circumstances.

(8) Rule VIII. In any case docketed in the Tax Court of the United States on which a conference is being conducted before an Appellate Division conferee, the Regional Counsel is privileged to be represented and to participate in the discussion. In cases not docketed in the Tax Court of the United States on which a conference is being conducted before an Appellate Division conferee, the Regional Counsel or his representative may be requested to attend and to give legal advice in the more difficult cases, or on matters of legal or litigating policy.

(9) Rule IX. A taxpayer may request the reopening or resumption of settlement conferences in a docketed case, before the Associate Chief or the Assistant Chief, as the case may be, in charge of an Appellate Division office, and whenever such request is granted, the conferee who originally heard the case shall ordinarily be present and participate in any conference.

(g) Limitations on the jurisdiction and functions of the Appellate Division—(1) Overassessments of more than $100,000. If the Appellate Division of the region determines in any case that there is an overassessment (of taxes, penalties, or interest) exceeding $100,000, such determination is subject to review by the Office of the Chief Counsel. See § 601.108.

(2) Offers in compromise. For jurisdiction of the Appellate Division with respect to offers in compromise of tax liabilities, see § 601.203.

(3) Closing agreements. For jurisdiction of the Appellate Division with respect to closing agreements under section 7121 of the Code relating to any internal revenue tax liability, see § 601.202.

(4) Bankruptcy and receivership. For limitations on the authority and functions of the Appellate Division in bankruptcy and receivership cases, see § 601.109.

§ 601.107 Excess Profits Tax Council; appellate functions and procedures under section 722 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939—(a) General. (1) Subchapter E of chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 imposed on corporations an excess profits tax based on their "adjusted excess profits net income" as defined in section 711 of such Code. This tax was effective as to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and was repealed by the Revenue Act of 1945, with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945. Section 722 of the 1939 Code provides that, if the taxpayer, pursuant to certain rules and standards in such section, establishes that the tax computed under subchapter E is excessive and discriminatory, relief under limitations contained in section 722 will be granted. The appellate functions of the Excess Profits Tax Council relate to the consideration and the determination of issues arising under section 722.

(2) The rules bearing upon the procedure applicable with respect to section 722 of the 1939 Code are found in Regulations 109 and Regulations 112 (26 CFR, 1938 Ed. and Supps., Part 35). There has also been published "Bulletin on Section 722 of the Internal Revenue Code", copies of which may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. Practice and conference procedure before the Council is also governed by Treasury Department Circular 230 (31 CFR, Parts 10–14), and the requirements of Subpart E.

(b) Procedure. (1) To secure excess profits tax relief under section 722 of the 1939 Code an application therefor must be filed within the applicable period of time prescribed by section 322 of such Code. The application is required to be filed in duplicate on Form 991, copies of which are obtainable at district directors' offices. The regulations promulgated under section 722 (see paragraph

(a) (2) of this section) provide that an application must be filed for each year for which the benefits of section 722 are claimed and that only one section 722 application for any year may be filed. Such applications are required to be so framed as to adequately disclose the essential facts and issues involved.

(2) Applications for relief under section 722 are referred for investigation and consideration to section 722 field committees established at the offices of district directors of internal revenue. After completion of investigation and consideration of an application for relief by a section 722 field committee, the taxpayer is afforded opportunity for a conference for the consideration of the committee's findings. After field committee consideration and conference with the taxpayer, the recommendations of the field committee are certified to the Excess Profits Tax Council for review. In the event that the taxpayer and the field committee cannot reach an agreement on the application or where an agreement between the taxpayer and the field committee is not approved by the Council, the taxpayer will be afforded an adequate opportunity to have its case heard before the Council.

(3) Determinations of the Council are subject to appeal to the Tax Court of the United States under the provisions of section 732 of the 1939 Code.

§ 601.108 Review of overassessments exceeding $100,000—(a) By Office of Chief Counsel. Determinations of overassessments (other than overassessments of alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms taxes) with respect to any internal revenue tax exceeding $100,000 are subject to review by the Office of the Chief Counsel. If upon review of such a determination by the Office of the Chief Counsel that office questions the proposed overassessments, the taxpayer or his representative will ordinarily, if a legal question is involved, be advised by letter regarding such issue. Such letter will also advise the taxpayer or his representative that upon request a conference will be granted by the Office of the Chief Counsel at which time the taxpayer or his representative may appear and present his views regarding the issue.

(b) Other applicable procedures. If agreement is reached with the taxpayer on the issues involved (including agreement with the Office of the Chief Counsel on any issues raised by that office), the taxpayer will be requested to file a letter stating his agreement with any proposed revision of the overassessment and the basis thereof, and also to agree in such letter to execute Form 870 or other appropriate agreement form accepting the revised proposed overassessment and not to file any further claims for refund, credit, or abatement with respect to any tax, penalty, or interest to which such proposed overassessment relates. In addition, the taxpayer may also be requested to execute at any time upon request a final closing agreement under section 7121 of the Code respecting the tax liability to which the proposed overassessment relates.

(c) Certification or rejection of claimed overpayment. Section 6405 of the Code provides that no refund or credit of income, profits, estate or gift taxes in excess of $100,000 shall be made until after the expiration of 30 days from the date upon which a report of the matter is made to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation of Congress. After compliance with section 6405, the case will be processed for issuance of a certificate of overassessment, and payment or credit of any overpayment. If the final determination involves a rejection of a claimed overpayment, in whole or in part, a statutory notice of rejection will be sent by registered mail to the taxpayer. See section 6532 (a) (1) of the Code.

§ 601.109 Bankruptcy and receivership cases—(a) General. (1) Upon the adjudication of bankruptcy of any taxpayer in any liquidating proceeding or the approval of a petition of, or against, any taxpayer in any other proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or the appointment of a receiver for any taxpayer in any receivership proceeding before a court of the United States or of any State or Territory or of the District of Columbia, the assessment of any deficiency in income, profits, estate or gift taxes (together with all interest, additional amounts, or additions to the tax provided for by law) shall be made immediately. See section 6871 of the Code. In such cases the restrictions imposed by section 6213 (a) of the Code upon assessments are not applicable. (In the case of an assignment for the benefit of creditors, the assessment will be made under section 6861, relating to jeopardy assessments. See § 601.105 (h).) Cases in which immediate assessment will be made include those of taxpayers in receivership or in bankruptcy, agricultural composition, reorganization, arrangement, or wage earner proceedings under chapters I to VII, sections 75, 77, chapters X, XI, XII, and XIII of the Bankruptcy Act. The term "approval of a petition in any other proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act" includes the filing of a petition under section 75 or chapters XI to XIII of the Bankruptcy Act with a court of competent jurisdiction. A fiduciary in any proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act (including a trustee, receiver, debtor in possession, or other person designated by the court as in control of the assets or affairs of a debtor) or a receiver in any receivership proceeding may be required, as provided in regulations prescribed under section 6036 of the Code, to give notice in writing to the district director of his qualification as such. Failure on the part of such fiduciary in a receivership proceeding or a proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act to give such notice, when required, results in the suspension of the running of the period of limitations on the making of assessments from the date of the institution of the proceeding to the date upon which such notice is received by the district director, and for an additional 30 days thereafter. However, in no case where the required notice is not given shall the suspension of the running of the period of limitations on assessment exceed 2 years. See section 6872 of the Code.

(2) It is the duty of the district director, promptly after ascertaining the existence of any outstanding Federal tax liability against a taxpayer in any proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or receivership proceeding, and in any event within the time limited by appropriate provisions of law or the appropriate orders of the court in which such proceeding is pending, to file a proof of claim covering such liability in the court in which the proceeding is pending. Such a claim is filed whether the unpaid taxes involved have been assessed or not except in cases where departmental instructions direct otherwise. At the same time claim is filed with the bankruptcy or receivership court, the district director will send to the taxpayer notice and demand for payment together with a copy of such claim.

(3) After the institution of a railroad reorganization, corporate reorganization or real property arrangement proceeding under section 77 and chapters X and XII of the Bankruptcy Act, copies of the proof of claim and all other information essential to the protection of the interests of the Government are transmitted to the Chief Counsel in the National Office where the Chief Counsel's legal functions in these proceedings are performed. In connection with strict bankruptcy liquidation proceedings, agricultural composition and extension proceedings, arrangement proceedings and wage earner plan proceedings, under chapters I to VII, section 75 and chapters XI and XIII of the Bankruptcy Act and with respect to receivership proceedings, decedent's estates, assignments for the benefit of creditors and other miscellaneous insolvency proceedings, the district director retains all of such information until he concludes that legal action or advice of regional counsel is desirable, or necessary, in which event he refers the legal case to regional counsel.

(b) Procedure in office of district director of internal revenue. (1) While the district director is required by section 6871 of the Code to make immediate assessment of any deficiency in income, estate or gift taxes, such assessment is not made as a jeopardy assessment (see § 601.105 (h)), and the provisions of section 6861 do not apply to any assessment made under section 6871. Therefore, the notice of deficiency provided for in section 6861 (b) will not be mailed to the taxpayer. Nevertheless, a letter (Form 7900) will be prepared and addressed in the name of the taxpayer, immediately followed by the name of the trustee, receiver, debtor in possession or other person designated by the court in which the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding is pending as in control of the assets or affairs of the debtor. Such letter will state how the deficiency was computed and advise that within 30 days a written protest under oath may be filed with the district director showing wherein the deficiency is claimed to be incorrect, and that upon request an informal conference will be granted with respect to such deficiency. If, after protest is filed and any informal conference is held, adjustment appears necessary in the deficiency, appropriate action will be taken. Except where the interests of the Government require otherwise, Form 7900 letters are issued by the office of the district director of internal revenue. If at the time of the adjudication of bankruptcy in a liquidating proceeding or the approval of a petition in any other proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or appointment of a receiver a case was pending before the Tax Court of the United States, the prescribed Form 7900 letter will not advise the addressee of any right to file a protest or to request a conference in the office of the district director. Protests must be filed in triplicate. In general, the procedure concerning informal conferences described in § 601.105 (c) is also applicable to an informal conference held after the issuance of a Form 7900 letter, except that the examining agent's report may be prepared prior to such conference.

(2) The immediate assessment required by section 6871 of the Code represents an exception to the usual restrictions on the assessment of Federal income, estate, and gift taxes. Since there are no restrictions on the assessment of Federal excise or employment taxes, immediate assessment of such taxes will be made in any case where section 6871 of the Code would require immediate assessment of income, estate, or gift taxes.

(3) If after such assessment a claim for abatement is filed and such claim is accompanied by a request in writing for a hearing, an informal conference in the office of the district director of internal revenue will be granted. Ordinarily, only one conference will be held unless it develops that additional information can be furnished which has a material bearing upon the tax liability, in which event the conference will be continued to a later date.

(c) Procedure before Appellate Division not applicable. A case involving immediate assessment under section 6871 of the Code or an assessment of excise or employment taxes after an adjudication of bankruptcy in a liquidating proceeding or the approval of a petition in any other proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or the appointment of a receiver will not be referred by the district director to a field office of the Appellate Division. Therefore, the taxpayer, or the trustee, receiver, or debtor in possession or other person designated by the court as in control of the assets or affairs of the debtor, may not request consideration of the case by the Appellate Division. If at the time of the adjudication of bankruptcy or the approval of a petition or the appointment of a receiver an income, estate, or gift tax case is under consideration by a field office of the Appellate Division, whether before or after issuance of a statutory notice of deficiency, the case will be returned to the district director for issuance of the Form 7900 letter and filing proof of claim in any proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or in a receivership proceeding. Excise and employment tax cases pending in the Appellate Division at such time will likewise be returned to the district director for filing proof of claim in any proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or in a receivership proceeding. Thereafter, the case will not be transferred by the district director to the Appellate Division unless a petition for redetermination of the deficiency had been filed in the Tax Court prior to the adjudication of bankruptcy in a liquidating proceeding or the approval of a petition in any other proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or the appointment of a receiver, and the taxpayer or the trustee, receiver, debtor in possession or other person designated by the bankruptcy or receivership court as in control of the debtor's assets or affairs elects to prosecute the proceeding in the Tax Court. A petition for redetermination of a deficiency may not be filed in the Tax Court after the adjudication of bankruptcy or the approval of a petition or the appointment of a receiver. See section 6871 (b). However, the Tax Court is not deprived of jurisdiction where the adjudication of bankruptcy or the approval of a petition or the appointment of a receiver occurred subsequent to the filing of the petition. In such a case the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy or receivership court and the Tax Court is concurrent.

(d) Priority of claims. Under section 3466 of the Revised Statutes and section 3467 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, and section 64 of the Bankruptcy Act, taxes are entitled to the priority over other claims therein stated and the trustee, receiver, debtor in possession or other person designated as in control of the assets or affairs of the debtor by the court in which the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding is pending may be held personally liable for failure on his part to protect the priority of the Government respecting taxes of which he has notice. Sections 75 (1), 77 (e), 199, 337 (2), 455 and 659 (6) of the Bankruptcy Act also contain provisions with respect to the rights of the United States relative to priority of payment. Bankruptcy courts have jurisdiction under the Bankruptcy Act to determine all disputes regarding the amount and the validity of tax claims against a bankrupt or a debtor in a proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act. A bankruptcy or receivership proceeding or an assignment for the benefit of creditors does not discharge any portion of a claim of the United States for taxes except in the case of a proceeding under section 77 or chapter X of the Bankruptcy Act; and any portion of a claim of the United States for taxes which has been allowed by the court in which the bankruptcy or receivership is pending and which remains unsatisfied after the termination of the proceeding shall be collected with interest in accordance with law.

SUBPART B—RULINGS AND OTHER SPECIFIC MATTERS

§ 601.201 Rulings and determination letters—(a) General policy and definitions. (1) It is the policy of the Internal Revenue Service to answer inquiries of individuals and organizations, whenever appropriate in the interest of sound tax administration, as to their status for tax purposes and as to the tax effects of their acts or transactions, prior to their filing of returns or reports as required by the internal revenue laws. One of the functions of the National Office of the Internal Revenue Service is the issuance of rulings on such matters. District directors of internal revenue are authorized, as hereinafter provided, to issue determination letters within the scope of their functions in answer to taxpayers' inquiries or requests.

(2) The term "ruling" is used to describe a written statement issued by the National Office of the Internal Revenue Service which is an expression of the official interpretation or policy of the Office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Rulings are issued by the Commissioner, or under his authority, and are intended to serve the purpose of establishing principles and policies of the Service in the interpretation and application of substantive tax law. Rulings are issued only by the National Office of the Internal Revenue Service. The Office of the Chief Counsel provides legal services and advice to the Commissioner and his staff in connection with rulings and closing agreements.

(3) The term "determination letter" is used to describe a written statement issued by a district director of internal revenue in response to an inquiry by an individual or an organization, and solely by way of application to the facts involved in a particular inquiry or request of the principles and policies previously established by the National Office. Determination letters are issued only where a determination can be made on the basis of clearly established rules as set forth in the statute, Treasury decisions or regulations, or rulings, opinions or court decisions published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin. Where such a determination cannot be made (such as where the question presented involves a novel issue) or the matter is excluded from the jurisdiction of a district director of internal revenue by the provisions of this section, a determination letter will not be issued by the district director.

(b) Rulings issued by the National Office in Washington, D. C. (1) In income, profits, estate, and gift tax matters the National Office will exercise jurisdiction with respect to prospective transactions and with respect to completed transactions affecting returns to be filed, except that it will not ordinarily issue rulings to taxpayers or their representatives in connection with returns to be filed if the identical issue is also involved in a return or returns of the taxpayer already filed for a taxable period or periods with respect to which the statutory period of limitation on assessment or refund of tax has not expired.

(2) In employment and excise tax matters the National Office will exercise jurisdiction over requests for rulings received in the National Office whether such requests are received direct from the taxpayers or whether they are received through the office of a district director of internal revenue, except that the National Office will not ordinarily issue a ruling to a taxpayer or his representative if it knows or has reason to believe that the issue is before the district director in an active examination or audit of the liability of the taxpayer. Likewise, the National Office will not ordinarily take jurisdiction of an issue with respect to future action if it knows or has reason to believe that the identical issue is before the district director in an active examination or audit of the liability of the taxpayer for a prior period.

(c) Determination letters issued by district directors of internal revenue. (1) In income, profits, estate, and gift tax matters district directors of internal revenue are authorized to issue determination letters in response to taxpayers' requests submitted to their offices involving completed transactions only, which affect returns required to be filed in their districts, but only if the question presented is covered specifically by statute, Treasury decision or regulations, or specifically by a ruling, opinion, or court decision published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin. Determination letters will not usually be issued with respect to a question which involves an income, profits, estate, or gift tax return or returns to be filed by the taxpayer if the identical question is involved in a return or returns already filed by the taxpayer. District directors of internal revenue are not authorized to issue determination letters as to the income, profits, estate, or gift tax consequence of prospective or proposed transactions, except as provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(2) In employment and excise tax matters district directors of internal revenue are authorized to issue determination letters in response to requests from taxpayers who have filed or who are required to file returns in the district over which they have jurisdiction, but only if the question presented is covered specifically by statute, Treasury decision or regulations, or specifically by a ruling, opinion, or court decision published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, a district director of internal revenue is not authorized to issue a determination letter in response to an inquiry, although presenting a question covered specifically by statute, regulations, or a ruling, etc., published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin, where (i) it appears that a similar inquiry from the taxpayer has been directed to the National Office, (ii) the determination letter is requested by an industry, trade association, or similar group, or (iii) the request involves an industry-wide problem. A district director of internal revenue is not authorized to issue a determination letter unless it is clearly indicated that the inquiry is with regard to a taxpayer or taxpayers in the district under the supervision of the district director who receives the request. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the district director of internal revenue is not authorized to issue a determination letter on an employment tax question when the specific question involved has been or is being considered by the National Office of the Social Security Administration, nor on an excise tax question if the request is for a determination of fair market price under sections 4216 (b) and 4218 of the Code or for a determination of fair charges under sections 4281 and 4282 of the Code.

(4) District directors of internal revenue are authorized to issue determination letters involving the status of plans and trusts under section 401 of the Code but are restricted to (i) the initial qualification of the plan under section 401 of the Code, and if trusteed, the status for exemption of the trust forming a part of the plan; (ii) amendments to the plan or trust; (iii) curtailment or termination of plan; and (iv) the effect of an investment of trust funds in stock or securities of the employer on the qualification of the plan. Such authority does not include determinations or opinions under section 402, 403, or 404 of the Code. See also paragraph (l) of this section.

(5) District directors of internal revenue are authorized to issue determination letters involving the exempt status of an organization described in sections 501 and 521 of the Code with respect to the filing of returns and the payment of income tax. Such determination letters are restricted to routine determinations in which the application of the law to the facts shown on the exemption application is clear and which do not present an involved or questionable issue. Applications presenting involved or questionable issues will be forwarded by the district directors of internal revenue to the National Office in Washington, D. C., for the issuance of a ruling. See also paragraph (k) of this section.

(6) A request received by a district director of internal revenue with respect to a question involved in an income, profits, estate, or gift tax return or returns already filed will, in general, be considered in connection with the examination of the return or returns. However, if response to such inquiry is made prior to an examination or audit, it will not be considered a determination letter but will be considered a tentative finding in any subsequent examination or audit of the return.

(d) Discretionary authority to issue rulings and determination letters. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the Internal Revenue Service has discretionary authority to issue rulings or determination letters. This discretion will be exercised in the light of all relevant circumstances, including the business or other reasons motivating the transaction, and with a view to issuing rulings or determination letters only to the extent consistent with the proper administration of the internal revenue laws.

(2) Rulings will be made in the National Office on prospective transactions where the law or regulations provide for a determination of the effect of a proposed transaction for tax purposes, as in the case of a transfer coming under the provisions of chapter 5 of the Code, or an exchange coming under the provisions of section 367 of the Code.

(e) Questions on which no ruling or determination letter will be issued. In addition to the other situations described in this section, rulings or determination letters ordinarily will not be issued in connection with income, profits, estate, and gift tax matters where the determination requested is primarily one of fact, e. g., (1) market value of property, (2) whether compensation is reasonable in amount, (3) whether a transfer is one in contemplation of death, (4) whether retention of earnings and profits by a corporation is for the purpose of avoiding surtax on its shareholders, or (5) whether a transfer or acquisition is within section 1551 or section 269 of the Code.

(f) Instructions with respect to submission of requests for rulings or determination letters. (1) Requests for determination letters and rulings should be submitted in duplicate if more than one issue is presented in the request. Requests relating to prospective transactions should not contain alternative plans. Each request for a determination letter or a ruling on either a prospective transaction or a completed transaction must include the following:

(i) A complete statement of the facts regarding the transaction, including the names and addresses of all interested parties, together with a copy of each contract or other document necessary to present such facts. (Inasmuch as exhibits and documents will be retained in the Service files, original documents should not be furnished.) If the subject matter is a corporate reorganization, distribution, or similar related transaction, there should also be submitted the corporate balance sheet nearest the date of the transaction (the most recent balance sheet if the transaction is prospective).

(ii) A full and precise statement of the business reasons, if any, for the transaction.

(iii) If the taxpayer is contending for a particular determination, an explanation of the ground for such contention, together with a memorandum of relevant authorities.

(2) If the request is with respect to the qualification of an organization described in section 501 or 521 of the Code for exemption from Federal income tax, see paragraph (k) of this section. If the request is with respect to the qualification of a plan under section 401 of the Code, see paragraph (l) of this section.

(3) A request by or on behalf of a taxpayer must be signed by the taxpayer or his duly authorized representative. (For provisions relating to powers of attorney and enrollment, see Subpart E.) Requests with respect to matters on which a ruling is desired from the National Office should be addressed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C. Requests with respect to matters on which a determination letter from a district director of internal revenue is desired should be addressed to the office of the district director in which the tax return of the taxpayer has been filed or is required to be filed. In this connection see paragraphs (k) and (l) of this section.

(4) It is the practice of the Service to process requests for rulings or determination letters in regular order and as expeditiously as possible. Compliance with a request for consideration of a particular matter ahead of its regular order tends to delay the disposition of other matters. However, requests for processing ahead of the regular order, made in writing and showing clear need for such treatment, will be given consideration as the particular circumstances warrant.

(g) Withdrawal of requests. Requests for a ruling or a determination letter may be withdrawn at any time prior to the signing of the letter of reply. The withdrawal of the request, however, will not prevent the National Office from furnishing its views to the district director in whose office the return has been or will be filed. Neither shall such withdrawal prevent a district director of internal revenue from considering the information submitted in a subsequent audit or examination of the taxpayer's return. Even though a request is withdrawn all correspondence and exhibits shall be retained in the files of the Internal Revenue Service and may not be returned to the taxpayer.

(h) Oral advice to taxpayers. It is the policy of the Service not to issue rulings or determination letters upon oral request. For reasons of sound administration, oral opinions or advice given to taxpayers by employees or officers of the Internal Revenue Service are considered as aids to taxpayers only.

(i) Effect of rulings. (1) Generally no statement by any official of the Internal Revenue Service, other than a closing agreement under section 7121 of the Code (see § 601.202), is final and conclusive upon the Internal Revenue Service. However, see subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph.

(2) As part of the determination of a taxpayer's liability, district directors will ascertain whether any ruling previously issued to the taxpayer has been properly applied. Thus, it will be determined whether the representations upon which the ruling was based reflected an accurate statement of the material facts and whether the transaction actually was carried out substantially as proposed.

(3) If, in the course of the determination of the tax liability, it is the view of the district director that a ruling previously issued to the taxpayer should be modified or revoked, the findings and recommendations of the district director will be forwarded to the National Office for consideration of the matter prior to further action.

(4) A ruling found to be in error or no longer in accord with the position of the Internal Revenue Service may be modified or revoked. However, it is the general policy of the Internal Revenue Service to limit the revocation or modification of a ruling issued to, or with respect to, a particular taxpayer to a prospective application only, if (i) there has been no misstatement or omission of material facts, (ii) the facts subsequently developed are not materially different from the facts on which the ruling was based, (iii) there has been no change in the applicable law, and (iv) such taxpayer acted in good faith in reliance upon such ruling and a retroactive revocation would be to his detriment.

(5) With respect to rulings published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin, it is the general policy of the Service that taxpayers may rely upon such rulings in determining the rule applicable to their own transactions and need not request a specific ruling applying the principles of the published ruling to the facts of the taxpayer's particular case where otherwise applicable. See, however, subparagraph (7) of this paragraph. In the event of revocation or modification of a ruling published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin, it is the general practice of the Service to make such revocation or modification prospective only.

(6) Under the provisions of section 1108 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1926, a ruling holding that the sale or lease of a particular article is subject to the manufacturers' excise or the retailers' excise tax must be limited in its retroactive application in any case, where (i) such ruling reverses a prior ruling holding the particular article to be nontaxable, and (ii) the taxpayer in reliance upon such ruling parted with possession or ownership of such article without passing the tax on to his customer.

(7) Since each ruling represents the conclusion of the Service as to the application of the law to the entire state of facts involved, taxpayers and others concerned are cautioned against reaching the same conclusion in other cases unless the facts and circumstances are substantially the same. Furthermore, taxpayers and others concerned should, in this connection, consider the effect of subsequent legislation, regulations, court decisions, and rulings.

(j) Effect of determination letters. A determination letter issued by a district director, in accordance with this section, will be given the same effect upon examination of the return of the taxpayer to whom the determination letter was issued as is described in paragraph (i) of this section, except that reference to the National Office is not necessary where, upon the examination of the return, it is the opinion of the district director that a conclusion contrary to that expressed in the determination letter is indicated. A district director of internal revenue, however, is not authorized to limit the revocation of a determination letter to a prospective application only, but may refer the matter to the National Office for exercise by the Commissioner, or his delegate, of the authority so to limit the revocation.

(k) Organizations claiming exemption under section 501 or 521 of the Code. (1) Any organization claiming exemption under section 501 or 521 of the Code, unless already in receipt of a determination letter or ruling letter from the Internal Revenue Service establishing exemption, is required by Treasury Department regulations to file an application for exemption with the district director of internal revenue for its district. If such application is filed with any office of the Internal Revenue Service other than that prescribed by the regulations, it will, without any action thereon, be forwarded immediately to the appropriate district director's office.

(2) In view of the statutory requirements for exemption and the administrative responsibilities of the Service in the field of exempt organizations, a determination or ruling on an application for exemption will generally not be made with respect to a newly formed organization until it has actually operated for such a period and to such an extent as to clearly demonstrate a bona fide operation for the purposes specified in the exemption statute. Exceptions to this general rule are stated in subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6) of this paragraph.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6) of this paragraph, an application should not be filed by an organization until it has had at least 12 months of active operation (not mere existence) for the purposes for which it was created in order to clearly demonstrate by actual operation for such a period that in fact the organization is conducted for purposes within the exemption provisions of the Code.

(4) A tentative determination letter may be issued by a district director to a newly formed organization with less than 12 months of active operation in a case in which an affirmative showing is made (in or in connection with the exemption application) that the organization is of the community or public type. Tentative rulings will be issued by the National Office upon the same standards. Factors which characterize a community or public organization include responsible public representation on its board of directors or trustees, financial support provided by public contributions, or required reporting to a governmental or public body assuring the organization's adherence to the purposes for which it was formed. Where the facts clearly establish that the organization is of the community or public type, the district director may issue a tentative determination letter with the requirement that the organization at the termination of its first full year of operation submit a new application, together with complete supporting data as specified in the application form or in the applicable regulations.

(5) The provisions of subparagraph (4) shall not be deemed to limit the authority of a district director, in cases where the liability of an organization for certain other Federal taxes is dependent on a determination under, or similar to that under, section 501 (such as in the case of certain exemptions under the admissions tax), to make a tentative determination of the status of the organization for purposes of such other taxes, pending and subject to a determination or ruling on the organization's application for exemption under section 501. However, for income tax purposes, unless the exemption application filed under such circumstances by an organization with less than 12 months of active operation makes an affirmative showing that the organization is of the community or public type, it will be returned as incomplete and a determination or ruling as to the status of the organization under section 501 for purposes of income tax will not be made until the organization has had at least 12 months active operation.

(6) Determination letters allowing exemption under section 501 (a) of the Code will be issued to State chartered credit unions described in section 501 (c)

(14) of the Code at any time after their formation if they operate under uniform bylaws approved by the State.

(7) A list of organizations, contributions to which are deductible under section 23 (o) and (q) of the 1939 Code (section 170 of the 1954 Code), is available for purchase from the Superintendent of Documents, United States Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

(l) Employees' trusts or plans. (1) Determination letters as to the qualification of pension, annuity, profit-sharing, and stock bonus plans under section 401 of the Code are issued if requested by taxpayers. Such determination letters are issued with respect to consummated or proposed transactions relating to the initial qualification of a plan and, if trusteed, the status for exemption of the trust forming a part thereof; amendments to plans and trusts; curtailments and terminations of plans; and the effect on qualification of the plan of an investment of trust funds in the stock or securities of the employer. Rulings and determination letters under sections 402 and 403 of the Code are issued with respect to the taxability of a beneficiary, the treatment of the beneficiary of a nonexempt trust and the treatment of certain employees' annuities. Rulings and determination letters under section 404 of the Code are issued with respect to the application of pertinent principles of such section.

(2) Requests for determination letters under section 401 of the Code should be filed with the district director of internal revenue having jurisdiction, determined as follows:

(i) In the case of a plan of a single employer, where the principal place of business of such employer is located;

(ii) In the case of a plan of a parent and subsidiary companies, where the principal place of business of the parent company is situated regardless of whether consolidated returns are filed;

(iii) In the case of an industry-wide plan (a plan established in a particular industry by all subscribing employers, some of whom are located within the jurisdiction of more than one district director's office), where the trustee's principal place of business is located or, if more than one trustee, where the usual place of meeting of the trustees is held;

(iv) In the case of a plan of multiple employers not provided for in the categories set forth in clauses (ii) and (iii) above, where the trustee's principal place of business is located or, if more than one trustee, or if non-trusteed, where the usual place of meeting of the trustees or principal supervisors is held. Such district director is authorized, subject to review by the National Office, to issue determination letters as to the status of the plans and trusts under section 401 of the Code. All requests for determination letters as to the status of the plan or trust should be accompanied by duplicate statements of all pertinent information. Requests for rulings under sections 402, 403, and 404 of the Code should be submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C. However, in this connection see paragraph (c) of this section with respect to determination letters on these issues.

(3) Treasury Department regulations relating to income taxes set forth the information required to be submitted in connection with certain types of inquiries relating to pension, annuity, profit-sharing, and stock bonus plans.

(m) Conferences. A conference requested by a taxpayer in writing at the time his request for a ruling or a determination letter is filed or shortly thereafter will be granted at that stage in the consideration of the case when it will be most helpful. The taxpayer or his representative should not request that the conference be deferred until Internal Revenue Service action (whether or not in accord with the taxpayer's contention) is imminent. More than one conference should not be sought unless the taxpayer has important new matter to present, or unless the problems involved require the consideration of the case by different divisions or offices of the Internal Revenue Service. This conference rule shall apply with respect to any request for a determination letter which is referred to the National Office for a ruling, including paragraph (k) (4) of this section. Taxpayers and their representatives are required to fulfill the conference and practice requirements of the Internal Revenue Service (see Subpart E).

§ 601.202 Closing agreements—(a) General. (1) Under section 7121 of the Code and the regulations thereunder the Commissioner, or any officer or employee of the Internal Revenue Service authorized in writing by the Commissioner, may enter into and approve a written agreement with any person relating to the liability of such person (or of the person or estate for whom he acts) in respect of any internal revenue tax for any taxable period. Such agreement, except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance, or misrepresentation of a material fact, shall be final and conclusive.

(2) Closing agreements under section 7121 of the Code may relate to any taxable period ending prior or subsequent to the date of the agreement. With respect to taxable periods ended prior to the date of the agreement, the matter agreed upon may relate to the total tax liability of the taxpayer or it may relate to one or more separate items affecting the tax liability of the taxpayer. A closing agreement may also be entered into in order to provide a "determination", as defined in section 1313 of the Code, and for the purpose of allowing a deficiency dividend deduction under section 547 of the Code. With respect to taxable periods ending subsequent to the date of the agreement, the matter agreed upon may relate to one or more separate items affecting the tax liability of the taxpayer. A closing agreement with respect to any taxable period ending subsequent to the date of the agreement is subject to any change in or modification of the law enacted subsequent to the date of the agreement and applicable to such taxable period, and each closing agreement shall so recite. Closing agreements may be entered into even though under the agreement the taxpayer is not liable for any tax for the period to which the agreement relates. There may be a series of agreements relating to the tax liability for a single period. A closing agreement may be entered into in any case in which there appears to be an advantage in having the case permanently and conclusively closed, or where good and sufficient reasons are shown by the taxpayer for desiring a closing agreement and it is determined by the Commissioner or his representatives that the Government will sustain no disadvantage through consummation of such an agreement.

(b) Use of prescribed forms. In cases in which it is proposed to close conclusively the total tax liability for a taxable period ended prior to the date of the agreement, Form 866, Agreement as to Final Determination of Tax Liability, will be used. In cases in which agreement has been reached as to the disposition of one or more issues and a closing agreement is considered necessary to insure consistent treatment of such issues in any other taxable period, Form 906, Closing Agreement as to Final Determination Covering Specific Matters, generally will be used. A request for a closing agreement which relates to a past period (Form 866 or Form 906) may be submitted at any time before the case is docketed in the Tax Court of the United States. The request should be submitted to the district director of internal revenue with whom the return for the period involved was filed, or if the matter to which the request relates is pending before an office of the Appellate Division, the request should be submitted to such office. A request for a closing agreement which relates to a subsequent period should be submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Review and approval. All closing agreements initiated in the field offices are reviewed in the Appellate Division in Washington. After review in the Appellate Division proposed closing agreements are referred to the Office of the Commissioner for consideration. Proposed closing agreements which are acceptable to the Service are finally approved by the Commissioner or other officer to whom such authority has been delegated. After approval of a closing agreement affecting or relating to tax liability for a period ending subsequent to the date of the agreement, the appropriate regional commissioner or district director is fully advised as to the basis of the agreement in order that, through maintenance of proper controls, the Government may be insured against loss through failure to give effect to all the terms thereof in the determination of taxes for periods ending subsequent to the date of the agreement.

(d) Applicability of ruling requirements. The requirements relating to rulings (see § 601.201) shall be applicable with respect to requests for closing agreements, whether for closing agreements with respect to total tax liability (Form 866) or for closing agreements with respect to a determination as to one or more separate issues affecting the tax liability of a taxpayer (Form 906).

§ 601.203 Offers in compromise—(a) General. (1) Under section 7122 of the Code the Commissioner may compromise any civil or criminal case arising under the internal revenue laws prior to reference to the Department of Justice for prosecution or defense. Certain functions of the Commissioner with respect to compromises of civil cases involving liability under $500 have been delegated to district directors of internal revenue. See paragraph (c) of this section. In civil cases involving liability of $500 or over and in criminal cases the functions of the General Counsel are performed by the Chief Counsel for the Internal Revenue Service.

(2) An offer in compromise of taxes, interest, ad valorem penalties, or specific penalties may be based on either inability to pay or doubt as to liability. Offers in compromise arise usually when payments of assessed liabilities are demanded, ad valorem penalties for delinquency in filing returns are asserted, or specific civil or criminal penalties are incurred by taxpayers. A criminal liability will not be compromised unless it involves only the regulatory provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and related statutes. However, if the violations involving the regulatory provisions are deliberate and with intent to defraud, the criminal liabilities will not be compromised.

(b) Use of prescribed forms. Offers in compromise are required to be submitted on Form 656 or Form 656–C, properly executed, accompanied by a financial statement on Form 433. Form 656 is used in all cases where the amount of the offer is tendered in full at the time the offer is filed, and Form 656–C is used where the amount of the offer is to be paid by deferred payment or payments. Copies of these forms may be obtained from district directors of internal revenue. An offer in compromise should be filed with the district director charged with the duty of collecting the tax sought to be compromised.

(c) Consideration of offer. (1) An offer in compromise is first considered by the district director with whom the offer is filed. An internal revenue agent, after investigation of the financial condition of the taxpayer, makes a written recommendation for acceptance or rejection of the offer. If the district director has jurisdiction over the processing of the offer he will—

(i) Reject the offer, or

(ii) Accept the offer if it involves a civil liability under $500, or

(iii) Recommend to the National Office the acceptance of the offer if it involves a liability of $500 or over.

If the district director does not have jurisdiction over the entire processing of the offer, the offer is transmitted to the appropriate Regional Counsel if the case is one in which:

(a) Recommendations for prosecution are pending in the Office of the Chief Counsel, the Department of Justice, or in an office of a United States attorney, including cases in which criminal proceedings have been instituted but not disposed of and related cases in which offers in compromise have been submitted or are pending;

(b) The taxpayer is in receivership or is involved in a proceeding under any provision of the Bankruptcy Act;

(c) The taxpayer is deceased (without regard to the class of tax involved);

(d) A proposal is made to discharge property from the effect of a tax lien or liens;

(e) An insolvent bank is involved;

(f) An assignment for the benefit of creditors is involved;

(g) A liquidation proceeding is involved; or

(h) Court proceedings are pending, except Tax Court cases.

(i) The Regional Counsel considers and processes offers submitted in cases described in subdivisions (a) through (h) of this subparagraph with the exception of offers submitted in those cases being handled in the Office of the Chief Counsel in Washington. Where a case described in subdivisions (a) through (h) of this subparagraph is being handled in the Office of the Chief Counsel in Washington, consideration and processing of the offer is accomplished in Washington, D. C.

(2) In those cases described in subdivision (a) of this subparagraph no investigation will be made unless specifically requested by the office having jurisdiction of the criminal case.

(3) In those cases described in subdivisions (b) through (h) of this subparagraph the district director retains the duplicate copy of the offer and the financial statement for investigation. After investigation, the district director transmits to the appropriate Regional Counsel for consideration and processing his recommendation for acceptance or rejection of the offer together with the internal revenue agent's report of his investigation.

(4) An offer under the processing jurisdiction of the Regional Counsel which is considered acceptable is either referred to the district director or to the Office of the Chief Counsel in Washington for approval, depending upon whether the amount of civil liability involved is under $500 or $500 or more.

(2) The district directors and the Director of the Audit Division of the National Office are authorized to reject any offer in compromise referred for their consideration. Offers considered in the Office of the Chief Counsel in Washington which are not acceptable are rejected by the Commissioner. Offers considered by Regional Counsel which are not acceptable are rejected by district directors. If an offer is not acceptable, the taxpayer is promptly notified of the rejection of the offer. If an offer is rejected, the sum submitted with the offer is returned by the district director to the proponent. An offer rejected by a district director is surveyed in the Audit Division in the National Office.

(3) If an offer other than one accepted by the district director is considered acceptable by the office having jurisdiction over the offer, a recommendation for acceptance is forwarded to the Audit Division in the National Office for review. If the Audit Division approves the recommendation for acceptance, the offer is forwarded to the Office of the Chief Counsel for approval. After approval by the Office of the Chief Counsel, it is forwarded to the Commissioner for acceptance. The taxpayer is notified of the acceptance of the offer in accordance with its terms. Acceptance of an offer in compromise of civil liabilities does not remit criminal liabilities, nor does acceptance of an offer in compromise of criminal liabilities remit civil liabilities.

(d) Conferences. Before filing a formal offer in compromise, a taxpayer may request a conference in the office which would have jurisdiction of the offer filed by him for the purpose of exploring the possibilities of compromising the unpaid Federal tax liability. A conference may also be requested by the taxpayer in the office which has jurisdiction of the offer filed by him after all investigations have been made for the purpose of determining the amount which may be accepted as a compromise. Where the offer is one with respect to which the district director has processing jurisdiction and the proponent does not agree with the rejection or proposed rejection, and neither the internal revenue agent nor the conferee of the district director's office has been able to convince the proponent of the correctness of the conclusion reached, the proponent will be apprised of his privilege of submitting a request in writing for a hearing before the Chief of the Appellate Division of the region. Taxpayers and their representatives are required to fulfill and comply with the conference and practice requirements of the Internal Revenue Service (see §§ 601.501–601.512).

§ 601.204 Changes in accounting periods and in methods of accounting—(a) Accounting periods. A taxpayer who changes his accounting period shall, before using the new period for income tax purposes, comply with the provisions of the income tax regulations relating to changes in accounting periods. In cases where the regulations require the taxpayer to secure the consent of the Commissioner to the change, the application for permission to change the accounting period shall be made on Form 1128 and shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of time prescribed in such regulations. See section 442 and the regulations thereunder (under the 1939 Code, § 39.46–1 of Regulations 118). If the change is approved by the Commissioner, the taxpayer shall thereafter make his returns and compute his net income upon the basis of the new accounting period. A request for permission to change the accounting period will be considered by the Tax Rulings Division of the National Office.

(b) Methods of accounting. A taxpayer who changes the method of accounting employed in keeping his books shall, before computing his income upon such method for purposes of income taxation, comply with the provisions of the income tax regulations relating to changes in accounting methods. The regulations require that, in the ordinary case, the taxpayer secure the consent of the Commissioner to the change. See section 446 and the regulations thereunder (under the 1939 Code, § 39.41–2 of Regulations 118). Application for permission to change the method of accounting employed and the basis upon which the return is made shall be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of time prescribed in the regulations. The application shall be accompanied by a statement specifying the classes of items differently treated under the two methods and specifying all amounts which would be duplicated or entirely omitted as a result of the proposed change. Permission to change the method of accounting will not be granted unless the taxpayer and the Commissioner agree to the terms and conditions under which the change will be effected. The request will be considered by the Tax Rulings Division, except that if the proposed change relates to depletion, depreciation or obsolescence the request will be considered by the Special Technical Services Division.

§ 601.205 Tort claims. Claims for property loss or damage, personal injury, or death caused by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of any employee of the Service, acting within the scope of his office or employment, filed under the Federal Tort Claims Act, as amended, must be prepared and filed in accordance with Treasury Department regulations entitled "Central Office Procedures" and "Claims Regulations" (31 CFR, Parts 1 and 3). Such regulations contain the procedural and substantive requirements relative to such claims, and set forth the manner in which they are handled. The claims should be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., and must be filed within two years after the accident or incident occurred.

SUBPART C—PROVISIONS RELATING TO ALCOHOL, TOBACCO, AND CERTAIN FIREARMS [RESERVED]

[Reserved for revised statement of procedures of the Service with respect to alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms taxes to be published at a later date.]

SUBPART D—PROVISIONS SPECIAL TO CERTAIN EMPLOYMENT AND EXCISE TAXES

§ 601.401 Employment taxes—(a) General—(1) Description of taxes. Federal employment taxes are imposed by Subtitle C of the Internal Revenue Code. Chapter 21 (Federal Insurance Contributions Act) imposes a tax on employers of one or more individuals and also a tax on employees, with respect to "wages" paid and received. Chapter 22 (Railroad Retirement Tax Act) imposes a tax on employers and their employees with respect to "compensation" paid and received. It also imposes a tax on employee representatives with respect to "compensation" received. Chapter 23 (Federal Unemployment Tax Act) imposes a tax on employers of eight or more individuals (four or more individuals beginning with the calendar year 1956) with respect to "wages" paid. Chapter 24 (collection of income tax at source on wages) requires every employer making payment of "wages" to deduct and withhold upon such wages the tax computed or determined as provided therein. The tax so deducted and withheld is allowed as a credit against the income tax liability of the employee receiving such wages.

(2) Applicable regulations. The descriptive terms used in this section to designate the various classes of taxes are intended only to indicate their general character. Specific information relative to the scope of each tax, the forms used, and the functioning of the Service with respect thereto is contained in the applicable regulations. Copies of all necessary forms, and instructions as to their preparation and filing, may be obtained from the district director of internal revenue.

(3) Collection methods. Employment taxes are collected by means of returns and by withholding by employers. Employment tax returns are not required to be filed by employees, but taxes imposed upon them must be deducted and withheld by employers from their wages. Employee representatives (as defined in the Railroad Retirement Tax Act) are required to file returns. All employers who are liable for or who must withhold employment taxes are required to file returns with the district director of internal revenue. The return of the Federal unemployment tax is required to be filed annually on Form 940 with respect to wages paid during the calendar year. All other returns of Federal employment taxes are required to be filed for each calendar quarter. The employer and employee taxes imposed by chapter 21 and the tax required to be deducted and withheld upon wages by chapter 24 are combined in a single return on Form 941. In the case of wages paid by employers for domestic service performed in a private home not on a farm operated for profit, the return of both the employee tax and the employer tax imposed by chapter 21 is on Form 942. However, if the employer is required to file a return for the same quarter on Form 941, he may at his election include the taxes with respect to such domestic service on Form 941. For information relating to the employee tax and the employer tax with respect to wages paid for agricultural labor, see the applicable regulations under chapter 21. Under the Railroad Retirement Tax Act, the return required of the employer is on Form CT–1, and the return required of each employee representative is on Form CT–2.

(4) Receipts for employees. Employers are required to furnish each employee a receipt or statement, in duplicate, showing the total wages subject to income tax withholding, the amount of income tax withheld, the amount of wages subject to tax under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, and the amount of employee tax withheld. See section 6051 of the Code.

(5) Use of Federal Reserve banks and authorized commercial banks in connection with payment of Federal employment taxes. If during any calendar month the aggregate amount of

(i) The employer tax and the employee tax imposed by chapter 21, and exclusive of taxes reportable on Form 942, exceeds $100, it is the duty of the employer to deposit such amount within 15 days after the close of such calendar month with a Federal Reserve bank or a commercial bank authorized in accordance with Treasury Department Circular No. 848 to accept remittance of these taxes for transmission to a Federal Reserve bank. The remittance of such amount must be accompanied by a Federal Depositary Receipt (Form 450). After the Federal Reserve bank has validated the depositary receipt, it will be returned to the employer. The validated receipts must be attached to the return on Form 941 for the calendar quarter with respect to which such deposits are made, and the employer shall pay to the district director the balance, if any, of the taxes due for the quarter. In the case of the last month of any calendar quarter the employer may either include with his return direct remittance to the district director for the amount of such taxes or attach to the return a depositary receipt validated by a Federal Reserve bank. If a deposit is made for the last month of the quarter, it must be made in ample time to enable the Federal Reserve bank to return the validated receipt to the employer so that it can be attached to and filed with the employer's return at the time prescribed for filing such return. A similar procedure is prescribed with respect to the tax on employers and employees imposed by chapter 22, except that the depositary receipt prescribed in such cases is Form 515 (Railroad Retirement Depositary Receipt).

(b) Provisions special to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act—(1) Employers' identification numbers. For purposes of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act each employer who files Form 941 must have an identification number. Any such employer who does not have an identification number must secure a Form SS–4 from the district director of internal revenue or from a district office of the Social Security Administration and, after executing the form in accordance with the instructions contained thereon, file it with the district director or the district office of the Social Security Administration. At a subsequent date the district director will assign the employer a number which must appear in the appropriate space on each tax return, Form 941, filed thereafter. The requirement to secure an identification number does not apply to an employer who has in his employ only employees who are engaged exclusively in the performance of domestic service in his private home not on a farm operated for profit.

(2) Employees' account numbers. Each employee (or individual making a return of net earnings from self-employment) who does not have an account number must file an application on Form SS–5, a copy of which may be obtained from any district office of the Social Security Administration or from a district director of internal revenue. The form, after execution in accordance with the instructions thereon, must be filed with the district office of the Social Security Administration, and at a later date the employee will be furnished an account number. The employee must furnish such number to each employer for whom the employee works, in order that such number may be entered on each tax return filed thereafter by the employer.

(3) Reporting of wages. Form 941 requires as a part of the return that the wages of each employee paid during the quarter be reported thereon. It is necessary at times that employers correct wage information previously reported. A special form, Form 941c, has been adopted for use in correcting erroneous wage information or omissions of such wage information on Schedule A of Form 941. Instructions on Form 941 and on Form 941c explain the manner of preparing and filing the forms. Any further instructions should be obtained from the district director for the district in which the returns are filed.

(c) Quarterly adjustments by employers—(1) Adjustments with respect to income tax withheld at source upon wages. If an employer for any quarter of a calendar year deducts and withholds more or less than the correct amount of tax upon wages, or pays more or less than the correct amount of tax to the district director, such employer may make proper adjustment without interest in any subsequent quarter in the same calendar year. No adjustment may be made in respect of an underpayment for any quarter after the district director sends notice and demand for payment of the additional tax. In such case the additional tax must be paid in accordance with the notice and demand. Nor may any adjustment be made in respect of an overpayment for any quarter after the employer files a claim for refund of such overpayment. If an employer makes an adjustment on any return in respect of errors in a preceding quarter there must be attached to the return a detailed explanation of the adjustment and a designation of the quarterly return period in which the errors occurred. If an adjustment relates to an excess withholding of tax from an employee, the explanation attached to the return must include the fact that such tax has been repaid to the employee. Errors occurring in any quarterly return period may be corrected in making the return for such period, if such errors are ascertained prior to the filing of the return. For information as to the manner of correcting errors in withholding which cannot be adjusted in a return for a subsequent quarter of the same calendar year, employers should consult the local district director of internal revenue. Refunds or credits with respect to an overpayment of income tax withheld may be made to an employer only to the extent that the amount of the overpayment was not deducted and withheld by the employer.

(2) Adjustments with respect to employee tax or employer tax under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or the Railroad Retirement Tax Act. Errors in withholding during any quarterly period under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or the Railroad Retirement Tax Act should be corrected in the return for such quarter, if such errors are ascertained prior to the time the return is required to be filed with the district director. In the case of errors in withholding of employee tax or in payments of employer tax under either the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or the Railroad Retirement Tax Act, where such errors are ascertained subsequent to the time prescribed for filing the return for the quarterly period in which they occurred, the regulations relating to such taxes prescribe the conditions under which such errors may be adjusted. If adjustments cannot be made in accordance with the provisions of such regulations, underpayments of both the employer and employee tax will be assessed and collected in the usual manner, and refunds of overpayments must be claimed on Form 843.

(d) Special refunds of employee social security tax. (1) In the case of an employee receiving wages from more than one employer during the calendar year, amounts may be deducted and withheld as employee social security tax (that is, employee tax under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) with respect to wages in excess of $4,200 ($3,600 for certain calendar years prior to 1955). Under certain conditions, the employee may receive a so-called "special refund" of the amount of employee social security tax deducted and withheld from wages in excess of such amount. An employee who is entitled to a special refund of employee tax with respect to wages received during a calendar year commencing after December 31, 1950, and who is required to file an income tax return for such calendar year (or for his last taxable year beginning in such calendar year) may obtain the benefits of such special refund only by claiming credit for such special refund on such income tax return in the same manner as if such special refund were an amount deducted and withheld as income tax at source on wages.

(2) The amount of the special refund allowed as a credit shall be considered as an amount deducted and withheld as income tax at source on wages. If the amount of such special refund when added to amounts deducted and withheld as income tax under chapter 24 exceeds the income tax imposed by chapter 1, the amount of the excess constitutes an overpayment of income tax, and interest on such overpayment is allowed to the extent provided under section 6611 of the Code upon an overpayment of income tax resulting from a credit for income tax withheld at source on wages.

(3) If an employee entitled to a special refund of employee social security tax is not required to file an income tax return for the year in which such special refund may be claimed as a credit, he may file a claim for refund of the excess social security tax on Form 843. The employee shall submit with the claim as a part thereof a statement executed by him on Form SS–9a. Claims must be filed with the district director of internal revenue for the district in which the employee resides.

(1) The retailers excise taxes, imposed by chapter 31 of the Code, with respect to the following articles:

Furs.
Toilet preparations.
Luggage, handbags, etc.
Special fuels.

(2) The manufacturers excise taxes, imposed by chapter 32 of the Code, with respect to the following items:

(i) Automotive and related items:

Motor vehicles.
Tires and tubes.
Petroleum products.

(ii) Household type equipment, etc.:

Refrigeration equipment.
Electric, gas, and oil appliances.
Electric light bulbs.

(iii) Entertainment equipment:

Radio and television sets, phonographs, and records.
Musical instruments.

(iv) Recreational equipment:

Sporting goods.
Photographic equipment.
Firearms.

(v) Other items:

Business machines.
Pens and mechanical pencils and lighters.
Matches.

(b) Applicable regulations. The descriptive terms used in this section to designate the various articles and commodities subject to tax are intended only to indicate their general classes. Specific information relative to the scope of each tax, the forms used, and the functioning of the Service with respect thereto is contained in the applicable regulations. Copies of all necessary forms, and instructions as to their preparation and filing, may be obtained from any district director of internal revenue.

(c) Returns, refunds, and credits—(1) Returns. The sales taxes referred to in paragraph (a) of this section are collected by means of returns. Any person liable for tax is required to file returns with the district director of internal revenue for the district in which the principal place of business of such person is located. A procedure similar to the Depositary Receipt procedure with respect to the payment of certain Federal employment taxes, described in § 601.401 (a) (5), is prescribed with respect to the sales taxes referred to in paragraph (a) of this section. For information relating to the use of depositary receipts for the payment of such taxes, see the applicable regulations and the instructions on Form 720, Quarterly Federal Excise Tax Return.

(2) Refunds and credits. After the assessment and collection of a sales tax which the taxpayer claims is not due, the taxpayer may either file a claim for refund of such tax on Form 843 or claim a credit for such amount on a return filed by him for a period subsequent to that in respect of which the alleged erroneous payment has been made. However, no claim for refund may be filed or credit taken on a return after the expiration of the applicable period of limitations on the allowance of refunds and credits. In the case of a credit claimed for an amount of tax alleged to have been erroneously paid, no particular forms for the claiming of such a credit are prescribed. The procedure to be followed in such a case is for the taxpayer to enter on the line provided for credits on the return form the amount claimed to have been erroneously paid and to file with the return a supporting statement which should set out clearly and fully the basis on which the credit is claimed. Notice as to the disallowance of any credit is forwarded to the taxpayer and the amount of the credit is then entered on an assessment list for collection in the usual manner.

(d) Registration and bonding requirements. (1) Every producer or importer of gasoline and every producer of lubricating oils must make application for registry to the district director of internal revenue for the district in which his principal place of business is located. In addition, the regulations relating to manufacturers excise taxes under chapter 32 of the Code provide, with respect to the sale or purchase of a taxable article (other than a tire, inner tube, or automobile radio or television receiving set) for further manufacture of other taxable articles or for resale for such purpose, that persons desiring to sell or purchase an article tax-free must make application for registry in the same manner. The form provided is Form 637–A, Application for Registry, copies of which may be obtained from the district director. The form should be prepared in accordance with the instructions shown thereon and the provisions of the applicable regulations. In the case of producers and importers of gasoline and producers of lubricating oil, the application must also be accompanied by a bond on Form 928 in a sum equivalent to the approximate amount of tax which might be incurred by the taxpayer during an average 3-month period at the rates of the tax then in effect, but in no case shall the bond be for less than $2,000.

(2) Upon receipt by the district director of the application for registry and, in the case of gasoline and lubricating oil, upon acceptance of the bond required, the district director will furnish to the applicant Form 637, Certificate of Registry, which will bear the applicant's registration number. Detailed instructions as to the use of this number and as to the requirements to be complied with in connection with the filing of applications for registry and the submission of bonds are set forth in the applicable regulations.

(b) Applicable regulations. The descriptive terms used in this section to designate the various classes of taxes are intended only to indicate their general character. Specific information relative to the scope of each tax, the forms used, and the functioning of the Service with respect thereto is contained in the applicable regulations. Copies of all necessary forms, and instructions as to their preparation and filing, may be obtained from the district director of internal revenue.

(c) Collection of tax—(1) Imposed taxes. The tax on charges made by cabarets, roof gardens and other similar places, the taxes on admission charges in excess of the established price, the tax on the transportation of oil by pipeline, the tax on the first domestic processing of certain vegetable oils, and the tax on the manufacture of sugar, are collected in the same manner as manufacturers' and retailers' sales taxes. See § 601.402. The tax on wagers, the tax on hydraulic mining, and the tax on circulation other than of national banks are also collected by means of returns. The returns of the tax on wagers are required to be filed monthly; returns of tax on hydraulic mining are required to be filed annually; and the returns of the tax on circulation are required to be filed on June 1 and December 1 of each calendar year.

(2) Collected taxes. The other miscellaneous excise taxes referred to in this section are imposed on the person making the payment for the admission, telephone, transportation or other service involved. These taxes are required to be collected by the theater, telephone company, railroad, or other person receiving the payment. All taxes collected in this manner are held by the collecting agent in trust for the United States until deposited in accordance with the Depositary Receipt procedure or paid over to the district director of internal revenue. The collecting agencies are required to file returns and the tax is payable, without notice from the district director, at the time fixed for filing the returns. If the person from whom the tax is required to be collected refuses to pay it or, if for any reason it is impossible for the collecting agency to collect the tax from such person, the collecting agency is required to report to the district director of internal revenue for the district in which its returns are required to be filed the name and address of such person, the nature of the service or facility rendered, the amount paid therefor, and the date on which paid. Upon receipt of this information the amount of the tax due will be assessed against the person to whom the facilities were provided or the services rendered.

(3) Depositary receipts. A procedure similar to the Depositary Receipt procedure with respect to the payment of certain Federal employment taxes, described in § 601.401 (a) (5), is prescribed with respect to the miscellaneous excise taxes (except the taxes on wagers, hydraulic mining, and circulation other than of national banks) referred to in paragraph (a) of this section. For information relating to the use of depositary receipts for the payment of such taxes, see the applicable regulations and the instructions on Form 720, Quarterly Federal Excise Tax Return.

(d) Licensing and registration—(1) Admissions. Every person (i) required by any provision of law to collect any tax on admissions, or (ii) being the owner or lessee of any place which he ordinarily or at times leases or subleases to other persons who impose charges for admissions to it, or (iii) required to pay any tax on charges in excess of established prices, or (iv) required to pay tax on charges for admission, refreshment, service and merchandise at any roof garden, cabaret, or other similar place furnishing a public performance for profit, is required to make application for registry. The form provided for this purpose is Form 752, Application for Registry, which may be obtained from district directors of internal revenue. The form should be prepared in accordance with the instructions shown thereon and the provisions of the applicable regulations. The district director, if satisfied that all statements made in the application for registry are correct, will issue a certificate of registry on Form 753 to the person who made the application. This certificate of registry must be kept conspicuously posted in the principal place of business of the registrant, or be carried about with him if he has no fixed place of business. This certificate is not transferable from one person or firm to another.

(2) Hydraulic mining. Every person who desires to engage in hydraulic mining operations in the State of California within the scope of the Act (see paragraph (a) (9) of this section) must procure a license to operate the mine from the California Debris Commission before beginning operations, in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated by that Commission.

(3) Transportation of property. Every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire shall, within 60 days after first engaging in such business, register his name and place of business with the district director of internal revenue for the district in which is located his principal place of business. The form provided for this purpose is Form 800, Application for Registry, which may be obtained from the district director. The form should be prepared in accordance with the instructions shown thereon and the provisions of the applicable regulations. The district director receiving the application for registry will issue Certificate of Registry, Form 800A, which must be posted in the registered place of business.

(4) Wagering. For the occupational tax upon any person liable for the tax on wagers or engaged in receiving wagers for or on behalf of any person so liable, see § 601.404 (d) (1).

The responsibility for the administration and enforcement of these taxes is jointly shared by the Internal Revenue Service and the Bureau of Narcotics.

(5) Opium for smoking purposes. Subpart B of part I of subchapter A of chapter 39 of the Code imposes a tax upon all opium manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes. The responsibility for the administration and enforcement of this tax is jointly shared by the Internal Revenue Service and the Bureau of Narcotics.

(6) Marihuana. Part II of subchapter A of chapter 39 of the Code imposes a tax upon all transfers of marihuana and also imposes an occupational tax with respect to marihuana on similar classes of persons as those enumerated in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph and in addition imposes a tax on millers of marihuana. (3) Bowling alleys, billiard and pool tables. Subchapter C of chapter 36 of the Code imposes an occupational tax with respect to bowling alleys, billiard tables, and pool tables.

(e) Applicable regulations. The descriptive terms used in this section to designate the various classes of taxes are intended only to indicate their general character. Specific information relative to the scope of each tax, the forms used, and the functioning of the Service with respect thereto is contained in the applicable regulations. Copies of all necessary forms, and instructions as to their preparation and filing, may be obtained from the district director of internal revenue.

(f) General procedure. (1) The documentary and commodity stamp taxes are paid by having affixed to the document, memorandum of sale, policy, package, container, etc., an internal revenue adhesive stamp or stamps in an amount equal to the tax due and by thereafter canceling such stamps in the manner prescribed. Payment of occupational taxes is evidenced by the posting or displaying of a special occupational tax stamp on the premises where the business is operated. If the taxpayer required to display the special occupational tax stamp has no fixed place of business, the stamp must be kept on his person. The stamps used for such purposes are prepared by the Internal Revenue Service and distributed through district directors of internal revenue.

(2) Documentary stamp taxes are payable with respect to every transaction, i. e., each issue, sale, transfer, etc., of the instrument subject to tax. Commodity stamp taxes are payable with respect to the manufacture, importation, or transfer, as the case may be, of the contents of each package or container. Occupational taxes are payable annually for the privilege of doing business beginning with July 1 of each year, when the taxpayer is in business on that date, or from the beginning of the month in which the business is commenced on a pro rata basis.

(3) Documentary stamps may be purchased from (i) district directors of internal revenue and duly authorized internal revenue employees; (ii) postmasters in all post offices of the first and second classes and such post offices of the third and fourth classes as are located in county seats; (iii) designated depositaries of the United States; and (iv) designated agents of any State. Commodity and occupational tax stamps may be purchased only from district directors and duly authorized internal revenue agents. Such purchases may be made only upon the filing of the prescribed requisition, application, or other form and from an official authorized by law to sell such stamps.

(4) Prior to January 1, 1955, payment for such stamps must be made by means of cash, post office money order or certified check. On and after January 1, 1955, payment for such stamps may be made by personal checks to the extent provided by regulations. In situations (i) where the instruments, documents, commodities, etc., subject to stamp tax are no longer in existence or (ii) where, for other reasons, such instruments, documents, etc., cannot be stamped, or (iii) where it is discovered that occupational tax stamps are due for prior taxable years, or (iv) where a taxpayer, after being advised of his liability, refuses to affix stamps, the tax is collected by assessment.

(5) Detailed information as to the person liable for tax, the forms of stamps, the prescribed applications or requisitions, and all other forms required in connection with miscellaneous excise taxes payable by revenue stamps is contained in the applicable regulations. Copies of all necessary forms, and instructions as to their preparation and filing, may be obtained from the district director of internal revenue.

(g) Liability for additional or delinquent tax. When liability for additional or delinquent tax is disclosed by the taxpayer or is discovered as a result of an examination of the taxpayer's books and records, payment thereof is evidenced by means of the prescribed stamp if the document, commodity, etc., is still in existence or, in the case of an occupational tax, if the liability is for the current period. Where the documents, commodities, etc., are no longer in existence, or where the taxpayer refuses to affix or purchase the stamps or where, in the case of an occupational tax, the liability is for a prior taxable period, the additional or delinquent tax is collected by assessment.

(h) Administrative remedies available to taxpayers after purchase of documentary, commodity, or occupational tax stamps or after assessment or payment of tax—(1) Redemption of stamps. Where stamps have been rendered useless by gumming or sticking together in transit or otherwise without fault of the purchaser, they may be exchanged by a district director of internal revenue for other stamps of the same quantity and denomination. Stamps which have been spoiled, destroyed, or rendered useless, or unfit for the purpose intended, or for which the owner may have no use, or which through mistake have been improperly or unnecessarily used, or have been used in excess of the amount of tax actually due, may be redeemed upon proper claim filed with the district director. All such claims must be prepared on Form 843 and must be filed with the district director for the district in which is located the principal office of the claimant, or if he has no such office, with the district director for the district in which he resides. The claim must be filed within 3 years after the date of purchase of the stamps from the Government. The stamps either must be submitted with the claim, or if it is impracticable to remove them from the instruments, documents, etc., to which they are attached they must be presented to an internal revenue agent or other internal revenue representative who will write on the face of the stamps the words "Claim for refund filed", and attach to the claim a statement showing that such endorsement has been made. In any case where the actual date of purchase of the stamps from the Government cannot be given, it must be definitely shown in the claim whether they were so purchased within 3 years prior to the date of filing of the claim. Once filed, a claim for redemption follows generally the same channels as do all other claims for refund. See §§ 601.103–601.106.

(2) Claims for abatement or refund. Where a stamp tax is not paid by stamp but the amount thereof is assessed, the person against whom the assessment is made may file a claim for abatement of the tax or a claim for refund for any part of the assessment which has been paid. In either case the procedure to be followed by the claimant generally is the same as set forth in the case of claims for abatement or refund of other taxes. See §§ 601.103–601.106. All claims for refund of stamp tax paid pursuant to an assessment must be filed within 3 years next after payment of the tax.

(3) Instructions. Detailed instructions as to the manner in which claims for redemption of stamps and for abatement and refund of stamp taxes should be prepared and filed are contained in the applicable regulations.

(i) Provisions special to documentary stamp taxes. (1) Every person engaged in any of the following businesses or activities is required to register with the district director of internal revenue for each district in which such business or activity is conducted: (i) negotiating, making, or recording sales or transfers of stock, certificates of indebtedness, etc.; (ii) conducting or transacting a stock or bond brokerage business; (iii) accepting or procuring the transmission of orders for the purchase or sale or transfer of stocks, etc., to be executed at a stock or bond brokerage office or an exchange or similar place; (iv) transferring stock, certificates of indebtedness, etc., other than his own; and (v) conducting an exchange or clearing house, or clearing association, for the clearing, adjusting and settling of transactions made on exchanges or similar places.

(2) A statement for such registration is required to be made on Form 741 procurable from district directors of internal revenue. The statement must set forth specifically the character of the business, the name under which it is operated, and the exact location. A concern having branches or agencies must file a statement in the district in which its principal office is located, showing the address of each branch office or agency and the name of the manager or agent thereof. A separate statement must also be filed in each of the other districts in which branches or agencies are maintained. The data shown in a statement covering a branch or agency must relate to such branch or agency rather than the principal office. For further information as to the proper execution of Form 741, see the applicable regulations.

(3) Any person conducting a stock brokerage business who has registered with the district director as provided above may appoint some person to act as nominee in holding stock on his behalf. Also, any person acting in the capacity of a custodian may appoint some person to act as nominee in holding stocks or certificates of indebtedness on his behalf. Any corporation may appoint some person to act as nominee to hold stock on its behalf. The name of the person appointed as nominee of a broker, custodian, or a corporation shall be registered with the district director for the district in which the principal place of business of the broker, custodian, or corporation is located. Substitution of a nominee may be effected by likewise registering the name of the successor nominee. No special form is prescribed for use in registering a nominee.

(4) Where proper registration statements have been filed, the district director will issue to such person a certificate of registration signed by the district director and setting forth the date of issue, the name of the person conducting the business and the nature of the business for which the certificate is issued. Such certificate must be kept at the place of business located within the district of the district director by whom the certificate is issued.

(j) Provisions special to commodity stamp taxes. (1) Provision is made for the withdrawal of filled cheese and playing cards from factories, free of tax, for the use of the United States. The procedure to be followed, the forms to be used, etc., in the case of such withdrawals are contained in the applicable regulations. Provision is also made for the exportation without payment of tax on adulterated butter and playing cards. The procedure to be followed, and the forms to be used, etc., in the case of such exportation are contained in the applicable regulations.

(2) Every manufacturer of opium manufactured in the United States for smoking purposes must, before commencing business, furnish to the district director of the district in which his place of manufacture is located a notice on Form 268 and a bond on Form 269 with sureties satisfactory to the district director and in a penal sum of not less than $100,000. There shall be not less than 3 personal sureties, each of whom shall qualify in the full amount of the bond. The district director on approving the bond will issue to the manufacturer a certificate on Form 270 which will specify the penal sum of the bond furnished. This certificate shall contain a transcript from the manufacturer's notice, Form 268, giving an accurate description of the factory premises. This certificate must be posted by the manufacturer in a conspicuous place within his manufactory.

(3) Every manufacturer of adulterated and process or renovated butter, filled cheese, or white phosphorous matches must also give notice and register with the district director on Form 213 before engaging in the business, and also furnish a satisfactory bond on Form 214. Every manufacturer of playing cards is required to register with the district director on Form 277. Persons regularly engaged in the business of furnishing silver bullion for industrial, professional, or artistic use are required to register with the district director on Form 1 (Silver). Persons required to register with the district director or furnish bond should consult the applicable regulations and the appropriate forms.

(k) Provisions applicable to special or occupational stamp taxes. Every person liable to pay any occupational tax imposed under subtitle D of the Code is required to register with the district director of internal revenue his name or style, place of residence, trade or business, and the place where such trade or business is carried on. In the case of a partnership the names of the partners and their place of residence must be so registered. See section 7011 of the Code. The following forms are prescribed for registration: Form 678 (relating to occupational taxes with respect to opium, etc.), Form 678–A (relating to occupational taxes with respect to opium, etc., in the case of a person who has not previously registered in any of the classes or occupations specified in section 4721 of the Code), Form 678–C (relating to occupational taxes with respect to marihuana), Form 11 (relating to adulterated and process or renovated butter and filled cheese), Form 11–B (relating to occupational taxes with respect to coin-operated amusement and gaming devices, bowling alleys, and billiard and pool tables), Form 11–C (relating to occupational tax with respect to wagering).

SUBPART E—CONFERENCE AND PRACTICE REQUIREMENTS

§ 601.501 Scope of requirements. The conference and practice requirements prescribed in this subpart apply to all offices of the Internal Revenue Service, including the Office of the Chief Counsel. Such requirements are applicable with respect to any matter involving any internal revenue tax.

§ 601.502 Qualifications for conferences—(a) General. It is the policy of the Internal Revenue Service to encourage the discussion of disputed tax liability or any matter in connection with an internal revenue tax which affects the taxpayer's interest. Conferences, of course, may be accorded only to taxpayers or their duly authorized representatives. Conferences with taxpayers or their representatives will not ordinarily be held without previous arrangement. However, upon a proper showing a request for an immediate conference without previous arrangement will be given consideration, and Service officials responsible for the arrangement of conferences may, in their discretion, make an exception to the rule. Every protest, brief, or other statement in writing which the taxpayer or his representative desires to be considered at any conference should be submitted or filed at least five days prior to the date of the conference. If the taxpayer or his representative is unable to file such protest, brief, or other statement in writing at least five days prior to the date of the scheduled conference, the taxpayer or his representative should arrange with the appropriate Service representative for a postponement of the conference to a date mutually agreeable to the parties. The taxpayer or his representative remains free of course to submit additional or supporting facts or evidence within a reasonable time after the conference.

(b) Requirement of enrollment. (1) Except as provided in this paragraph, or as authorized by Treasury Department Circular No. 230 as amended (31 CFR, Parts 10, 12, 13, and 14), which circular contains rules governing the recognition of attorneys and agents representing clients before the Treasury Department, no person appearing as an attorney or agent on behalf of any taxpayer, or of a transferee or fiduciary will be recognized by representatives of the Internal Revenue Service, unless such attorney or agent is duly enrolled and in good standing to practice before the Treasury Department in accordance with Department Circular No. 230. The appearance of such attorney or agent, and his representation of taxpayers in every respect, must be in strict compliance with the requirements of Department Circular No. 230 and all pertinent statutes, and also with the requirements of this subpart. Evidence of enrollment must be submitted upon request when the attorney or agent presents himself for conference.

(2) Certain individuals are authorized by Department Circular No. 230 to appear without enrollment under the circumstances and conditions described therein. However, such individuals must present satisfactory identification, and the requirement of a power of attorney will not be waived in the case of any individual appearing on behalf of another person. See paragraph (c) of this section. The formal requirements concerning identification and authority of a person to act in a fiduciary capacity are the same as those related to the execution of powers of attorney by such fiduciary. See § 601.505. Individuals who without enrollment appear on behalf of any person with respect to the tax liability of such person may also without enrollment appear with respect to the liability of such person as a transferee of property of a taxpayer and with respect to the liability of a fiduciary under section 3467 of the Revised Statutes, 31 U. S. C. 192.

(3) Unenrolled employees of enrolled attorneys or agents will not be recognized by offices of the Service, except for the purpose of filing papers or securing information as to the status of tax cases. Recognition of such employees for the purpose of securing information as to the status of tax cases will be given only when the employee presents with reference to a particular case written authority from his employer to request such information, and a power of attorney authorizing his employer to act in such matter has previously been filed and not revoked.

(4) If a proper power of attorney is filed authorizing only one of the following acts by the attorney or agent, enrollment will not be required:

(i) Authority to sign, but not to prosecute, any claim of the taxpayer; and

(ii) Authority to inspect or receive copies of returns filed by the taxpayer where an Executive order or regulations permit such action by agent.

The Commissioner reserves the right to withhold making the above exceptions in any specific cases. If the power of attorney authorizes the attorney or agent to do both of the above acts or one of the above acts and some other act or acts, enrollment will be required, notwithstanding that the attorney or agent does not expect to exercise the additional power conferred upon him.

(5) If at the time an attorney or agent appears for conference, he is not familiar with the requirement for enrollment or for a power of attorney, or can show that he has not had a reasonable opportunity to obtain a power of attorney from the person on whose behalf he appears, but is able to produce such evidence as will reasonably convince the Service's representative that he has authority to represent the taxpayer, such attorney or agent may be heard with the understanding that a power of attorney in proper form and evidence of enrollment will be promptly submitted. Pending the filing of a power of attorney and of evidence of enrollment, information concerning the Service's attitude with respect to the matter will not be disclosed to the attorney or agent.

(c) Requirement of power of attorney. (1) No attorney or agent shall appear on behalf of any person before any office of the Internal Revenue Service or be recognized in any matter connected with the presentation of such person's interests, including the preparation and filing of necessary written documents and correspondence with the Service relative to such interests, unless such attorney or agent presents and files a power of attorney in proper form, or a certified copy thereof, from such person authorizing the attorney or agent to represent him in the matter in question. Only one power of attorney to represent the taxpayer shall be in effect in any one case, and there shall be included in such power of attorney the names and addresses of all attorneys or agents to whom the taxpayer has delegated authority to represent him in the case. A power of attorney is not required in the case of an attorney appointed by a court having jurisdiction over a debtor to represent a trustee in bankruptcy, debtor in possession, or receiver. For evidence of authority to be submitted in such cases, see § 601.505 (c).

(2) The Commissioner may, with respect to the performance of a specific act, substitute a requirement for appropriate evidence of authorization in lieu of the requirement in this section of a power of attorney. The requirement of a power of attorney to authorize prosecution of a claim for refund by an attorney or agent of the claimant shall not be waived.

(3) See paragraph (b) (5) of this section with respect to recognition of an attorney or agent in certain cases pending the filing of a power of attorney.

(4) A power of attorney filed after final determination of a tax liability will not be accepted, unless the power of attorney recites that the taxpayer is informed of such settlement and of the amount of the deficiency or overassessment determined.

§ 601.503 Filing power of attorney and statement relative to fees. A power of attorney shall be filed in duplicate in the office of the district director of internal revenue in which the case is under consideration, with one additional conformed copy for each taxable year in excess of one. If at the time the power of attorney is furnished the case is pending in the office of an assistant regional commissioner, the power of attorney may be filed in such office. In the case of a power of attorney authorizing representation in connection with a request for a ruling or a similar matter of a specific nature which will be originally considered by the National Office, the power of attorney shall be filed in the Office of the Director of Practice, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D. C. A fee statement respecting contingent or partially contingent fees required to be filed by attorneys and agents under Department Circular No. 230 shall be signed only by the attorney or agent and filed with the power of attorney to which it relates.

§ 601.504 Provisions respecting powers of attorney—(a) Formal requirements. The use of technical language in the preparation of a power of attorney is not necessary, but the instrument should clearly express the taxpayer's intention as to the scope of the authority granted to the attorney or agent, and the tax matters and the taxable years or periods to which the power relates. If it is desired that a copy of any correspondence addressed to the taxpayer should be sent to the attorney or agent in connection with any matter in respect of which he is authorized to act under the terms of the power of attorney, the power of attorney should contain a request to that effect and designate the mailing address of such attorney or agent.

(1) Extent of authority delegated. The authority delegated to an attorney or agent in a power of attorney enumerating specific acts which the attorney or agent is authorized to perform will be considered to be limited to those acts. Express authority to perform the following acts must be granted in the power of attorney or such acts will be considered to be beyond the scope of the authority of the attorney or agent:

(i) To receive, but not to endorse and collect, checks in payment of any refund of internal revenue taxes, penalties, or interest. (See section 3477 of the Revised Statutes (31 U. S. C. 203), which prohibits assignments of claims or portions thereof, and § 601.510.)

(ii) To delegate authority or to substitute another agent or attorney.

(iii) To execute waivers or consents agreeing to a later assessment and collection of taxes than is provided by applicable statutes of limitations.

(iv) To execute a closing agreement in respect of a tax liability or a specific matter.

(2) Signature of principal. A power of attorney shall be signed as follows:

(i) In the case of an individual taxpayer, by such individual.

(ii) In the case of any taxable year for which a joint return was made by husband and wife, by both husband and wife except that either spouse may sign for the other if such signature is duly authorized in writing.

(iii) In the case of a partnership, either by all members or in the name of the partnership by one of the partners duly authorized to act.

(iv) In the case of a corporation, by an officer of the corporation having authority to bind the corporation. The instrument shall also be attested by the secretary of the corporation and the corporate seal affixed. If the officer who signs the power of attorney is also secretary, another officer of the corporation, preferably the president, vice president, or treasurer, must also sign the authorization so that two different individuals' signatures will appear thereon. If the corporation has no seal, a certified copy of a resolution duly passed by the board of directors of the corporation authorizing the execution of the power of attorney should be attached.

(v) In the case of an association, the same requirements shall be applied as in the case of a corporation.

(vi) In case the taxpayer is dissolved, insolvent, or deceased, and in the case of a trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, see § 601.505 for instructions for execution of powers of attorney in special cases.

(3) Acknowledgment. The power of attorney must be acknowledged before a notary public, or, in lieu thereof, witnessed by two disinterested individuals. The notarial seal must be affixed unless such seal is not required under the laws of the State wherein the power of attorney is executed.

(4) Certification of powers of attorney. The certification of copies of powers of attorney or papers or documents filed in connection therewith must be made by a notary public or other proper official, who shall state that he has personally compared the copy with the original and finds it to be a true and correct copy.

(b) Substitution of attorneys or agents. Substitution of attorneys or agents or delegations of authority can be recognized only if the power of attorney expressly confers the power of substitution or delegation. An attorney or agent who is enrolled and in good standing before the Department may, in pursuance of such express authority, substitute another or others in his stead or delegate authority to another or others. The Service reserves the right to refuse recognition to a substituted attorney or agent in any case where such substitution would only delay the closing of the case. Furthermore, a substitute power of attorney granted by an attorney or agent who is himself acting under a substitute power of attorney will not be accepted unless specific authority is granted in the principal's power of attorney to pass on to his substitute the right of substitution.

(c) Designation of new attorneys or agents. In any case in which a power of attorney has been filed and thereafter the taxpayer desires to authorize an additional attorney or agent to represent him before the Service with respect to the same matter, a new power of attorney must be filed which shall include the names of all attorneys or agents authorized to act for the taxpayer. Such new power of attorney shall contain a clause specifically revoking any and all powers of attorney previously filed with respect to the same matter. If the taxpayer desires to revoke the authority granted to an attorney or agent in a power of attorney previously filed and to authorize a new attorney or agent to act with respect to the same matter, the revocation of the authority of the former attorney or agent shall in no case be effective so far as the Service is concerned prior to the giving of written notice to the Service that the authority of such attorney or agent has been revoked and that the former attorney or agent has been notified in writing by the taxpayer of such revocation.

(d) Special authority required in Vinson Act cases. A power of attorney authorizing an attorney or agent to represent a taxpayer in connection with income and excess profits tax matters will not be recognized as adequate to authorize an attorney or agent to act as representative of the taxpayer in connection with its excess profit liability under section 3 of the Vinson Act (48 Stat. 503), as amended. A separate power of attorney must be furnished specifically authorizing the attorney or agent to appear on behalf of the taxpayer in such cases.

§ 601.505 Instructions for execution of power of attorney in special cases—(a) Dissolved partnership. A power of attorney to act with respect to matters involving the affairs of a dissolved partnership must be signed by each of the former partners. In case some of the partners are dead, their legal representatives must sign in their stead. (See paragraph (d) of this section.) If, however, under the laws of the particular State, the surviving partners at the time of the execution of the power of attorney have exclusive right to the control and possession of the firm's assets for the purpose of winding up its affairs, their signatures alone will be sufficient. If only the surviving partners sign the power of attorney, a copy of the pertinent provisions of the State law under which they claim authority, exclusive of the legal representatives of the deceased partners, should be noted and citation given thereto.

(b) Dissolved corporation. If a liquidating trustee or trustee under dissolution has been appointed, or if a trustee derives authority under a statute of the State in which the corporation was organized, the power of attorney should be executed by such trustee. If there is more than one trustee, all must join unless it is established that less than all have authority to act in the premises. The power of attorney must be accompanied by a copy of the instrument under which the trustee derives his authority, properly authenticated, or if the authority is derived under a State statute, the statute should be cited and quoted, and an affidavit by a third party, setting forth the facts required by the statute as a condition precedent to the vesting of the authority in said trustee, must be furnished. It must also appear in the case of any trustee that his authority has not been terminated. If there is no trustee, then a power of attorney signed by a sufficient number of individuals to make up a representation of a majority of the voting stock of the corporation at the date of dissolution will be accepted for purposes of conference and correspondence relating to the tax liability in the particular case. Such instrument must show the total number of outstanding shares of voting stock at the date of dissolution and the number held by each signatory to the power of attorney. The instrument must also contain positive averments as to the nonexistence of any trustee, and the date of dissolution must appear.

(c) Insolvent taxpayer. A certificate from the court having jurisdiction over the insolvent should be furnished showing the appointment and qualification of the trustee or receiver and that the authority has not been terminated. In cases pending before a district court of the United States an authenticated copy of the order approving the bond of the trustee or receiver will meet this requirement. If an attorney has been appointed under authority of court for the trustee or receiver, a copy of the court order appointing such attorney (where he is to represent the trustee or receiver) should be furnished. If no attorney has been appointed, the trustee or receiver should execute the power of attorney and the above-described evidence showing the appointment of the trustee or receiver should be furnished therewith. If the trustee or receiver does not wish to appoint an attorney, he will be recognized upon establishing his authority in the manner above described.

(d) Deceased taxpayer. The executor or administrator should execute the power of attorney, which must be accompanied by a short-form certificate (or authenticated copies of letters testamentary or letters of administration) showing that his authority is in full force and effect at the time such power of attorney is submitted. In the event that the executor has been discharged and a trustee under the will is acting, the power of attorney must come from the trustee, and evidence of the discharge of the executor and of the appointment of the trustee must be submitted with the power of attorney. Where the executor is discharged and the estate is distributed to the residuary legatees, the power of attorney must come from the residuary legatee or legatees, and be accompanied by a statement from the court certifying to the discharge of the executor and naming the residuary legatees and indicating the proper share to which each is entitled. In the event that the decedent died intestate and the administrator has been discharged or none was ever appointed, the power of attorney must be executed by the distributees and accompanied by evidence of the discharge of the administrator, if one had been appointed, and affidavits and such other evidence as can be adduced tending to show the relationship to the deceased of the signatories to the power of attorney and the right of each of them to the respective shares claimed under the law of the domicile of the deceased.

(e) Guardians and other fiduciaries appointed by a court of record. The power of attorney should be executed by the fiduciary and must be accompanied by a court certificate or court order showing that such fiduciary has been appointed and that his appointment has not been terminated.

(f) Trustee under agreement or declaration. Powers of attorney must be executed by the trustee and be accompanied by documentary evidence of the authority of the trustee to act. Such evidence may be either a copy of the trust instrument, properly certified, or a certified copy of extracts from the trust instrument, showing:

(1) Date of instrument.

(2) That it is or is not of record in any court.

(3) The beneficiaries.

(4) The appointment of the trustee, the authority granted, and such other information as may be necessary to show that such authority extends to Federal tax matters.

(5) That the trust has not been terminated, and that the trustee appointed therein is still acting.

Self-serving affidavits by the trustee in this connection are not acceptable. In the event that the trustee appointed in the original trust instrument is no longer acting and has been replaced by another trustee, documentary evidence of the appointment of the new trustee must be submitted. In cases where there are more than one trustee appointed, all must join unless it is shown that less than all have authority to act.

(g) Cross reference. For additional requirement of execution and acknowledgment of power of attorney before a notary public, see § 601.504 (a) (3).

§ 601.506 Refusal to recognize attorney or agent. Where consideration of a matter has been held in abeyance pending the furnishing of evidence which the Service has requested an attorney or agent to submit, failure to comply with such request within three months from the date it is made may be deemed by the administrative officer before whom the matter is pending cause for refusal further to recognize the authority of such attorney or agent. The administrative officer shall, however, give written notice of such refusal to the taxpayer represented by such attorney or agent, and shall briefly state the reason such action has been taken.

§ 601.507 Power of attorney not required in cases docketed in the Tax Court of the United States. In a case docketed in the Tax Court of the United States the petitioner and the Commissioner stand in the position of parties litigant before a judicial body. The Tax Court has its own rules of practice and procedure and its own rules respecting admission to practice before it. Ordinarily, the Appellate Division of a region will not recognize counsel not of record in a proceeding before the Tax Court. Therefore, correspondence in connection with cases docketed in the Tax Court will be addressed to counsel of record before the Court. In all cases pending in the Appellate Division, other than cases docketed in the Tax Court, the customary power of attorney is required.

§ 601.508 Recognition by correspondence. If an attorney or agent of a taxpayer desires recognition through correspondence with the Service, enrollment and power of attorney requirements must be met even though no actual appearance is made. The attorney or agent should state in his first letter or other written communication with the Service whether he is enrolled to practice before the Department, and should enclose in duplicate the power of attorney authorizing him to act in the matter. In any matter in which a power of attorney has previously been filed copies of all correspondence relating to the same matter and addressed by the Service to the taxpayer shall be sent to the attorney or agent designated in such power of attorney, provided the power of attorney contains a request that copies of such correspondence be sent to such attorney or agent.

§ 601.509 Evidence required to substantiate facts alleged in conferences. All evidence except that of a supplementary or incidental character may be required to be submitted over the sworn signature of the taxpayer. In the case of any matter pending before the Service in respect of which the taxpayer submits a protest or other similar statement, such protest or statement should contain a sworn statement of facts on which the taxpayer relies, and should meet all the issues raised by the Service which the taxpayer desires to contest. Every claim, affidavit, written argument, brief, or statement of fact prepared or filed by an attorney or agent in any matter pending before the Service shall have endorsed thereon a statement signed by such attorney or agent stating whether or not he prepared such document and whether or not he knows of his own knowledge that the statements of fact contained therein are true and correct.

§ 601.510 Delivery of checks in payment of refunds. The Service is not bound to deliver any check in payment of refund of internal revenue taxes, penalties, or interest to a representative of any taxpayer acting under authority evidenced by a power of attorney. However, it will be the general policy of the Service to mail such checks in care of an enrolled attorney or agent who has filed a power of attorney from the principal, specifically authorizing him to receive but not to indorse such check, provided that such power of attorney shall have been filed in sufficient time for the section or division preparing the certificate of overassessment or other appropriate notice to show thereon the mailing address as "care of" the attorney or agent. When an attorney or agent has more than one address, request to mail the check to an address other than that shown in the power of attorney will not be granted unless the address shown in the power of attorney is no longer that of the attorney or agent. In the event that a power of attorney is filed specifically authorizing more than one attorney or agent to receive checks on the taxpayer's behalf, and such attorneys or agents have different addresses, the Service will mail the check direct to the taxpayer, unless a statement is furnished, signed by all of the attorneys or agents named in the power of attorney, requesting that the check be mailed in care of one of their number. Furthermore, it will be the policy of the Service not to mail checks in payment of refunds to an attorney or agent who holds authority to receive such checks by reason of a substitute power of attorney obtained from the attorney or agent designated by the taxpayer.

§ 601.511 Contest between attorneys or agents representing taxpayers. Where there is a contest between members of a dissolved firm or between two or more attorneys or agents acting under the same power of attorney as to which one is entitled to represent a client in a matter pending before the Service or to receive a check, thereafter the taxpayer only shall be recognized, unless the members or survivors of the dissolved firm, or the contesting attorneys or agents, file an agreement signed by all designating which of them shall be entitled to represent the taxpayer in such matter or to receive any check. In no case shall the delivery of a check to the taxpayer be delayed more than 60 days by reason of failure to file such agreement.

SUBPART F—RULES, REGULATIONS, AND FORMS

§ 601.601 Rules and regulations—(a) Formulation. (1) Internal revenue rules take various forms. The most important rules are issued as regulations and Treasury decisions, prescribed by the Commissioner and approved by the Secretary. Other rules may be issued over the signature of the Commissioner or the signature of any other official to whom authority has been delegated. The channeling of rules varies with the circumstances. Regulations and Treasury decisions, except those relating to alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms, are prepared either in the office of the Assistant Commissioner (Technical) or in the office of the Chief Counsel. All such regulations and Treasury decisions are reviewed in the office of the Assistant Commissioner (Technical) and in the office of the Chief Counsel. Alcohol, tobacco, and certain firearms regulations and Treasury decisions are prepared in the office of the Assistant Commissioner (Operations) and reviewed in the office of the Chief Counsel. After approval by the Commissioner, regulations and Treasury decisions are forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury for further consideration and final approval.

(2) Where required by section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) and in such other instances as may be desirable, the Commissioner publishes in the FEDERAL REGISTER general notice of proposed rules (unless all persons subject thereto are named and either personally served or otherwise have actual notice thereof in accordance with law). This notice includes (i) a statement of the time, place, and nature of public rule-making proceedings; (ii) reference to the authority under which the rule is proposed; and (iii) either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved. Also, pursuant to section 5 of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (27 U. S. C. 205 (f)) public notice and opportunity for hearing is given prior to the adoption of regulations under that section.

(b) Petition to change rules. Interested persons are privileged to petition for the issuance, amendment, or repeal of a rule, and such petitions will be given careful consideration. Petitions should be addressed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Publication of rules and regulations. All internal revenue regulations and Treasury decisions (whether interpretative or substantive) are published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and in the Code of Federal Regulations. The Treasury decisions are also published in the weekly Internal Revenue Bulletin and the semiannual Cumulative Bulletin. The Internal Revenue Bulletin is the authoritative instrument of the Commissioner for the announcement of official rulings, and for the publication of Treasury decisions, Executive orders, legislation and court decisions pertaining to internal revenue matters. It is the policy of the Service to publish in the bulletin all substantive and procedural rulings of importance or general interest, the publication of which is considered necessary to promote a uniform application of the laws administered by the Service. It is also the policy to publish all rulings which revoke, modify, amend or affect any published ruling. Rulings relating solely to matters of internal management are not published. The rulings are prepared in the various offices of the Service.

§ 601.602 Forms and instructions—(a) Tax return forms and instructions. Forms and instructions are developed by the Internal Revenue Service to explain the requirements of the internal revenue laws and regulations and are issued for the assistance of taxpayers in exercising their rights and discharging their duties under the internal revenue laws. All internal revenue taxes which are not collected by stamps are assessed and collected through the self-determination and self-application of the law and the regulations by taxpayers. The tax return forms are the instruments through which this is accomplished.

(b) Other forms and instructions. In addition to the forms and instructions for the return of internal revenue taxes, the Internal Revenue Service provides other necessary or appropriate forms for assisting the public in complying with the technical requirements of the internal revenue laws and regulations. The material contained in the forms and instructions, and the arrangement thereof, is carefully considered in the Internal Revenue Service and is designed to lead the taxpayer step-by-step through an orderly accumulation of data to an accurate report of the information required.

(c) Procurement of forms and instructions. Copies of all necessary forms, and instructions as to their preparation and filing, may be obtained from district directors of internal revenue.

SUBPART G—RECORDS

§ 601.701 Classification. Matters of official record in the Internal Revenue Service include:

(a) Documents submitted by members of the public pursuant to the internal revenue laws or regulations, such as tax returns, information returns, statements required by statute or regulation, claims for credit, refund, or abatement, offers in compromise, bonds, applications for registration, and waivers of statutes of limitation.

(b) Final opinions and orders under the internal revenue laws and regulations in tax matters, such as records of assessment, certificates of overassessment, and statutory deficiency letters, and documents evidencing determinations of such matters as claims for abatement, credit, or refund, offers in compromise, applications for excess profits tax relief, registration applications, closing agreements, and levies.

§ 601.702 Publication and public inspection—(a) General. Sections 6103, 7213, and 7237 (b) of the Code and the corresponding provisions of prior internal revenue laws contain broad prohibitive and penal provisions against the disclosure of certain information described therein obtained by the Internal Revenue Service from members of the public in the performance of its functions. See also 18 U. S. C. 1905. Publication and public inspection of the official records of the Service, including final opinions or orders in particular cases, are effected in the light of these provisions. The extent to which public disclosure is made of matters of official record to persons properly and directly concerned is set forth in this section.

(1) Inspection of tax returns. The inspection of returns is governed by the provisions of the internal revenue laws and rules promulgated by the President or by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to such provisions. See Treasury Decision 4873, approved by the President November 12, 1938, as amended; Treasury Decision 4878, approved by the Secretary January 4, 1939; Treasury Decision 4929, approved by the President August 28, 1939, as amended; Treasury Decision 5138, approved by the President April 20, 1942 (26 CFR (1939) Part 458, Subpart A); Treasury Decision 4945, approved by the Secretary September 20, 1939 (26 CFR (1939), Part 458, Subpart B), as amended.

(2) Public lists of persons making income tax returns. Lists of persons making income tax returns in each year are available to public inspection in the offices of district directors of internal revenue. See section 6103 (f) of the Code.

(3) Public lists of persons paying occupational taxes. Lists of persons paying occupational taxes under subtitle D or E of the Code are available for public inspection in the offices of district directors of internal revenue pursuant to the provisions and limitations of section 6107 of the Code.

(4) Record of seizure and sale of real estate. Record 21, "Record of seizure and sale of real estate", is open for public inspection in offices of district directors of internal revenue and copies are furnished on application. See Treasury Decision 5428, approved January 11, 1945, 10 F. R. 622.

(5) State liquor cases. If the interests of the United States will not be jeopardized thereby, and if information will not be divulged contrary to section 7213 (b) of the Code, assistant regional commissioners (alcohol and tobacco tax) may upon receipt of subpoenas or requests of State authorities, and at the expense of the State, authorize investigators and other employees under their supervision to attend trials and administrative hearings in liquor cases in which the State is a party, produce records and testify as to facts coming to their knowledge in their official capacities.

(6) Public lists of employers making returns under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act. Lists of employers making annual returns on Form 940 under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (chapter 23 of the Code) are available for public inspection in the offices of district directors of internal revenue. See sections 6103 (f) and 6106 of the Code.

(7) Information returns of certain tax-exempt organizations and certain trusts. Information returns filed pursuant to sections 6033 (b) and 6034 of the Code by certain tax-exempt organizations and by trusts claiming charitable or other deductions under section 642 (c) are available for public inspection in the offices of district directors of internal revenue in which they are filed. The information returns so available are pages 3 and 4 of Form 990–A (tax-exempt organizations) and Form 1041–A (trusts). See section 6104 of the Code.

(b) Final opinions and orders. In conformity with the policy of the provisions of law referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, final opinions and orders in the adjudication of cases arising under the internal revenue laws are, with limited exceptions, treated by the Service as confidential and are neither published nor made available for public inspection. The exceptions are:

(1) Accepted offers in compromise. In the case of offers in compromise in respect of income, profits, capital stock (repealed), estate or gift tax liability accepted on or after August 20, 1952, a copy of the summary sheet (abstract) of each such offer is available for public inspection in the office of the information officer of the National Office. Such summary sheet includes a brief description of the reasons for acceptance of the offer. If information in addition to that shown on the summary sheet is requested, such information, subject to the provisions set forth in Internal Revenue Cumulative Bulletin 1952–2, pages 299–300, will also be made available for inspection. In the case of offers in compromise of such tax liabilities accepted before August 20, 1952, a copy of the summary sheet will be made available for inspection upon request identifying the taxpayer. See Treasury Decision 5927, approved August 20, 1952, and Executive Order 10386, dated August 20, 1952.

(2) Information regarding basic permits. Information with respect to the handling of applications for basic permits under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and under section 5304 of the Code is maintained for public inspection in the offices of assistant regional commissioners (alcohol and tobacco tax) until the expiration of one year following final action on such applications. See Treasury Decision 5930, approved by the Acting Secretary September 2, 1952 (27 CFR, Part 1).

(3) Alcohol permits issued under section 5304 of the Code. A current card index record of all persons to whom basic permits have been issued, or who have filed application therefor, is available in the offices of assistant regional commissioners (alcohol and tobacco tax) for inspection by any permittee with respect to other permittees to whom he is authorized to sell, or from whom he is authorized to purchase, alcohol or specially denatured alcohol. (26 CFR 182.962)

(4) Excess profits tax relief; publication of allowances. Pursuant to the provisions of section 6105 of the Code, there is published from time to time in the FEDERAL REGISTER the information specified in such section relative to excess profits tax relief allowed particular taxpayers.

(5) Publication of decisions. Rulings and decisions on matters arising under the internal revenue laws which because they announce a ruling or decision upon a novel question or upon a question in regard to which there exists no previously published ruling or decision, or for other reasons, are of such importance as to be of general interest, or which revoke, amend or affect in any manner a published ruling or decision are, after rephrasing to eliminate any confidential information relating to a particular case, including identity of persons, regularly published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin. See also § 601.601 (c).

(c) Rules. All rules relating to the functions of the Internal Revenue Service other than those dealing solely with internal management will, to the extent consistent with the limitations contained in the provisions of law referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, be made available to public inspection. As to rules generally and their publication, see § 601.601 et seq.

(d) Requests. (1) Requests for information in connection with matters of official record in which the procedure for inspection is not set out in rules referred to in the preceding paragraphs of this section should be submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C. The request should clearly state the information desired and must set forth the interest of the applicant in the subject matter and purpose for which the information is desired. If the applicant is an agent or attorney acting for another he will attach to the application evidence of his authority to act for his principal. If such evidence is satisfactory, such agent or attorney will be given access to any record to which his principal would be given access. The determination as to whether the information requested is available for disclosure in any particular case will be made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or such other officer authorized under the provisions of law referred to in paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) Whenever it is determined that a matter of official record is available for disclosure in a particular case, a copy of said official record will be furnished the party requesting the same or the officer passing upon the request may in his discretion allow a personal inspection of the official record in question at the place where the document is normally kept. A reasonable fee may in the discretion of the determining officer be charged for furnishing copies of official records.

[SEAL] T. COLEMAN ANDREWS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

PART 272—RULES ON PROCEDURE

COMMITTEE ACTION; SUBMITTALS, PETITIONS AND REQUESTS

Effective June 22, 1955, Part 272 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 272.2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 272.2 Committee action. The function of the Committee is the direction and regulation of open market operations which are conducted by the Federal Reserve Banks. This involves the determination of the policies which are to be pursued with respect to the purchase and sale of securities by the Federal Reserve Banks with a view to accommodating commerce and business and with regard to their bearing upon the general credit situation of the country, together with consideration and action upon incidental matters relating to the manner in which such operations are to be conducted. The discharge of the Committee's responsibilities requires the continuous gathering of information and study of changing financial, economic, and credit conditions and other pertinent considerations by the members of the Committee and its personnel. These activities are closely interrelated with other activities of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Reserve Banks and all relevant information and views developed by these organizations are available to the Committee. With this background, action is taken by the Committee upon its own initiative at periodic meetings held at least four times each year and oftener if deemed necessary. Attendance at Committee meetings is restricted to members of the Committee and its official staff, the Manager of the System Open Market Account, the Presidents of Federal Reserve Banks who are not at the time members of the Committee, and such other advisers as the Committee may invite from time to time. The Committee acts through the adoption and transmittal of directives and regulations to the Federal Reserve Banks. Operations in the System Open Market Account are conducted pursuant to directives issued by the Committee.

2. Section 272.5 is amended to read as follows:

§ 272.5 Submittals, petitions, and requests. Submittals, petitions, and requests may be made to the Committee at any time in the manner stated in § 271.1 of this subchapter. They will be considered by members of the Committee's official staff and, where appropriate, will be brought to the attention of the members of the Committee for consideration and any necessary action.

The purpose of these amendments is to eliminate reference to the Executive Committee of the Federal Open Market Committee which was discontinued effective June 22, 1955.

The notice, public participation, and deferred effective date described in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act are not followed in connection with this amendment for the reasons and good cause found that such procedures are unnecessary as this part relates only to agency organization and they would serve no useful purpose.

(2) If the applicant's condition is such that immediate care and treatment are necessary, services shall be provided pending identification as an Indian beneficiary.

(c) Priorities when funds, facilities, or personnel are insufficient to provide the indicated volume of services. Priorities for care and treatment, as among individuals who are within the scope of the program, will be determined on the basis of relative medical need and access to other arrangements for obtaining the necessary care.

§ 36.13 Charges to Indian beneficiaries for services provided in Public Health Service facilities or by Public Health Service personnel—(a) In general. In order to make the most effective use of funds and facilities available for needed health and medical services, individual Indians who are clearly able to pay the costs of hospital care (and of other major items of service specified in instructions of the Surgeon General) will be encouraged to do so, and services may be condi-tioned upon payment in appropriate cases. No charge may be made for immunizations, health examination of school children or similar preventive services.

(b) Amount of charges. Payment may be requested in accordance with a schedule of charges established for the jurisdiction by the Area Medical Officer, but such charges may in no case exceed the cost of providing the service, as determined by the Surgeon General or in accordance with instructions issued by him.

(c) Circumstances under which payment may be requested; Authority of the Medical Officer in Charge. Whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the Medical Officer in Charge, from information available from the local Bureau of Indian Affairs officers or from other sources, that an Indian applying for care for himself or his family is able to meet the scheduled charge for the needed care without impairing his prospects for economic independence, he may be asked to pay the scheduled charge. Charges may be reduced in individual cases, or payment may be waived and needed services may nevertheless be provided if, in the judgment of the Medical Officer in Charge, the health objectives in the area served will be advanced thereby.

SUBPART C—CONTRACT SERVICES

§ 36.21 Availability of contract services. Availability of contract services to individual Indian beneficiaries will be governed by the terms of the contract.

2. The foregoing amendment shall become effective on July 1, 1955.

Dated: June 24, 1955.

[Misc. 62332]

ARIZONA

PARTIAL REVOCATION OF PUBLIC LAND ORDER NO. 848 OF JULY 1, 1952, WHICH WITHDREW PUBLIC LANDS FOR USE OF DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY IN CONNECTION WITH YUMA TEST STATION

By virtue of the authority vested in the President and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

Public Land Order No. 848 of July 1, 1952, withdrawing public lands in Arizona for use of the Department of the Army in connection with the Yuma Test Station, is hereby revoked so far as it effects the following-described lands:

GILA AND SALT RIVER MERIDIAN

T. 6 S., R. 14 W.,
Secs. 1 and 12.

The areas described aggregate 1,283.62 acres.

The lands are generally flat with a slope to the south. The soil is a clay loam and supports a sparse growth of creosote, paloverde, cacti, and seasonal weeds and grasses when precipitation, which averages 3½ inches annually, is sufficient. The grazing capacity is low. No rock in place is exposed on either section and the surface alluvium is not indicative of any valuable mineralization. The climate is too arid for dry farming and there is no known source of irrigation water.

No application for the restored lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of the restored lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall become subject to application, petition and selection, subject to valid existing rights, the provisions of existing withdrawals, the requirements of applicable laws, and the 91-day preference-right filing period for veterans and others entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279-284), as amended.

Veterans' preference-right applications under the said act of September 27, 1944, may be received on or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order, and those covering the same lands shall be treated as though simultaneously filed at that time. Applications filed under the act after that time and during the succeeding 91 days shall be considered in the order of filing. Applications by the general public under the public-land laws, including the mineral-leasing laws, received on or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though simultaneously filed at that time, where the applications are for the same lands; otherwise, priority of filing shall govern.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Phoenix, Arizona.

ORME LEWIS,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Part of the lands was patented to the City of Colorado Springs, Colorado, on May 22, 1896, under the authority contained in the act of April 24, 1896 (29 Stat. 97). The remaining lands are a part of the Pike National Forest and, exclusive of those rewithdrawn by paragraph 2 of this order, shall become subject to the public-land laws relating to national forest lands at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order.

2. Subject to valid existing rights, the following-described public lands, which are a portion of the lands described in paragraph 1 of this order, are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public-land laws, including the mining but not the mineral-leasing laws, and reserved for use of the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, as the Pikes Peak Summit Recreation Area:

A tract of land located in the unsurveyed S½SW¼ sec. 7, T. 14 S., R. 68 W., 6th P. M. described as follows:

Containers which are not so marked shall not be regarded as meeting requirements of "standard pack".

(1) Fruit in each container shall be of a size not less than the minimum diameters specified in Table I for the various packs. Packs other than those listed shall have a minimum diameter not less than that specified for the nearest count.

§ 51.1826 Damage. "Damage" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(b) Creasing, when it materially affects the appearance or shipping quality of the fruit;

(c) Dryness or mushy condition, when mushy or distinctly dry to a depth of more than one-eighth inch in all segments at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount, by volume, of mushy condition or dryness when occurring in any portion of the fruit;

(d) Green spots or oil spots, when the appearance is affected to a greater extent than 10 green spots caused by scale, each of which is equivalent to the area of a circle one-eighth inch in diameter;

(e) Pitting, when materially affecting the appearance or shipping quality of the individual fruit;

(f) Scale, when occurring as a blotch and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle three-eighths inch in diameter, or any scale that detracts from the appearance of the individual fruit to a greater extent than the area permitted for a blotch. "Blotch" refers to actual scale and not the discolored area caused by scale;

(g) Sprayburn, when causing the skin to become hard or when it materially affects the appearance of the fruit;

(h) Sunburn, when causing the skin to become hard or when it materially affects the appearance of the fruit;

(i) Unsightly discoloration, when the color or the pattern, or a combination of color and pattern, causes the fruit to have an unattractive appearance;

(j) Buckskin, when it detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed for the grade;

(k) Melanose, when not small smooth speck-type, or any speck-type that detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed in the grade. Melanose that exceeds the amount allowed in the U. S. No. 1 grade is not permitted in the U. S. No. 1 Bronze grade;

(l) Scars, when not smooth, or when causing any noticeable depression, or when detracting from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed for the grade; and,

(m) Scab, when not smooth, or when it affects shape, or when it detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed for the grade. Scab injury that exceeds the amount allowed in the U. S. No. 1 grade is not permitted in the U. S. No. 1 Bronze grade.

§ 51.1827 Highly colored. "Highly colored" means that the ground color of each fruit is a deep tangerine color with practically no trace of yellow color.

§ 51.1828 Discoloration. "Discoloration" includes discoloration caused by rust mite, melanose, scars, scab, or any other means. Shades of discoloration which blend with the ground color of the fruit may be allowed on a larger area than that specified in the grade for light brown discoloration, and shades of discoloration which are more in contrast with the ground color shall be restricted to a lesser area: Provided, That no discoloration may affect the appearance to a greater extent than the amount of light brown discoloration specified for the grade. Tangerines which show discoloration caused by melanose, scab, or any cause other than by thrip, wind scars, or by rust mite shall not be permitted in the U. S. No. 1 Bronze grade when such discoloration exceeds the amount allowed in the U. S. No. 1 grade. (See § 51.1830.)

§ 51.1829 Fairly well colored. "Fairly well colored" means that the surface of the fruit may have green color which does not exceed the aggregate area of a circle one inch in diameter and that the remainder of the surface, which is not discolored, shows at least a good yellow color: Provided, That some portion of the surface shows a reddish tangerine blush.

§ 51.1830 Bronzed russeting. "Bronzed russeting" means russeting caused by thrip, wind scars, or by rust mite, or similar russeting which is not readily distinguishable from that caused by rust mite. Discoloration caused by melanose, scab, etc., are not considered as "bronzed russeting" within the meaning of these standards but are regarded as defects when they exceed the amounts permitted in the U. S. No. 1 grade and are not permitted in the U. S. No. 1 Bronze grade.

§ 51.1831 Fairly firm. "Fairly firm" means that the flesh may be slightly soft but is not bruised or badly puffy, and that the skin has not become seriously separated from the flesh of the tangerine.

§ 51.1832 Fairly well formed. "Fairly well formed" means that the fruit may not have the shape characteristic of the variety but that it is not badly deformed.

§ 51.1833 Serious damage. "Serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as serious damage:

(a) Ammoniation, when scars are cracked, or when dark and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle one-half inch in diameter, or when light colored and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle 1 inch in diameter;

(b) Creasing, when it causes the skin to be seriously weakened;

(c) Dryness or mushy condition, when mushy or distinctly dry to a depth of more than one-fourth inch in all segments at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount, by volume, of mushy condition or dryness when occurring in any portion of the fruit;

(d) Green spots or oil spots, when the appearance is affected to a greater extent than 25 green spots, caused by scale, each of which is equivalent to the area of a circle one-eighth inch in diameter;

(e) Pitting, when seriously affecting the appearance or shipping quality of the fruit;

(f) Scale, when occurring as a blotch and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle one-half inch in diameter, or any scale that detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the area permitted for a blotch. "Blotch" refers to actual scale and not the discoloration caused by scale;

(g) Sprayburn, when it has caused the skin to become hard, or when it seriously affects the appearance of the fruit;

(h) Sunburn, when it has caused the skin to become hard, or when it seriously affects the appearance of the fruit;

(i) Unsightly discoloration, when the color or the pattern, or a combination of both, causes the fruit to have a distinctly unattractive appearance;

(j) Buckskin, when it detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed for the grade;

(k) Melanose, when badly caked and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle one-half inch in diameter, or when lightly caked and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle 1 inch in diameter, or when unsightly, or when it detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed for the grade;

(l) Scars, when not fairly smooth, or when causing any materially depressed areas, or when detracting from the appearance to a greater extent than the amount of discoloration allowed for the grade. Scars which are not fairly smooth, or which are materially depressed, are not permitted in either U. S. No. 2 or U. S. No. 2 Russet grades; and,

(m) Scab, when not fairly smooth or when it materially affects the shape of the fruit, or when it detracts from the appearance to a greater extent than the maximum amount of discoloration allowed for the grade.

§ 51.1834 Reasonably well colored. "Reasonably well colored" means that a good yellow or reddish tangerine color shall predominate over the green color on at least one-half of the fruit surface in the aggregate, and that each fruit shall show practically no lemon color.

§ 51.1835 Very serious damage. "Very serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as very serious damage:

(a) Ammoniation, when scars are badly cracked, or when dark and the aggregate area exceeds the area of a circle 1 inch in diameter, or when light colored and it detracts from the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent than the area permitted for dark ammoniation;

(b) Creasing, when causing the skin to be seriously weakened;

(c) Dryness or mushy condition, when mushy or distinctly dry to a depth of more than one-fourth inch in all segments at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount, by volume, of mushy condition or dryness when occurring in any portion of the fruit;

(d) Pitting, when it very seriously affects the appearance or the shipping quality of the fruit;

(e) Scale, when it very seriously affects the appearance of the fruit;

(f) Sprayburn, when it very seriously affects the appearance of the fruit;

(g) Sunburn, when it very seriously affects the appearance of the fruit;

(h) Unsightly discoloration, when the fruit has a very objectionable appearance caused by any means. The color or the pattern of the discoloration, or a combination of both, or a combination of defects may cause the fruit to have a very unsightly appearance;

(i) Melanose, when caked to the extent that the appearance of the fruit is very seriously affected;

(j) Scars, when so deep, rough, or unsightly that the appearance of the fruit is very seriously injured; and,

(k) Scab, when it causes the fruit to be very seriously injured.

§ 51.1836 Diameter. "Diameter" means the greatest dimension measured at right angles to a line from stem to blossom end of the fruit.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION, STYLES, AND GRADES

§ 52.1001 Product description. Dates are the properly cured fresh fruit of the date tree (Phoenix dactylifera) which may or may not be softened by hydration. For the purposes of the standards in this subpart, dates, when referred to as "dry dates for processing", means that the dates have not previously been softened by hydration or similar preparation and dates, when referred to as "processed dates", means that the dates have been previously softened by hydration or similar preparation.

§ 52.1002 Styles of dates. (a) "Whole" or "whole dates" means whole unpitted dates from which the pits have not been removed and which may be slit longitudinally.

(b) "Pitted" or "pitted dates" means whole dates from which the pits have been removed.

(c) "Pieces" or "date pieces" means dates that have been ground or chopped or that have been cut or sliced into small pieces and that can be handled as individual units.

(d) "Macerated" or "macerated dates" means dates that have been ground, chopped, mashed, or broken or that have been cut or sliced into small pieces and that cannot be handled as individual units.

§ 52.1003 Grades of dates. (a) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of whole or pitted processed dates that are of one variety, that possess a good color, that are practically uniform in size, that are practically free from defects, that possess a good character, and that score not less than 90 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(b) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Choice" is the quality of whole or pitted processed dates that are of one variety, that possess a reasonably good color, that are reasonably uniform in size, that are reasonably free from defects, that possess a reasonably good character, and that score not less than 80 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(c) "U. S. Grade B (Dry)" or "U. S. Choice (Dry)" is the quality of whole dry dates for processing that are of one variety, that possess a reasonably good color, that are reasonably uniform in size, that are reasonably free from defects, that possess a reasonably good character, and that score not less than 80 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(d) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of whole or pitted processed dates that are of one variety and of date pieces or macerated dates that possess a fairly good color, that are fairly uniform in size except for date pieces or macerated dates, that are fairly free from defects, that possess a fairly good character, and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(e) "U. S. Grade C (Dry)" or "U. S. Standard (Dry)" is the quality of whole dry dates for processing that are of one variety, that possess a fairly good color, that are fairly uniform in size, that are fairly free from defects, that possess a fairly good character, and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart.

(f) "Substandard" is the quality of dates that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C (Dry) or U. S. Standard (Dry), whichever is applicable.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

§ 52.1004 Ascertaining the grade. The grade of dates is ascertained by considering all of the grade requirements of the standards as follows:

(a) Factor not rated by score points. (1) Varietal requirement.

(b) Factors rated by score points. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

	Points
(1) Color	30
(2) Uniformity of size	10
(3) Absence of defects	30
(4) Character	30
Total score	100

§ 52.1005 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "18 to 20 points" means 18, 19, or 20 points).

§ 52.1006 Color—(a) (A) classification. Whole or pitted processed dates that possess a good color may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. "Good color" means that the color of the processed dates is practically uniform; and, with respect to dates that are predominantly light amber in color, there may be not more than 5 percent by count of dates that are dark amber in color; and, with respect to dates that are predominantly dark amber in color, there may be not more than 5 percent by count of dates that are light amber in color.

(b) (B) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing possess a reasonably good color, a score of 24 to 26 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice or U. S. Grade B (Dry) or U. S. Choice (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the color of the processed dates or dry dates for processing is reasonably uniform for the type; and, with respect to dates that are predominantly light amber in color, there may be not more than 10 percent by count of dates that are dark amber in color; and, with respect to dates that are predominantly dark amber in color, there may be not more than 10 percent by count of dates that are light amber in color.

(c) (C) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates, whole dry dates for processing, date pieces, or macerated dates possess a fairly good color, a score of 21 to 23 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C (Dry) or U. S. Standard (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles:

(1) Whole; pitted. The color of the processed dates or dry dates for processing is fairly uniform for the type; and, with respect to dates that are predominantly light amber in color, there may be not more than 20 percent by count of dates that are dark amber in color; and, with respect to dates that are predominantly dark amber in color, there may be not more than 20 percent by count of dates that are light amber in color.

(2) Pieces; macerated. The color may be variable throughout the units or mass, may be slightly dull but not off-color, and is typical of properly prepared dates of these styles.

(d) (SStd) classification. Dates that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.1007 Uniformity of size—(a) General. The factor of uniformity of size applies only to whole and pitted styles. The factor of uniformity of size in the styles of date pieces and macerated dates is not based on any detailed requirements and is not scored; the other three factors (color, absence of defects, and character as applicable) are scored and the total is multiplied by 100 and divided by 90, dropping any fractions to determine the total score.

(b) (A) classification. Whole or pitted processed dates that are practically uniform in size may be given a score of 9 or 10 points. "Practically uniform in size" means that not more than a total of 10 percent, by weight, of the whole or pitted dates may be conspicuously larger or smaller than the approximate average size of the dates in the container.

(c) (B) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing are reasonably uniform in size, a score of 8 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice or U. S. Grade B (Dry) or U. S. Choice (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably uniform in size" means that not more than a total of 15 percent, by weight, of the whole or pitted dates may be conspicuously larger or smaller than the approximate average size of the dates in the container.

(d) (C) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing are fairly uniform in size, a score of 7 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C (Dry) or U. S. Standard (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly uniform in size" means that not more than a total of 20 percent, by weight, of the whole or pitted dates may be conspicuously larger or smaller than the approximate average size of the dates in the container.

(e) (SStd) classification. Whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 6 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.1008 Absence of defects—(a) Definitions of defects. Unless otherwise stated specifically, the following definitions of defects or defective units apply only to whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing, as applicable for the type.

(1) "Damaged by discoloration" is the presence of a dark area in the flesh of the date, which dark area is visible through the skin and is more than one-fourth (¼) inch in width and extends more than the equivalent of half the length of the date, such darkening being of natural origin and not caused by mold or other organism.

(2) "Damaged by broken skin" is any rupture of the skin in a manner to expose the flesh of the date, the shortest dimension of such exposed area being not less than three-sixteenths (3/16) inch.

(3) "Damaged by checking" is the presence of fine lines, resulting from water injury, affecting the surface of the skin over an area not less than one-fourth of the total surface of the date.

(4) "Seriously damaged by checking" is the presence of heavy lines, resulting from water injury, seriously affecting the surface of the skin over an area not less than one-fourth of the total surface of the date.

(5) "Damaged by deformity" is any abnormal shape sufficient to produce an appearance discernibly at variance with the normal shape that is typical of the variety.

(6) "Damaged by puffiness" is the condition of a date of which the skin is soft and pliable and from which the skin is separated from the flesh in a balloon-like fashion, over an area not less than one-half of the total surface of the date. Soft skins which have returned and adhere to the flesh of the date are not considered "damaged by puffiness."

(7) "Seriously damaged by puffiness" is the condition of a date of which the skin is dry, hard, and brittle and from which the skin is separated from the flesh over an area not less than one-half of the total surface of the date.

(8) "Damaged by scars" are any blemishes that affect the exterior of the date and which are not less than three-sixteenths (3/16) inch in the shortest dimension.

(9) "Damaged by sunburn" is an area, usually light in color, scarred by the heat of the sun, such area being not less than three-sixteenths (3/16) inch in the shortest dimension.

(10) "Damaged by insect injury" is any blemish, resulting from the activity of insects or mites, distributed over an area of not less than one-fourth of the total surface of the date or any similar blemish that materially affects the appearance or edibility of the unit, regardless of the area affected.

(11) "Damaged by improper hydrating" means that the date has been injured by excessive heat or that the hydrating process is incomplete.

(12) "Damaged by mashing" means any physical injury to the flesh and skin of the date leaving the date partially mangled but otherwise whole.

(13) "Damaged by mechanical injury" means excessive trimming or similar injury that damages the appearance or that damages or affects the eating quality of the whole date or the whole unpitted date.

(14) "Damaged by lack of pollination" means, with respect to whole unpitted dates, that pollination of the date was not accomplished, such condition being manifested by the absence of a pit in the whole unpitted dates or by thin, immature appearance of the date.

(15) "Damaged by blacknose" is severe checking in which the flesh becomes dark, crusty, and dry and which severe checking affects an area greater than one-eighth of the total surface of the date.

(16) "Damaged by side spot" means a very dark area, which generally is circular in appearance, extending into the flesh of the date, and, when decayed tissue or mold is not present, affecting in the aggregate an area not less than the area of a circle three-sixteenths (3/16) inch in diameter.

(17) "Damaged by black scald" means the collapse, death, and blackening of the flesh along the side of the date, usually accompanied by a bitter taste in the affected area.

(18) "Damage by improper ripening" means pronounced evidence of "green shrivel" of the date or that the date possesses a puffy flesh or a decidedly rubbery texture resulting from failure of the tissue of the date to reach a desirable state of maturity due to climatic or cultural injury, or both.

(19) "Damaged by other defects" means any injury or defect or group of defects not defined in this section (such as, but not limited to, heavy sugaring, and excessive scars not described in the definition "damaged by scars,") which materially affect the appearance, edibility, or keeping quality of the dates.

(20) "Affected by souring" is evidenced by the breakdown of the sugars into alcohol and acetic acid by yeasts and bacteria.

(21) "Affected by mold" is the presence of visible mold.

(22) "Affected by dirt" is the presence of any quantity of such substance.

(23) "Affected by insect infestation" is the presence of dead insects, insect parts, or excreta. (No live insects are permitted).

(24) "Affected by foreign material" is the presence of any quantity of such substances.

(25) "Affected by decay" is a state of decomposition.

(b) (A) classification. Whole or pitted processed dates that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" means that in pitted dates there may be present not more than one whole pit or 2 pit fragments for each 25 ounces of pitted dates; and that the processed dates do not exceed the total allowances and limitations shown in Chart I of this subpart.

(c) (B) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing are reasonably free from defects, a score of 24 to 26 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice or U. S. Grade B (Dry) or U. S. Choice (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that in pitted dates there may be present not more than one whole pit or 2 pit fragments for each 25 ounces of pitted dates; and that the processed dates or dry dates for processing do not exceed the total allowances and limitations shown in Chart II of this subpart.

(d) (C) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates, whole dry dates for processing, date pieces, or macerated dates are fairly free from defects, a score of 21 to 23 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C (Dry) or U. S. Standard (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles:

(1) Whole. The defects or defective units in whole processed dates or whole dry dates for processing do not exceed the total allowances and limitations shown in Chart III of this subpart.

(2) Pitted. Not more than one whole pit or 2 pit fragments for each 25 ounces of pitted dates may be present; and the defects or defective units in pitted dates do not exceed the total allowances and limitations shown in Chart III of this subpart.

(3) Pieces; macerated. Not more than one whole pit or 2 pit fragments for each 25 ounces of pitted dates may be present; and the units or mass consists of clean and sound date material, fairly free from defects that seriously affect the appearance, edibility, or keeping quality of the product.

(e) (SStd) classification. Dates that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.1009 Character—(a) (A) classification. Whole or pitted processed dates that possess a good character may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. "Good character" means that not less than 75 percent, by weight, of the dates are well developed, well fleshed, soft, or are in a state of ripeness that will develop into such character; and the remainder may possess a reasonably good character including not more than a total of 2 percent, by weight, of the dates that may possess semi-dry calyx ends and none may possess dry calyx ends.

(b) (B) classification. If the whole or pitted processed dates or whole dry dates for processing possess a reasonably good character, a score of 24 to 26 points may be given. Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice or U. S. Grade B (Dry) or U. S. Choice (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good character" means that not less than 75 percent, by weight, of the dates are reasonably well developed, reasonably well fleshed, or are in a state of ripeness that will develop into such character; that whole and pitted processed dates are pliable; and the remainder may possess a fairly good character including not more than 10 percent, by weight, of the dates that may possess semi-dry calyx ends and dry calyx ends: Provided, That not more than 2 percent, by weight, of the dates may possess dry calyx ends.

Dates that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard or U. S. Grade C (Dry) or U. S. Standard (Dry), whichever is applicable, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character" has the following meanings with respect to the following styles:

(1) Whole; pitted. Not less than 80 percent, by weight, of the dates are fairly well developed, fairly well fleshed, and may possess semi-dry calyx ends, or are in a state of ripeness that will develop into such character; that whole and pitted processed dates may be firm but are pliable; and the remainder may fail to possess such fairly good character or may possess dry calyx ends.

(2) Pieces; macerated. The character may be variable throughout the units or mass but not seriously affected by dry calyx end material or inedible portions of dates.

(d) (SStd) classification. Dates that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

LOT CERTIFICATION TOLERANCES

§ 52.1010 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (a) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of dates the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if with respect to those factors which are scored:

(1) Not more than one-sixth of the containers fails to meet the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(2) None of the containers falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(3) None of the containers falls more than one grade below the grade indicated by the average of such total scores; and

(4) The average score of all containers for any factor subject to a limiting rule is within the score range of that factor for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores of the containers comprising the sample.

NAVEL ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

ORDER DIRECTING THAT A REFERENDUM BE CONDUCTED; DESIGNATION OF REFERENDUM AGENTS TO CONDUCT SUCH REFERENDUM; AND DETERMINATION OF REPRESENTATIVE PERIOD

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 117, as amended, and Order No. 14, as amended (7 CFR Part 914), and the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat., as amended, 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), it is hereby directed that a referendum be conducted among the growers who, during the period November 1, 1954, through June 30, 1955 (which period is hereby determined to be a representative period for the purposes of such referendum), were engaged, in the State of Arizona and that part of the State of California, south of the 37th Parallel, in the production of navel oranges for market to determine whether such growers favor continuation of the said marketing agreement and order. Warren C. Noland and Edward H. Bixby of the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, are hereby designated as agents of the Secretary of Agriculture to perform, jointly, or severally, the following functions in connection with the referendum:

(a) Conduct said referendum in the manner herein prescribed:

(1) By giving opportunity for each of the aforesaid growers to cast his ballot, in the manner herein authorized, relative to the aforesaid continuance of the amended marketing agreement and order, on a copy of the appropriate ballot form. A cooperative association of such growers, bona fide engaged in marketing navel oranges grown in the aforesaid production area or in rendering services for or advancing the interests of the growers of such navel oranges, may vote for the growers who are members of, stockholders in, or under contract with, such cooperative association (such vote to be cast on a copy of the appropriate ballot form), and the vote of such cooperative association shall be considered as the vote of such growers.

(2) By determining the time of commencement and termination of the period of the referendum and by giving public notice, as prescribed in (a) (3) hereof, (i) of the time during which the referendum will be conducted, (ii) that any ballot may be cast by mail, and (iii) that all ballots so cast must be addressed to Warren C. Noland, Field Representative, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, 1031 South Broadway, Room 1005, Los Angeles 15, California, and the time prior to which such ballots must be postmarked.

(3) By giving public notice (i) by utilizing available agencies of public information (without advertising expense), including both press and radio facilities in the State of Arizona and designated part of California; (ii) by mailing a notice thereof (including a copy of the appropriate ballot form) to each such cooperative association and to each grower whose name and address are known; and (iii) by such other means as said referendum agents or any of them may deem advisable.

(4) By conducting meetings of growers and arranging for balloting at the meeting places, if said referendum agents or any of them determine that voting shall be at meetings. At each such meeting balloting shall continue until all of the growers who are present, and who desire to do so, have had an opportunity to vote. Any grower may cast his ballot at any such meeting in lieu of voting by mail.

(5) By giving ballots to growers at the meetings, and receiving any ballots when they are cast.

(6) By securing the name and address of each person casting a ballot, and inquiring into the eligibility of such person to vote in the referendum.

(7) By giving public notice of the time and place of each meeting authorized hereunder by posting a notice thereof, at least two days in advance of each such meeting, at each such meeting place, and in two or more public places within the applicable area; and, so far as may be practicable, by giving additional notice in the manner prescribed in paragraph (a) (3) hereof.

(8) By appointing such person or persons as are deemed necessary or desirable to assist said agents in performing their functions hereunder. Each person so appointed shall serve without compensation and may be authorized, by said referendum agents or any of them, to perform any or all of the functions set forth in paragraphs (a) (5), (6), (7), and (8) hereof (which, in the absence of such appointment of sub-agents, shall be performed by said referendum agents) in accordance with the requirements set forth; and shall forward to Warren C. Noland, Field Representative, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, 1031 South Broadway, Room 1005, Los Angeles 15, California, immediately after the close of the referendum, the following:

(i) A register containing the name and address of each grower to whom a ballot form was given;

(ii) A register containing the name and address of each grower from whom an executed ballot was received;

(iii) All of the ballots received by the respective referendum agent in connection with the referendum, together with a certificate to the effect that the ballots forwarded are all of the ballots cast and which were received by the respective agent during the referendum period;

(iv) A statement showing when and where each notice of the referendum posted by said agent was posted and, if the notice was mailed to growers, the mailing list showing the names and addresses to which the notice was mailed and the time of such mailing, and

(v) A detailed statement reciting the method used in giving publicity to such referendum.

(b) Upon receipt by Waren C. Noland of all ballots cast in accordance with the provisions hereof, he shall canvass the ballots and prepare and submit to the Secretary a detailed report covering the results of the referendum, the manner in which the referendum was conducted, the extent and kind of public notice given, and all other information pertinent to the full analysis of the referendum and its results; and shall forward such report, together with the ballots and other information and data, to the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Each referendum agent and appointee pursuant hereto shall not refuse to accept a ballot submitted or cast; but should they, or any of them, deem that a ballot should be challenged for any reason, or if such ballot is challenged by any other person, said agent or appointee shall endorse above his signature, on the back of said ballot, a statement that such ballot was challenged, by whom challenged, and the reasons therefor; and the number of such challenged ballots shall be stated when they are forwarded as provided herein.

(d) All ballots shall be treated as confidential.

The Director of the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, is hereby authorized to prescribe additional instructions, not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, to govern the procedure to be followed by the said referendum agents and appointees in conducting said referendum.

Copies of the text of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order may be examined in the Office of the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and at the Western Marketing Field Office, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, 1031 South Broadway, Room 1005, Los Angeles 15, California.

Ballots to be cast in the referendum may be obtained from any referendum agent, and any appointee hereunder.

[SEAL] EARL L. BUTZ,
Assistant Secretary.

APPRENTICES

ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES; RECONSIDERATION AND REVIEW

Pursuant to sections 11 and 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1066, 1068, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 211, 214), the Administrator has heretofore issued regulations governing the Employment of Apprentices, contained in 29 CFR Part 521, §§ 521.1 to 521.12.

It is now considered necessary to amend these regulations to make them consistent with other regulations issued pursuant to section 14 of the act by adding a new paragraph (c) to § 521.6, and by making certain editorial changes in § 521.11.

Accordingly, pursuant to authority under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended (52 Stat. 1068, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 214) (NOTE: § 521.12 of the regulations (29 CFR Part 521)), Reorganization Plan No. 6 of 1950 (5 U. S. C. 611), General Order No. 45–A (15 F. R. 3290), and, the position of the Administrator being presently vacant, General Order No. 85 (20 F. R. 2066), notice is hereby given that I propose to amend §§ 521.6 and 521.11 of Part 521 to read as follows:

§ 521.6 Issuance of special certificates. (a) If the apprenticeship agreement and other available information indicate that the requirements of § 521.3 and the other requirements of this part are satisfied, the Administrator or his authorized representative shall issue a special certificate in accordance with § 521.1. Otherwise, he shall deny the special certificates.

(b) The special certificate, if issued, shall be mailed to the employer or the joint apprenticeship committee and a copy shall be mailed to the apprentice. If a special certificate is denied, the employer or the joint apprenticeship committee, the apprentice and the recognized apprenticeship agency shall be given written notice of the denial. The employer shall pay the apprentice the minimum wage applicable under section 6 of the act from the date of receipt of notice of such denial.

(c) A special certificate will not be issued where there are serious outstanding violations involving the employee for whom an apprentice certificate is being requested, or where there are any serious outstanding violations of a certificate previously issued, or where there have been any serious violations of the act which provide reasonable grounds to conclude that the terms of a certificate may not be complied with, if issued.

§ 521.11 Reconsideration and review. (a) Any person aggrieved by the action of an authorized representative of the Administrator in denying, granting, or cancelling a special certificate may, within 15 days after such action, (1) file a written request for reconsideration thereof by the authorized representative of the Administrator who made the decision in the first instance, or (2) file a written request for review of the decision by the Administrator or an authorized representative who has taken no part in the action which is the subject of review.

(b) A request for reconsideration shall be accompanied by a statement of the additional evidence which the applicant believes may materially affect the decision together with a showing that there were reasonable grounds for failure to present such evidence in the original proceedings.

(c) Any person aggrieved by the reconsidered determination of an authorized representative of the Administrator may within 15 days after such determination, file with the Administrator a written request for review.

(d) A request for review shall be granted where reasonable grounds for the review are set forth in the request.

(e) If a request for reconsideration or review is granted, all interested persons shall be afforded an opportunity to present their views.

Within twenty days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER interested persons may submit written data, views or arguments to the proposed actions herein described. All data, views or arguments should be submitted in quadruplicate to the Office of the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., and should include supporting reasons therefor.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of June 1955.

Solicitor of Labor.

MINIMUM WAGE RATES; HEARING

In conformity with sections 5 and 8 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C., and Supp. 201 et seq.), and in accordance with § 511.11 of the regulations issued pursuant thereto (Title 29, Chapter V, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 511), notice is hereby given to all interested persons that a public hearing will be held beginning on July 11, 1955, at 10:00 a. m., or as soon thereafter as feasible, in Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, Puerto Rico, for the purpose of receiving evidence to be considered by Special Industry Committees Nos. 17–A, 17–B, 17–C, 17–D, and 17–E for Puerto Rico in recommending minimum wage rates for employees in the industries in Puerto Rico hereinafter enumerated.

Special Industry Committees Nos. 17–A, 17–B, 17–C, 17–D and 17–E for Puerto Rico were created by Administrative Order No. 443, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 10, 1955. The committees are charged, in accordance with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder, with the duty of investigating conditions in the following industries in Puerto Rico, as defined in said Administrative Order: The silk, rayon and nylon underwear division, and the miscellaneous division, of the needlework and fabricated textile products industry; alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry; food and related products industries; Tobacco industry; and the telephone division, the radio and television broadcasting division and the gas utility division of the communications, utilities, and miscellaneous transportation industries.

The Committee is further charged with the duty of recommending to the Office of the Administrator the highest minimum wage rates (not in excess of 75 cents per hour), for all employees in Puerto Rico in the industries mentioned above who within the meaning of said act are "engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce," excepting employees exempted by the provisions of section 13 (a) and employees coming under the provisions of section 14, which, having due regard to the economic and competitive conditions, will not substantially curtail employment in such industries and will not give any industry in Puerto Rico a competitive advantage over any industry in the United States outside of Puerto Rico. Before any minimum wage rates recommended by the Committee are made effective, a public hearing will be held pursuant to section 8 of the act, at a time and place to be announced by the Office of the Administrator and at which all interested persons will have an opportunity to be heard.

At the discretion of the committee any person who, in the opinion of the committee or its duly authorized subcommittee, has a substantial interest in the proceeding and is prepared to present material pertinent to the question under consideration either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person, may be afforded an opportunity to be heard orally. In this connection, attention is invited to the notice of investigation published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 4, 1955. The notice requests all persons who desire to participate in these proceedings to file not later than July 1, 1955, notices of appearance together with written statements or briefs for the consideration of the committees. In addition, the notice contains illustrations of the types of information which the committees are interested in receiving. Eight copies of such statement or briefs should be filed with Dr. James G. Johnson, Territorial Director of Wage and Hour Division, Post Office Box 9061, Santurce 29, Puerto Rico. Supplemental written statements and briefs may be filed with Dr. Johnson at any time prior to the date that the committee for the particular industry convenes. Written statements or briefs containing factual data submitted by persons who cannot appear personally will be considered by the committees provided that such statements or briefs are sworn.

All testimony will be taken under oath and subject to reasonable cross examination by any interested person present. The testimony adduced at the hearing, including the written statements and briefs referred to above, will be offered as evidence at the public hearing to be held on such minimum wage recommendations as the above-mentioned committees for Puerto Rico may make.

Signed at Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, this 24th day of June 1955.

JAIME BENITEZ,
Chairman, Special Industry Committees Nos. 17–A, 17–B, 17–C, 17–D, and 17–E for Puerto Rico.

(1) The applicant has operated similar controls of a substantially similar facility, and

(2) Has discharged his responsibilities in a competent and safe manner and is capable of continuing in this manner. Ordinarily the Commission will accept as proof of this a certification of a supervisor responsible for the safe operation of the facility where the individual was previously employed.

(b) Where a waiver of the examination is requested by an applicant, the information to support such request should accompany the application for an operator license.

(a) The background and experience of each of the above-named applicants to own and operate the proposed stations.

(b) The proposals of each of the above-named applicants with respect to the management and operation of the proposed stations.
